TRUST SECRETS TO US—SENATE

HUSTON TO QUIT AFTER SESSION, HE INTIMATES

Broaches Subject at Capital Meeting.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Claudius H. Huston will resign as chairman of the Republican national committee after adjournment of the present special session of the senate.

Strong intimation to this effect was contained in a statement issued by Mr. Huston after an all day conference of officers of the national, senatorial, and congressional committees of the party.

"'Was the chairmanship matter discussed?'" said Mr. Huston in the statement.

"Certainly the matter of the chairmanship was discussed, but what I have to say on that subject will be withheld until after the adjournment of the senate."

Situation Is Discussed.

Mr. Huston amplified his formal statement by saying that he broached the subject of the chairmanship himself, referring to various "incorrect and contradictory" reports appearing in the press. He said that there was a general discussion of the situation. In response to questions he denied that he was formally requested to resign. He also asserted that he had not announced definitely to the meeting just what he proposed to do.

Whether he told the conference just what his plan is, those present obtained a very definite idea that he accepts the judgment of the party leaders who believe that his usefulness as national chairman has been destroyed by attacks upon his activities in connection with the Muscle Shoals lobby. It is understood that Representative Will R. Wood [Rep., Ind.], chairman of the Republican congressional committee, and others in attendance told him quite frankly that they believed he should retire for the good of the party, although they personally expressed entire confidence in him.

Hoover Keeps in Touch.

President Hoover was in touch with the proceedings, a group composed of Daniel E. Pomeroy of New Jersey, vice chairman; J. R. Nutt of Ohio, treasurer, and James Francis Burke of Pennsylvania, general counsel of the national committee, calling upon him between the morning and afternoon sessions. They departed by the basement exit of the executive offices in order to elude questioners.

Confirmation of the theory that Mr. Huston has agreed to resign was apparently given in a comment by Mr. Burke, who is known to have sought his retirement, that the outcome of the meeting was "entirely satisfactory."

The reason for postponement of the resignation until the senate adjourns ten days or two weeks hence is supposed to be that Mr. Huston figures that less political capital will be made by the Democrats if his announcement comes when congress is in recess.

Plan to Name Successor.

The expectation is that a meeting of the executive committee of the national committee will be called to accept Mr. Huston's resignation and to designate a successor.

It is the understanding that Senator Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.] will be named as chairman of the national committee, to serve at least through the coming senatorial and congressional campaigns, and that Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky, commissioner of internal revenue, will be named as chairman of the executive committee, to take active charge.

Mr. Lucas apparently would perform a function comparable to that of Jouett Shouse, chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, who has been directing the bombardment of the administration on behalf of the minority party.

Ten Are in Attendance.

Those in attendance at the meeting besides Chairman Huston, Vice Chairman Pomeroy, Treasurer Nutt, General Counsel Burke, and Representative Wood included J. Matt Chillton of Kentucky, proxy for Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, vice chairman; Earle S. Kinsley of Vermont and William G. Skelly of Oklahoma, members of the executive committee; Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], chairman of the senatorial campaign committee, and Earl Venable, executive secretary of the congressional campaign committee.

Mr. Huston in his statement said that there was a general discussion of plans for the fall campaign.

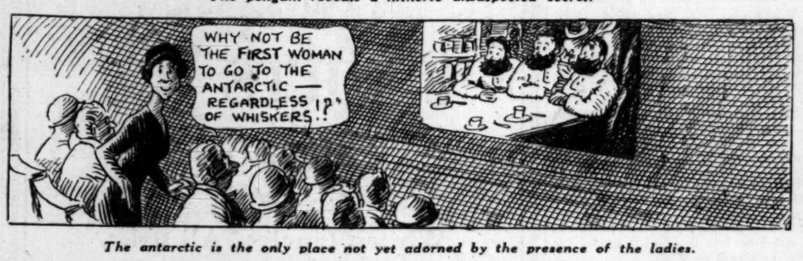
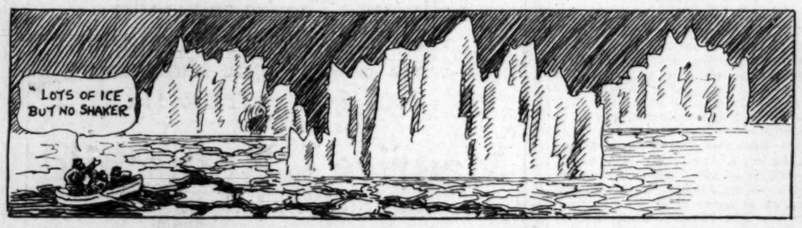
BY-PRODUCTS OF ANTARCTIC EXPLORATION

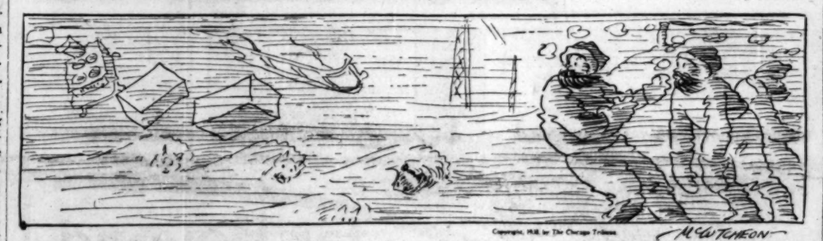
The penguin reveals a hitherto unsuspected secret.



The antarctic is the only place not yet adorned by the presence of the ladies.



If they could tow some of those icebergs to a central distributing point there would be a ready market.



If they could store up some of the wind supply much power that is now going to waste would be conserved.

BABY GIRL BORN TO MOTHER OF KIDNAPED CHILD

Mrs. Kathryn Moroney, 5200 Wentworth avenue, whose two year old daughter, Mary Agnes, was kidnaped two months ago and never returned, became the mother of a 9½ pound baby girl yesterday morning in the Misericordia Hospital and Infants' home, 2916 West 47th street. Both baby and mother were reported doing well.

Two months ago the husband, Michael Moroney, gave up his fruitless effort to find employment and inserted an advertisement in a newspaper asking for financial aid. A young woman, giving her name as "Julia Otis," responded and promised the Moroneys assistance. With the permission of the parents, "Julia Otis" took Mary Agnes ostensibly to a store to buy her some clothes, but neither the child nor woman returned.

Two letters, sent a few days apart, were received by the Moroneys, stating that the child was safe. Police and investigators have so far been unable to find a clew to the child's whereabouts.

PAGEANT BOAT AT GARY SINKS; SCORE RESCUED

Twenty men, women and children interpreting the "Spirit of Greece," in a water pageant last night at Gary were suddenly immersed in the chill waters of a park lagoon when the barge they were riding sank without warning. All were rescued.

The pageant, participated in by 17 nationalities and depicting various countries, was a feature of the evening program of the annual convention of the National Business and Professional Women's clubs, now in session at Gary.

All the other barges had crossed the mile length of the lagoon and docked. The "Spirit of Greece" was last. It was elaborately decorated and strung with electric lights. The men, women and children were posed in symbolic attitudes. It was within 100 feet of the wharf when it went down like a plummet before the astonished eyes of 15,000 spectators. The water is 12 feet deep.

Graf Zeppelin Reaches Spitzbergen; Heads Back

OSLO, Norway, July 10.—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin, cruising from Friedrichshafen to the land of the midnight sun, was reported by wireless tonight to have reached the island of Spitzbergen early in the evening. She turned about and steered back toward northern Norway.

Woman Short $400,000, Her Clients Charge

Mrs. Hilda Schroeder, who for twenty years has been a second mortgage broker in the loop, is in a sanitarium suffering from a nervous breakdown as a result of charges made against her by her clients. The clients charge that she is some $400,000 short in her accounts.

Attorneys Charles S. Dougherty and Samuel Hoffman, who represent Mrs. Schroeder, said they expect her to be able to be in court within the next two weeks to answer the charges, which are contained in six warrants issued yesterday by Judge John Sbarbaro in the Felony court.

Co-defendant Is Named.

John M. Naghten, who rents Mrs. Schroeder desk room in his office at 10 North Clark street, is named as a co-defendant in one of the warrants charging conspiracy. He is charged with acting as trustee in some of her mortgage transactions. Naghten, like Mrs. Schroeder is absent from the city.

Mrs. Schroeder's home in Wilmette has been vacant for the last three weeks. Her neighbors say they have heard that she is in a sanitarium.

Assistant State's Attorney Theodore W. Miller, who is in charge of the investigation, says that complaints made to him show that Mrs. Schroeder has embezzled approximately $100,000 from her clients, while other claims—not of a criminal nature—will amount to another $300,000. On the embezzlement, larceny, and conspiracy warrants issued a bond of $35,000 was fixed by Judge Sbarbaro.

One Invests $312,000.

Mrs. Rose K. Rotsted, 839 Ainslie street, is said to be the heaviest investor with Mrs. Schroeder. She has $312,000 invested, it is reported. If this report reaching the prosecutor is correct, the sum involved will be considerably more than $400,000. George Strude, 1939 Wolfram street, invested $22,000; Henry Schuttner, 1253 Eddy street, $10,000; William A. Pilinger, 324 Humphrey avenue, Oak Park, $18,000; Rose C. Lober, 3341 Warren avenue, $20,000, and Dr. A. T. Bertling, 315 West Washington street, an undisclosed sum. In all 250 persons have invested.

Attorneys Dougherty and Hoffman say that Mrs. Schroeder's troubles are not of a criminal nature. They say the difficulty is due to the natural deflation in real estate values.

LETTER, 6 MONTHS DELAYED, RECALLS AIR MAIL TRAGEDY

A tragedy in the air mail service was recalled by a letter, six months delayed, which was received yesterday by Mrs. Verena Ray, 234 Greenleaf street, Wilmette.

The letter was mailed in San Diego, Cal., on Jan. 9 by Mrs. Dorothy Kemp to thank Mrs. Ray for a Christmas package. It was deposited in the air mail plane of Maurice Graham, which left Los Angeles for Salt Lake City on Jan. 10.

Graham's plane was forced down in a snowstorm and he was killed. The wreckage and the pilot's body were found by campers on a mountain side in Utah on June 25. The mail was sent back to Los Angeles for remailing on July 8. On each letter and package postal authorities stamped this explanation: "Delay due to wrecked mail plane."

FRANCE HALTS PLANS TO BUILD NEW WARSHIPS

Smooths Way for Parley with Italy.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 10.—Negotiations between France and Italy, interrupted by the popular resentment in France over the "warlike" speeches of Premier B. Mussolini, have been resumed. Count Gaetano Manzoni, Italian ambassador to Paris, on his return from Rome a few days ago, had several conversations with Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, the results of which were kept secret. It is reported that considerable progress was made over the point of difference between the two countries.

Inspired by the resumption of negotiations, M. Briand appeared before the foreign affairs committee of the chamber of deputies today and declared a war in Europe was "neither possible nor admissible" at the present moment.

Pledges No New Warships.

He also revealed the text of a note communicated to Italy a few weeks ago in reply to Premier Mussolini's suggestion that Italy and France declare a naval building holiday until December in order to facilitate negotiations.

In the message M. Briand said France assured Italy that during the next six months the French government will lay down no new warships. Paris observers declare the French shipbuilding program remains unchanged in any degree and that as a matter of fact naval plans do not call for any particular activity in the next few months.

It is pointed out that the realization of a real naval holiday is extremely difficult, because Italy and France have different fiscal years, Italy's beginning in June and France's in April. Thus, it is declared, a mutual delay in building program would not have the same meaning to both countries.

Sees Row Nearing End.

The atmosphere for the resumption of conversations between the two nations, M. Briand told the committee, had recently improved, and he intended to profit by that. Before the end of the year, he added, he believed all misunderstanding would be dissipated and the ground for an understanding found not only on the naval issue, but also on the questions of Tripoli and Tunisia.

"I am anxious to show by the attitude of France," M. Briand said, "that the atmosphere cannot be disturbed. By keeping calm and serene, our country does not lessen its reputation. On the contrary, it proves both its strength and its desire for peace. What is essential is to link our foreign policy with our security, and, above all, to count on ourselves for our defense.

Says France Seeks Peace.

"I have never neglected in my career my attention to the necessities for national defense, but I have also sought to prove to the world the good will of France and I believe that today we can claim that our desire for peace is recognized throughout the world."

M. Briand also said that France had ceded to Italy 120,000 square miles of former French territory on the Tripolitan frontier, thereby removing any possible cause for ill feeling in that direction.

"Though France has striven for a triparty entente of France, Italy and Jugo-Slavia," he added, "Italy has preferred to negotiate with Jugo-Slavia separately."

Not Enough, Says Rome.

ROME, July 10.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Briand's statement that France is postponing her 1930 naval building program until December in order to clear the way for negotiations with Italy was received in Rome as a gesture of good will, but with doubt whether France had gone far enough.

M. Briand's announcement is considered to have smoothed the ground for Italo-French conversations that may ultimately lead to complete solution of the difficulties between the two countries. But it is believed to be an insufficient answer to Foreign Minister Grandi's proposal that Italy is willing to suspend indefinitely her 1930 building program if France will do the same.

A suspension of six months will improve Franco-Italian relations, but is held to leave unsolved their naval difficulties, particularly the race for parity.

Spirit Hookup with Sir Arthur Is "Gratifying"

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—In a darkened second floor apartment deep in the populous fastnesses of the Bronx late tonight a group of fifteen persons assembled to watch an Italian medium attempt to make a contact with the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle.

Although what was said to be the spirit of Doyle was thought by some who were present to have entered the room, to have posed for his picture, and to have taken a pencil and sheet of notebook paper "to write a book," others, including Joseph Dunninger, head of the science investigating committee of psychic phenomena, remained skeptical.

When the séance, twice interrupted by telephone calls, which caused considerable delay, finally broke up after a two hour period marked by brief contacts and long waits, Mr. Dunninger admitted that, while the accomplishments of the medium had been "rather remarkable," nothing warranting the award of $21,000 offered by his committee for the display of an unexplainable psychic phenomenon had been shown.

Medium Served Sir Arthur.

Those who attended climbed to the second floor of a small apartment house at 342 East 167th street at 11 p. m. and entered the apartment of Dr. Salvatore Ajello. They found there Nino Pecoraro, a medium who served Sir Arthur in many of his own attempts to get in touch with the spirit world.

Shortly after 11 Nino permitted himself to be wrapped in bags and blankets, his hands gloved and tied to his sides. These bonds were sealed with wax. Nino was picked up and carried into a small room. The medium was placed inside the cage, the door closed and sealed, and the seance started.

Ten minutes later his voice broke the quiet of the room.

"How do you do, every one," it said. "I am Conan Doyle and I am glad to be here."

"Doyle" Speaks Out.

Mr. Dunninger remarked that that was very amazing.

"You don't know nothing yet," the voice that was supposed to be Doyle's remarked.

He then asked for paper and a pencil.

"I want to write a book while I'm here," he explained.

Mr. Dunninger walked near the cage holding a pencil and paper. As he stood there the pencil and then the paper were taken from his hand.

Then a patient called for Dr. Ajello and the contact was temporarily broken.

A Courtesy Appearance.

When it was again re-formed the voice of Sir Arthur explained that he was making this appearance through the courtesy of Harry Houdini and Mme. Eusatio Palladino, an Italian medium who died nine years ago.

Afterward he attempted to put through a message to Mrs. Doyle, but it was very incomplete, the main bit gathered being "four years I live in castle. Remember, our light never dies."

A second telephone call broke off the seance. An appointment had been made for next Tuesday night, when, the spirit promised, it would send Mrs. Doyle copies of its fingerprints.

REPORTS DOYLE MESSAGE.

VANCOUVER, B. C., July 10.—[Canadian Press.]—A Vancouver clairvoyant, Mrs. Cottrell, claims to have received a message from the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle saying, "Already I have received an astonishingly warm welcome here from immense numbers of spirit folk."

The communication comprises more than 700 words.

"I am grateful to you," runs the message, as transcribed, "for affording me the opportunity of getting some of my thoughts through to my friends. I am most happy to meet my beloved son face to face again, among many other relatives and friends."

It further said: "My own people (Lady Conan Doyle, son, and daughters) will be able to get into touch with me shortly."

WOMAN, 75, BURNS TO DEATH IN HER PARK RIDGE HOME

Mrs. Carolyn Connell, 75 years old, an aunt of E. Leslie Cole, Chicago attorney, was burned to death yesterday in her home at 430 South Chester avenue, Park Ridge. She is believed to have been lighting a burner of the gas stove in the kitchen when a spurt of flame set her clothing afire. Because of her age she was quickly overcome and unable to summon help. She lived alone. The body, lying on the kitchen floor, was discovered when callers entered the house because she did not answer the doorbell.

VOTES TO SEEK DATA OF HOOVER IF NOT HARMFUL

Executive May Give It in Confidence.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—The senate by a vote of 53 to 4 adopted a resolution this afternoon requesting the President to submit to it all correspondence and other documents bearing upon the negotiation of the London navy limitation treaty, "if not incompatible with the public interest" to do so.

The resolution also asks that the documents be furnished with such recommendations as the President may see to fit to make as to their use.

Thus qualified, the resolution received the votes of the administration senators, for under its terms the President may deny the senate the documents as he did the foreign relations committee on the ground that it would be "incompatible" with the public interest to submit them, or he may furnish them with the recommendation that they be received in confidence.

Expect Secret Submission.

Senators who have discussed the matter with the President in the last 24 hours are predicting that he will transmit the documents under the seal of secrecy to be considered by the senate behind closed doors. If he should refuse the secret papers, he will run the risk of losing a number of votes for the treaty and of postponement of action on the measure until November or December. Senator Elmer Thomas [Dem., Okla.], and Senator Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.] said today they would not vote for the treaty if the executive should refuse the information requested.

The administration forces brought about the qualification of the original resolution, which as offered by Senator Kenneth McKellar [Dem., Tenn.] was an unconditional demand of right by the senate in its treaty making capacity for all the information at the disposal of the executive. The qualifying phrase, "if not incompatible with the public interest," proposed by Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], one of the negotiators of the treaty, was approved by a vote of 38 to 17.

Argue over Robinson Amendment.

The opposition to the Robinson amendment contended that it constituted an admission by the senate that the President has a right to withhold treaty information from the other half of the treaty making power, and invites him to do so. The proponents argued that it was the customary phraseology in calling on the executive for information.

Eight Republican and nine Democrats voted against the Robinson amendment. Democrats were Black, Copeland, George, Harris, McKellar, Pittman, Thomas, Oklahoma; Walsh, Massachusetts and Walsh Montana. Republicans were Hale, Howell, Johnson, LaFollette, Norris, Nye, Oddie and Schall.

The four senators who voted against the resolution as qualified were Black [Dem., Ala.], Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], George [Dem., Ga.], and Harris [Dem., Ga.].

Just before the final roll call there was an interesting interchange between Senators William E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] and Robinson of Arkansas on the degree of respect that the senate should accord an executive recommendation to hold the documents secret. Senator Borah opposed the George amendment asking for the President's recommendations as to the use of the documents.

For Wide Latitude of Judgment.

"For myself," said Senator Borah, "I do not like to make that suggestion at this time, not in the interest of the President, but in the interest of the senate; I think the senate ought to have a wide latitude of judgment and discretion when these papers come here. Undoubtedly if the President sends them in confidence, the senate will still give serious consideration to and probably follow that suggestion, but if we make the suggestion in advance we shall be committed to the proposition that the papers shall be considered in no sense except in confidence. That might not make any difference."

"If the President should send to the senate messages, letters, and documents in confidence would the senator from Idaho think that the senate should receive the communications without respecting the limitation imposed by the executive?" asked Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

"That presents a very serious question," Mr. Borah replied. "I do not want to be committed to the proposition that the President is the sole judge of how these papers shall be used. I can conceive of a case very easily, when we consider the circumstances which led up to the world war, where I, as a senator, would be under solemn obligation to reveal facts to the constituency which I represent and to the country which might be revealed in those documents.

"The President has the absolute power to withhold the papers entirely if he wishes to: if he does so we are helpless. He has the power to send them here with the suggestion that they be considered in confidence and we will greatly respect anything the President may say, but I myself, as a senator, am not willing to say that we shall have no discretion when they reach here as to how we shall use those documents."

Adoption of the Robinson qualification of the senate's request elicited a protest from Senator Walter F. George [Dem., Ga.].

Protests Senate Attitude.

"As one who has announced that he expected to support the treaty, I want to take this occasion to say that the vote just taken in the senate is to me most remarkable," said Mr. George. "The senate by the vote just taken added the further qualification 'if not incompatible with the public interest.' The senate has recognized the absolute right of the President of the United States to withhold from the senate documents preceding the making of a treaty. I dare say that never before would the senate of the United States so commit itself upon a matter of such grave importance. I dare say that the action taken by the senate is infinitely more important than the treaty itself in this case.

"The senate solemnly admits by the amendment, which it super-adds to a simple request, that the President of the United States has the right and may himself adjudge whether documents preceding the execution of a treaty, the foundation of it, may be withheld from the senate when the senate is called upon either to accept or to reject the treaty. In other words, the resolution can be interpreted in the light of its history, in the light of what occurred in the foreign relations committee, as meaning but one thing and that is that with respect to the treaty the senate of the United States has but one right, but one power, but one duty, but one obligation and that is 'yes' or 'no' after the treaty has been negotiated and has been made by the President or by any agency of his selection.

Does Not Concede Right.

"I do not concede it to be the right of the President of the United States to withhold those documents if he has in the first instance determined that the public policy or the best interests of the country require him to withhold them. I think he should submit those documents to the senate with such recommendations as he wishes, with such suggestion as he believes he should make, and I have not the shadow of a doubt that in no case if the request were founded upon any reason, any fair reason, that the senate of the United States would not respect the President's wishes.

"I have been at a loss to know why the President of the United States and why the secretary of state did not send the documents to this body with the statement that in their judgment the documents should be in strict confidence and considered in executive session by the senate. Today I do not know. But if there is a failure of the senate to take this treaty now, if it goes over until December it will be because the President and the state department have taken the attitude that they have taken in this matter.

Might Defeat Treaty.

"If this were a matter upon which the opinion of the American people had been greatly stirred the attitude of the state department and the President would result in defeat of the treaty in all probability. If it were a matter of supreme importance to the country, if it involved more than this treaty does involve there would be very good reason why the senate of the United States would refuse to act upon the treaty, in my judgment, unless the President voluntarily sent all of the documents that had the slightest relevancy to a correct and proper understanding and interpretation of the treaty."

In a speech opposing the treaty, Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.] asserted that our possessions and our trade in the orient are at the mercy of Japan by reason of our waiver under the Washington treaty of the right to strengthen our base in the Philippines or establish new bases at Guam and in the Aleutian islands where Dutch Harbor, he said, could accommodate our entire fleet.

Bases as a Menace.

"A base in the Aleutian islands would menace Japan without effectively defending the United States," said Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.].

"It might be regarded as a threat at Japan," asserted Copeland, "but I think our possessions in the orient are entitled to consideration."

"If a naval base is a menace to a country," asked Senator McKellar, "why did not the negotiators of this treaty obtain a waiver by Great Britain of the right to maintain the bases by which we are surrounded—Bermuda, Halifax, two in the West Indies and one at Vancouver?"

Reed, who was one of the negotiators of the treaty, vouchsafed no answer.

"We gave up our influence in the Pacific in the interest of peace," said Senator Henrik Shipstead [Farmer-Labor, Minn.]. "You can pass anything through the senate in the name of peace."

Watson Defends Record of Hoover in Face of 'Hostility'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Praising accomplishments of President Hoover and congress, Senator James E. Watson [Rep. Ind.], majority leader of the senate, in a radio speech tonight questioned the motives of opponents of the administration.

"In all that the national administration has attempted in the execution of its pledged policies during the last sixteen months, save in the ratification of the treaty now under consideration by the senate, it has confronted the most persistent, factional and partisan opposition within the memory of the American people," said Senator Watson.

"Much of this opposition, I believe it may fairly be said, has seemed to be inspired more by a desire to discredit the administration than by a purpose of assisting it in serving the public good and executing the public will as affirmed so decisively twenty months ago.

"In view of this fact we who have battled beside the President may with special gratification point to a record of solid achievement, destined permanently to advance the national well being, one that may favorably be compared with the progress made in any period of similar length in the entire history of our country."

Hoover "Hardest Worked Man."

Senator Watson described President Hoover as "perhaps the hardest worked man in the country."

"Coming to the greatest post in Christendom with a worldwide reputation for wisdom, efficiency, humanitarianism, and a genuine desire to serve his fellow man, his administration is disappointing only to those who have prepared to be and who want to be disappointed," said Senator Watson. "He is near midstream in his administration. He has faced grave problems he did not create. He has met innumerable difficulties for which he is in no wise responsible. To solve them he has carried through a great program of legislation and administration.

"The effects of these policies upon public welfare have not yet had time to manifest themselves, but they are as certain to do so in the immediate future as day is to follow night. Up to the present time he has been in the midst of the work of putting them into effect, and now all that is required is for the people to be patient until they have had an opportunity to demonstrate their effectiveness. To this end he deserves the confidence and the support of the American people, and undoubtedly will have it.

"Under Constant Opposition."

"He has been laboring under the handicap of constant opposition in a congress which in one branch has been out of sympathy with him politically. With a coalition to deal with numbering in its ranks a majority of at least eight in the senate on any joint vote, he yet has been able to put through that body fifteen of his major policies and suffered a defeat in but two, and one of them was but short-lived. The American people should back President Hoover to the limit. They should give him a congressional majority in both branches that always will try to help and not hinder."

Senator Watson reviewed the record of the recent session of congress. He asserted that the new tariff law "will in due time vindicate itself, as all other protective tariff measures have in the past."

HEAT CONTINUES OVER MIDWEST; CITY ESCAPES

Mercury Soars Over 100 Degrees Downstate.

While the central and mountain states endured another spell of scorching weather yesterday with temperatures commonly above 100 degrees and six more reported dead from sunstroke, Chicago was again spared the sultriness prevalent elsewhere from the Mississippi west to the Rockies.

The weather man, C. A. Donnel, predicted fair and warmer weather for Chicago and vicinity today and continued warm tomorrow, barring thunder showers, which appeared possible. The wind, he predicted, would be moderate to gentle southwest.

The mercury, which had dropped below 70 here during the early hours yesterday morning, was held to a maximum of 79 degrees by the efficacy of the lake breeze, followed by a timely shower. The maximum was attained twice, at 1 and 2 p. m., when the breeze was shifting from east to southwest, and again at 5 p. m. after the shower had depressed the mercury four degrees.

Farmers Stricken in Fields.

Meanwhile, the Associated Press bureau at St. Paul reported three deaths from the torrid weather in Minnesota and the St. Louis bureau told of two deaths in Missouri, with the temperature around 100 degrees in both states.

Two farmers were stricken in the harvest fields in Minnesota, one near Fergus Falls and another near St. Paul, the third victim being an automobile mechanic, stricken at work. The St. Louis victims were a car man, stricken in the terminal yards, and a laborer, overcome in the St. Louis stockyards. The sixth heat victim was a street worker in Council Bluffs, Ia., who collapsed at work.

Hits 106 at Harrisburg.

Temperatures in central and lower Illinois were typical of the entire area embraced by the heat wave. Three prostrations occurred at Quincy as the official thermometer soared to 104 degrees. The reading was 106 at Harrisburg, 103 at Carbondale, and 99 at Peoria.

The wave stretched as far northwest as Montana, Miles City reporting a maximum of 108 degrees, and as far southwest as Arizona, The maximum was at or above 95 degrees in most of Ohio and Indiana, while sections of Tennessee and Kentucky reported 100 degrees or higher.

CROPS DESTROYED IN NORTH CAROLINA AREA BY HUGE HAILSTONES

Fayetteville, N. C., July 10.—(AP)—A terrific hailstorm obliterated crops over an area 7 miles long and of undetermined width in eastern Cumberland and western Sampson counties late today. Hailstones as big as hens' eggs were reported to have passed entirely through full grown watermelons, and fields of corn were beaten to the ground. Cotton was destroyed.

SMALL HOUSES SHAKEN BY QUAKE AT MARION, OHIO

Marion, Ohio, July 10.—(AP)—A number of small buildings were shaken perceptibly by an earthquake here tonight.

The tremor, apparently a localized disturbance, was of slight intensity and lasted only a few seconds, starting about 6:15 o'clock. No damage was reported.

Many residents reported the shaking of buildings.

SLAYER GIVEN LIFE TERM IS TO BE PAROLED

Henry Morris of Plano, Ill., originally sentenced to life imprisonment in Joliet penitentiary for murder and who has served 19 years of the term, is to be paroled. Application for the parole was acted on favorably in Springfield yesterday.

Morris killed Mrs. Stella Dumas, for whom he had deserted his wife, when she told him she loved another man. He then turned the gun with which he had shot her upon himself, but inflicted only a slight wound. He was convicted in December of 1910. The jury in its verdict said that "hanging was too good for him," and stipulated that no parole board should ever give him freedom. This provision, however, was overruled by the court.

Gov. Small in January of 1929, a few months before he left office, commuted Morris' sentence to 45 years. According to prison reports Morris will return to Aurora, to live with the wife he deserted and who turned him over to the authorities after he had killed Mrs. Dumas. She became reconciled to him after his sentence and has visited him regularly at the penitentiary.

MAY CALL REESE FOR INQUIRY IN ROSENHEIM CASE

Reporter Fails to Give Prosecutor Aid.

$55,825 IN REWARDS.

Rewards totaling $55,825 are offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer of Alfred Lingle, Tribune reporter. Of the $25,000 reward offered by The Tribune $10,000 will be paid to any person who will give confidential information identifying the slayer of Lingle. All information should be sent to the headquarters established by State's Attorney Swanson in Room 503 Temple building, 77 West Washington street. Telephone State 3729.

State's Attorney Swanson said yesterday that Leland H. Reese, reporter for the Chicago Daily News, whose in a signed article published in his paper on Monday disclosed that Julius Rosenheim, murdered by gangsters five months ago, was a paid informant of that paper, has not indicated to the prosecutor or his assistants that he will give to the authorities any information he has about the murder.

A conference is expected to be held between Mr. Swanson and his chief advisers, it was announced yesterday, on the advisability of issuing a subpoena for the appearance of Reese, inasmuch as he has not come forward voluntarily since his disclosures earlier in the week.

Roche Tells of Interview.

Chief Investigator Pat Roche, who had charge of the Rosenheim investigation, disclosed yesterday that he had talked to Reese after the murder and that he was told that Rosenheim was not on the Daily News pay roll.

"Reese said that Rosenheim was not working for the Daily News," said Roche yesterday when asked what he had been told by the reporter following the murder. "He said Rosenheim was not on the pay roll, although several of my men had reported that Rosenheim had been telling people he was an employé of the Daily News.

"Reese said that Rosenheim was doing some work for him personally and that was about the extent of their connections. Reese declared he knew no motive for the Rosenheim murder, although he said he was inclined to blame it on the Capone gang."

Was Seeking Bodyguard.

Investigator Roche said that he did not send for Reese at that time, but that Reese came voluntarily to his office to impart the information. It was reported that the reporter was in reality seeking a bodyguard then, but Roche refused to discuss this subject yesterday.

The Rosenheim murder case has been revived by the authorities because of the possibility, they say, of a connection it might have with the murder of Alfred Lingle, TRIBUNE reporter. The Rosenheim killing was similar to the Lingle killing—both men being shot down on the street.

New Facts Brought Out.

At the time of the Rosenheim murder it was not known that he was a paid attaché of the Daily News. This was only recently disclosed by Reese in his signed article in the News, in which he said that he himself has been threatened and that his automobile was forced from the road near De Kalb by men he believes tried to cause his death. The similarity in the Rosenheim and Lingle murders and the threats and attempts on Reese's life, as he himself says, might make him a valuable state witness, some of the prosecutor's assistants believe.

"It might be important to know just what work Rosenheim did for the Daily News, as this might give not only a clew to the cause of his murder but also that of Lingle," said one of the prosecutors. "The crimes were committed in exactly the same manner, except as to location."

Rosenheim, who was known for twenty years as a stool pigeon on the underworld, was shot down on Feb. 1 soon after he left his home at 3510 Dickens avenue.

WHO'S THIS MYSTERY MAN?

Still another phase of the investigation of charges involving relationships between newspaper men and gangsters was that connecting a newspaper reporter with Al Capone.

It was reported by Brundidge, the St. Louis Star correspondent, that a Chicago journalist was sufficiently intimate with Capone not only to visit him in his Miami residence but to occupy a place in an airplane which carried Capone and his party from Miami to Havana. It is said to be the purpose of the state's attorney's office, in knitting together all angles of the gang situation, to get the identity of this mysterious journalist and learn about his relations with Capone in the hope that it may shed some light.

Who Was the Journalist?

The plane which was chartered by Capone about ten weeks ago carried a specially invited party of intimates. Among them was the Chicago newspaper man. They were deposited in the Havana airport and later taken to expensive rooms in the Sevilla Biltmore hotel. According to telegraphic reports at that time the Capone party were liberal with tips to waiters, barbers, manicures and bellboys, creating in this fashion such a wave of interest that the police became curious.

Capone and the whole party were arrested and put under examination as to their purposes. They are said to have given fictitious descriptions of themselves but it was declared yesterday that it might become necessary to summon police officers from Havana to establish the identity of those in the party.

The close intimacy between the mysterious Chicago newspaper man and the notorious Capone is the hinge upon which the present investigation may turn in the search for detailed and exhaustive information on the relations between reporters and gangsters.

Brundidge Quiz at Standstill.

State's Attorney Swanson and the St. Louis Star had not changed their ideas on the subject of calling Harry T. Brundidge, a reporter for the St. Louis newspaper, before the grand jury, both declared. Articles by Brundidge have declared that certain unnamed Chicago newspaper men had rackets, and that if he were called before the grand jury he would reveal the sources of his information.

Prosecutor Swanson yesterday reiterated his statement that before he would call Brundidge before the grand jury he or some of his assistants would have to question Brundidge to see if his information warranted presentation to the grand jury. The St. Louis newspaper stood by its ultimatum that Brundidge would not be sent here to be interrogated.

Charges Persecution

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—In the Jefferson Market police court—through whose portals now pass the loveliest girls in the world—Magistrate Maurice Gotlieb today postponed the case against Earl Carroll, theatrical producer, and nine members of the cast of "Earl Carroll's Vanities," all charged with violating section 1140-A of the penal law, which deals with "participating in or offering to the public an obscene, immoral, lewd, lascivious, or indecent" theatrical performance.

The nine of the cast were arrested in a raid after the matinee yesterday. The adjournment was at the request of Carroll's lawyer, who wanted time to study the complaint.

After the court session, Mr. Carroll made a statement in which he intimated that he believes he is being persecuted, and in which he accused the police of using unnecessarily vigorous methods.

POLICE TRACE 2 ASSASSINS OF RACKETEER

Acting Police Commissioner Alcock and Chief of Detectives Norton were confronted yesterday with the first gang murder to be committed in Chicago since they took command three weeks ago. Thomas Bonner, known to the police for ten years as a minor racketeer, was killed in his home at 7353 Yale avenue yesterday morning by two men.

The assassins apparently followed Bonner to his home, the police learned. Shortly after midnight they rang the doorbell and Bonner's wife, Mary, who was caring for her five months old baby in a bedroom, heard her husband admit them to the living room. A few minutes of conversation followed, and then the voices of the strangers were raised in angry dispute with Bonner, his wife told the police.

Wife Tells of Shooting.

"You've got me all wrong on that," she heard Bonner say. "No, we haven't, not this time," one of the visitors replied, and then there were two pistol shots.

Mrs. Bonner ran into the room to find her husband on the floor with two bullets in the head and the slayers fleeing through the door to the street. Bonner was taken to the Auburn Park hospital, where he died three hours later, refusing to name his assailants.

He was the 47th person killed by gang guns here since Jan. 1, the death toll including three gangsters shot to death by a machine gun crew in a Fox Lake hotel on June 1.

Slayers Known, Norton Says.

Chief Norton said Bonner was affiliated with a drug and alcohol gang and that the identity of Bonner's killers was known and their arrest was expected. Alcock said he was making an inquiry and in pursuance of his order that unsolved crimes will mean charges against captains, he expects results.

"When I was a captain there were no unsolved crimes in my district," Alcock said, referring to his ten years in command of the Woodlawn district before he became first deputy fifteen years ago. "I want this murder cleaned up as I want all other crimes cleaned up.

"I have sent a letter to each captain asking an explanation of crimes not cleaned up since June 16 when I was put in charge of the department. Excuses will not be accepted. The city is spending $1,500,000 a month on the police department and it is going to get $1,500,000 of service from every member of the department."

The inquest into the death of Bonner was continued to give the police time to investigate. Lieut. Michael Moran of the Englewood station said Bonner, who was 45 years old and the father of three children, Catharine, 20 years old, William, 19; and Robert, the baby, had not been steadily employed and had been connected with a gang of racketeers.

He had been arrested many times, once on suspicion of complicity in the Evergreen Park mail robbery, but had never been convicted, according to the lieutenant. The latest suspicion against him was that he was involved in the robbery of a prohibition warehouse at 5210 South Wabash avenue, Moran declared.

In the orders issued yesterday by Acting Commissioner Alcock the reinstatement without pay of Policeman Daniel P. Allman was announced. Allman was arrested and suspended a year ago when he and Policeman Joseph Hennessy were accused of robbing a saloon keeper of $50 after the saloon keeper had refused to pay them a bribe. Allman was acquitted in the Criminal court last month when he said he was not a party to the attempted extortion or robbery. Hennessy fled Chicago after the charge was made and has never been apprehended.

Sergt. Ray Grable, who was shot on May 31 by his stepdaughter, Dorothy Tulley, was restored to duty with pay for the time he was off.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Seymour Saperstein, larceny, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell; Joe Dandridge, false pretenses, sentenced to 1 year in the Bridewell; Robert Scales, assault to rob, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary, by Judge D. J. Normoyle.

CAPONE'S COTTON CLUB IS RAIDED AGAIN; 3 SEIZED

Ralph Capone's Cotton club, Cicero cabaret, was raided again early yesterday by prohibition agents, in preparation for a hearing on a permanent injunction set for today. The agents, led by Alexander Jamie, said they found a few bottles of liquor. The Montmartre, Capone's other Cicero night club, was raided the night before. Temporary injunctions had been issued against both places. Henry Girontiny, chef; Harry McRae, waiter, and Joseph Murphy, cashier, were arrested at the Cotton club, charged with maintaining a nuisance.

Seize Wounded Driver of Stolen Car in Lake Forest

Arrested as he drove through Lake Forest last night in a stolen car a young man who identified himself as James Rogers, 25 years old, Wauwatosa, Wis., was found suffering from a flesh wound in the right leg. He told the police he had been riding with a man whom he presumed to be the owner of the car and that the latter had accidentally shot him. The man then turned the car over to Rogers and urged him to drive to the nearest physician, Rogers claimed. The car was stolen Wednesday from J. E. Lindstrom of Glencoe.

TALK OF PAROLE FOR MURRAY IN RONDOUTROBBERY

Federal Board Soon to Hear Prison Cases.

Whether Jimmy Murray, the Chicago politician and beer runner sentenced to twenty-five years in prison for his part in the $2,000,000 Rondout mail robbery, is to be set free for his return of $385,000 in stolen bonds may be known soon.

Dispatches from Washington last night said the federal parole board would hold hearings on pending Atlanta penitentiary cases within the next two weeks. President Hoover signed a commutation of sentence reducing Murray's term to twelve years on May 12. Murray is now eligible for a parole, having served more than one-third of his twelve year term.

Reports from Underworld.

Reports from the underworld in recent months have been that Murray would "be home this summer." These reports were based on an understanding he said he had with the government when he made restitution of his share of the loot, more than a year ago.

United States Attorney Johnson said he made no recommendation to the parole board in connection with the Murray case, since the robbery and trial in 1924 took place before he assumed office. He took the position, however, that if the government made any promises, they should be kept.

Promise Made, Friends Say.

Murray's friends have said that Grant B. Miller, former chief postal inspector at Washington, promised to get him a parole when the loot was returned. Miller is now dead.

Murray was convicted and sentenced with his boyhood friend, William Fahy, former Chicago postoffice inspector. Fahy was charged with supplying inside information to the mail robbers.

On the night of June 12, 1924, six gunmen forced the engineer of a Milwaukee road train to stop two miles north of Rondout. Guns were fired in profusion, tear gas bombs were thrown, and the railway mail clerks were forced to load waiting automobiles with the pouches containing the loot.

LOOP JEWELER'S SON COLLAPSES IN STORE AND DIES

HENRY KIRCHBERG.

A coroner's physician last night prepared to perform an autopsy to determine the cause of the death of Henry John Kirchberg, 24 years old, 3750 Sheridan road, son of Edward Kirchberg, loop jeweler, son-in-law of Col. Matt Winn., racing magnate.

Young Kirchberg collapsed while in his father's shop at 104 North State street yesterday and died a short time later at the Iroquois Memorial hospital. His father attributed his death to accidental poisoning with gas in the kitchen of his home last Monday evening.

"Henry used a lotion for sunburn last Monday morning, preparing it over the kitchen stove," said Mr. Kirchberg. "I guess he left a burner open on the stove. He came to work ill on Tuesday saying the house was full of gas the night before and that his wife had found him unconscious on the kitchen floor."

Coroner's assistants believed the gas poisoning caused a heart attack. An inquest will be held today.

35,127,398 AUTOS IN WORLD; ONE FOR EVERY 55

Washington, D. C., July 10.—(AP)—A world census of automobiles announced today by the commerce department fixed total passenger cars, trucks, and buses in operation on Jan. 1, 1930, at 35,127,398, or about one for every 55 human beings.

The total was nine per cent greater than the number in operation one year previous, while the United States, in which 26,653,450 of the machines were registered, had three times as many as all the rest of the world put together.

For this country the proportion of cars was one to every 4.5 persons.

COLLAPSES AT GRAVE; DIES.

As she placed flowers on her husband's grave in Forest Home cemetery in Forest Park yesterday Mrs. Marie Kern, 65 years old, 1912 Howe street, collapsed. She was taken to the Norwegian American hospital, where she died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

QUESTION OLIVER ON PURCHASE OF EXPENSIVE HOME

Race Horses and Auto Figure in Trial.

County Assessor Gene G. Oliver, on trial in Federal Judge Woodward's court for alleged income tax evasions, was questioned about the purchase of an expensive residence in Chicago Heights, a Cadillac automobile, four race horses, and a $1,100 membership in the Olympia Fields Country club at the beginning of the prosecution's cross-examination late yesterday.

Assistant United States Attorney Cassius Poust asked Oliver whether he purchased the last three items with his $9,000 a year salary as an assessor. He said he did.

Residence Costs $51,000.

Oliver said his house, completed in the spring of 1929, cost $51,000, according to a statement he received from the contractor. He was asked if there were additional expenditures and he said there were, for extras, but he could not remember the amount. The lot cost $6,500, he said. In response to a question, Oliver said he did not recall telling internal revenue agents the house cost about $60,000.

The witness said the house was purchased with the proceeds of the sale of a bungalow for $8,750 and a flat building for $9,000, together with borrowed money. He added that the house was not all paid for.

Oliver said he bought his first race horses in partnership with two other men, Marty Forkins and Charles Durnell, one in 1925, one in 1926 and one in 1927. He said he sold one in 1927 for $5,000 and bought two colts for $1,000 each that year. He said he was now the sole owner of these horses.

The witness said he paid $2,700 for the automobile, in 1927 or 1926, and that a friend let him have it at cost. He said he couldn't keep up the country club membership and let it drop.

On direct examination, Oliver's counsel, State Senator James J. Barbour, introduced more than 500 checks Oliver paid out during 1926, 1927, and 1928, many of them being explained as campaign expenditures and contributions to charity. The checks were not totaled, but it is the contention of the defense that Oliver spent more than he received during the three years, and that a great part of his income represented campaign gifts.

Further cross examination of Oliver is expected to require most of today. The defense may call one more witness and may rest when the cross examination is finished, Senator Barbour said.

FALL FATAL TO ELECTRICIAN.

W. J. O'Brien, 29 years old, 7116 Constance avenue, an electrician, died last night at the West Side hospital of a fracture of the skull received yesterday when he fell while at work.

BOMB MAKERS SENTENCED; SON IS HELD IN JAIL

Steve Ficke, 51 years old, father of five children, and Mike Casselli, a South Chicago butcher, were denied new trials yesterday by Judge John P. McGoorty. They were sentenced to 5 to 25 years each in the penitentiary on charges of manufacturing and transporting bombs.

Vito Ficke, 14 years old, son of Steve, who had expected to save his father by appearing as a last minute witness, must stay in jail until fall unless he can supply bonds of $6,000. The boy was put in jail Wednesday when he appeared to say he knew nothing of the bombs and that his father was innocent. The youth is named as a co-defendant in the indictments which charge that he delivered the bombs given to him by his father to the state's attorney's detectives.

Attorney John H. Johntry said that he would appeal the convictions of Ficke and Casselli and that he would make demands for immediate trial of the boy.

FIVE MEN KILLED IN PLANE CRASH; 4 ARE PROMINENT

Missouri Bar Association Head Among Victims.

Aransas Pass, Tex., July 10.—(AP)—Five Kansas City men who flew to the Gulf of Mexico on a fishing trip, four of them prominent business and professional men and the fifth a transport pilot, met death near here today when their airplane exploded in the air and crashed to the ground.

The dead:

Murat Boyle, 48, president of the Missouri Bar association and prominent civic leader in Kansas City.

Raymond Watson, 39, attorney and son of I. N. Watson, veteran member of the Kansas City bar.

R. J. Delano, 47, for the last 20 years a builder of apartments and residences in Kansas City and formerly chairman of the Republican city committee.

Eugene Lynn, expert accountant and president of the Kansas City Golf association.

Gene Gabbert, a transport pilot of several years' experience.

Witnesses of the crash said their attention was attracted by an explosion and looking skyward they saw the wings break from the six passenger monoplane. The fuselage hurtled down with the trapped victims and buried itself in the salt flats about five miles from here. The plane did not catch fire. The wings were found 500 feet from the fuselage.

Persons who saw the plane fall and inspected the wreckage expressed the opinion that the ship had been struck by a bolt of lightning.

The theory that lightning struck the plane was given credence by experienced pilots. They pointed out there had been scattered showers in the vicinity all day and that local squalls were noticeable over Corpus Christi bay.

Frederick H. Dierks, Kansas City lumberman, the sixth member of the party that arrived at Corpus Christi Sunday in quest of tarpon fishing, was the only survivor of the group. He decided at the last minute to let the plane leave without him while he remained at Port Aransas, across the bay from here, for more fishing.

W. C. Maus, manager of the municipal airport at Corpus Christi, said he believed the accident was caused by "blind flying." It was his theory the plane was flying blind in a cloud at a high rate of speed and that when it emerged the pilot jerked the "stick" back so fast the wings crumpled and fell off.

Four Die in Three Plane Crashes

Traverse City, Mich., July 10.—[Special.]—Lieut. A. H. Coleman, Michigan National Guard, was killed late this afternoon when his National Guard plane failed to come out of a nose dive above the Traverse City golf course. State Trooper George Watson, his passenger, is in a critical condition.

Three thousand persons gathered at the airport here to watch the maneuvers saw the crash. Coleman was stunting as part of the Michigan cherry festival air show.

Two Die as Plane Falls.

Rockville, Md., July 10.—(AP)—Leonard Orville Sabine, flying instructor, and Myron L. Bennett, student pilot of New Haven, Conn., were killed tonight as a plane in which they were flying from Hampden, Conn., fell into a wheat field here less than a mile from Sabine's home, where he was bound for a vacation.

Hit by Plane Wing in 'Chute.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—With his Great Lakes training biplane whirling in a tail spin, Jack Charleson, Mineola aviator, fought to right it until only 500 feet above ground and then stepped off in his parachute. One of the plane's wings cracked him on the head as the heavy ship plunged past him. He said that one of the controls of the ship snapped while he was flying at an altitude of 3,000 feet.

Youthful Flyer Killed.

Williston, N. D., July 10.—(AP)—Claude Renshaw, 20, died early today after his airplane, recently purchased, crashed from a height of 200 feet just after taking off. The plane had not been flown for several months.

CHICAGO GREETS BYRD IN LOOP PARADE TODAY

Admiral and His Men to Arrive This Morning.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

Chicago today will be host to Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and a few of the men who were with him on his latest adventure in the antarctic. They will be greeted by citizens in the noon hour when they pass on parade through the loop; and they will be welcomed at two gatherings, one at noon in the Press club and another in the evening at the Stevens hotel.

The explorer and his party will arrive at the Union station over the Broadway Limited at 10 o'clock. They will be greeted informally then by a group from the Chicago Press club and taken to the Stevens hotel. Among those who will welcome the flyers at the station will be Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Chicago Century of Progress exposition; Col. Robert Isham Randolph, president of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Maj. Reed G. Landis of the National Air Race committee, and George W. Dixon.

At noon a 13 gun salute fired from Grant Park in honor of Rear Admiral Byrd will announce the start of the parade from the Stevens hotel. The first pursuit group of army planes from Selfridge field, Michigan, augmented by a dozen planes from Curtiss field, will roar overhead during the progress of the parade north in Michigan avenue. The parade will proceed to Jackson boulevard, where it will pass into the loop. It will turn north off Jackson at La Salle street, move north to Washington street and east to Dearborn street, stopping at the Press club.

The explorer's speech at the Press club will be broadcast over the Columbia system. Following the luncheon, Admiral Byrd will retire to the Stevens hotel, where he will rest during the afternoon.

Nearly 1,500 Chicagoans will be present at the banquet to be given in the evening in the Stevens hotel grand ballroom. Officials of the state and the city will be among the speakers. Ald. George Maypole, chairman of the city council entertainment committee, will present to Admiral Byrd a large gold key to the city. The festivities, which are to begin at 7 o'clock, will be broadcast over station W-G-N.

Included in the party of Byrd's companions on the south polar expedition will be four Chicagoans. They are Lloyd Grenlie, radio operator, who will return to Chicago after an absence of two years; Capt. Alton Parker, pilot of one of the expedition's planes; Ensign Thomas Mulroy, fuel engineer, and Carl Peterson, radio operator, who has been in Chicago for several days. Peterson will board the train at the 63d street station. Others in the party will be Capt. Ashley McKinley, aerial photographer; George Thorne, surveyor, and Charles Lofgren, chief yeoman. Additional members of the polar expedition may also come here, it was said last night.

Among those who will greet Admiral Byrd here will be his cousin, Charles J. Faulkner, chief counsel for Armour & Co. in Chicago.

Admiral Byrd will leave Chicago early tomorrow morning, flying to St. Louis.

YEAR TO LIFE FOR APPLE THIEVES.

Anna, Ill., July 10.—(AP)—Fount Hamilton and Holly Stone, both living near Alto Pass, were given a sentence of one year to life yesterday after their conviction in court here of stealing twelve bushels of apples last October from the warehouse of an Alto Pass merchant. The value of the goods stolen was given as $15.

BONDING PLAN WILL PUT CITY ON CASH BASIS

Saving on Interest Is Economy Move.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The system of operating the city, county, and public schools on credit is to be discontinued. When accomplished, this should mean a saving in taxes or an increase in the service given, according to the citizens' committee headed by Silas H. Strawn.

In the meantime, however, there must necessarily be an increase in taxes to get upon a cash basis, the committee points out. The local governments have been spending taxes a year before they are collected. They anticipate the tax collections by borrowing a theoretical 75 per cent of the expected total, but recently some of them have been borrowing more than 75 per cent. In some instances the borrowings plus interest total more than the total taxes.

Must Pay Debts First.

To get on a cash basis, enough money must be raised to pay off the debts. This is one of the objects of the acts passed by the special session of the legislature. The plan was worked out by the citizens' committee. The bills to pay off the debts were prepared by Harris S. Keeler, director of the bureau of public efficiency. The restoration of the cash basis is not to be made abruptly, but over a series of years. And it is to be done both by bond issue and by an increase in taxes.

The new law applicable to the city corporate fund is illustrative. First there is created by statute a "working cash fund." Its first income is from a $12,000,000 bond issue with an interest rate of 4 per cent. These bonds are of the serial variety and can be issued for any period not exceeding 20 years. The law provides for levying a tax to pay the principal and interest.

Provide Tax Increase.

This fund is to be built up by an annual special tax levy of one-tenth of one per cent. In taxes extended that means a gross of $4,328,000 or a net of $3,905,000 a year on the valuations on which taxes are now being paid. Some of the statisticians of the Strawn committee have estimated that in 10 or 11 years there will be enough cash in that fund on which to operate the corporate end of the city without borrowing any money in anticipation of taxes. Then it is proposed that the city shall spend its taxes as they are collected.

In the interim the citizens' committee plans to utilize this "working cash fund" to reduce the interest charges paid annually by the property owners on tax anticipation warrants. The cash is not to remain idle; it is to be utilized.

The money in this fund is to be loaned to the corporate fund. Instead of borrowing $12,000,000 of the banks at 6 per cent, in anticipation of tax collections, the corporate fund can borrow the $12,000,000 in the "working cash fund" at a lower rate.

Fund Grows Each Year.

The next year the corporate fund can borrow the $12,000,000 again, plus the accretions in taxes to the "working cash fund" estimated at $3,905,000. The following year the corporate fund can borrow the $12,000,000 and the $3,905,000 again plus another accretion of $3,905,000 to the fund, and so on. Eventually the "working cash fund" will be sufficient to equal the total corporate tax collections. Then all of the tax anticipation warrants can be paid off.

The law requires that the "working cash fund" must be restored to its full value each year, from taxes collected and other corporate revenues. Certain formalities to transfer cash from the working cash fund to the corporate fund are prescribed in the act.

Penalties are provided for any one violating the act. First a fine not exceeding $10,000 is prescribed. Any alderman or person holding any other office, trust or employment who willfully violates the act thereby "forfeits his right to his office, trust or employment and shall be removed therefrom."

Officials Made Liable.

In addition the violator is liable for any money diverted from the working cash fund and any taxpayer can start an appropriate action upon filing a bond to insure payment of costs. Furthermore these penalties shall not bar "any other remedies at law or in equity."

A like fund is established for the county government, but this starts off with a bond issue of $6,500,000 at 4 per cent interest and running for a period of not more than 20 years. The county is also permitted to levy a special tax annually, starting in 1933, of 2 cents on each $100 to augment its working cash fund.

The board of education is likewise given power to establish a fund. This is to be started with bond issues totaling $25,000,000, at 4 per cent interest and for not more than 20 years, but the board is prohibited from issuing more than half of these bonds in any one year.

Same Penalties Provided.

The same penalties are provided for violation of these laws which are prescribed in the city's "working cash fund," and practically the same method of utilization and the same restrictions are provided.

By these bond issues and the special taxes it is planned gradually to accumulate an aggregate of funds which will total the tax incomes of the city, county, and school board. The three park boards have not been given the same privilege. Until the reassessment held up tax collections these boards were operating upon a cash basis and the Strawn committee thought they can regain that position without remedial legislation.

SOUTH PARK BOARD PASSES $5,750,000 BONDS IN 3 ISSUES

The sale of $5,750,000 in bonds to complete improvements and provide cash for current expenses was authorized by the south park board yesterday. The commissioners will advertise for bids immediately and expect to let contracts for the sale shortly after July 16.

The bonds are of three issues. $2,500,000 are park improvement bonds, authorized by the special session of the legislature and are to be sold without referendum. Proceeds of this issue will make up the deficit in the corporate fund and provide for salaries and running expenses. The second issue is $2,000,000 lake front extension bonds, voted by a referendum June 4, 1928, and will provide funds to improve the lake front and construct drives. Park improvement bonds of $1,500,000, voted in the same referendum, will provide funds for the improvement of small parks and playgrounds.

TOWN TERRORIZD BY LION.

Princess Patricia, African lioness, escaped from her cage in a city park at Ely, Nev. Children were kept indoors, innocent dogs frightened hysterical people, and posses searched the hills all night. And in the morning the Princess was in her open cage, where she had slipped in unobserved after a night out.

10,000 PAY TAX ON DEADLINE; HIT BOOSTED LEVIES

35 Per Cent Delinquent, Officials Say.

About 10,000 Cook county taxpayers, many of whom protested against high taxes, paid their 1928 tax bills at the county building yesterday, the last day in which they could pay without being delinquent. Beginning at midnight last night all unpaid tax bills will be assessed 1 per cent for each month's delay.

Officials of the county treasurer's office last night estimated that approximately 35 per cent of the taxpayers are delinquent. They also estimated that 35 per cent of the total of $233,176,796 in taxes for 1928 is uncollected. This is slightly less than in 1927, when 40 per cent of a total of $224,499,000 was unpaid before the penalty date.

Aside from the complaints against increased taxes, there was little to indicate that the day was the last on which taxpayers could escape the penalty, as the number of those who paid was 5,000 below that of the day before. The collections over the counter were augmented by checks delivered by mail and by amounts sent in from the 200 branch collecting offices throughout the county.

Calls Reassessment a "Joke."

"I certainly hate to write this check," said L. A. Sorensen, 7920 Eberhart avenue, whose bill was $332.18. "Taxes on my two flat building were doubled in 1928. I have four stores up in Rogers Park. Recently I cut the rent $15 a month and now my taxes have gone up $10 a month. This scientific reassessment is a joke. Cut-more might well have employed bricklayers for assessors."

Joseph J. Sullivan, 6844 Oglesby street, said he was going to fight his assessment in the County court. He had twelve tax bills.

"It is an outrage," he said. "I have a number of inside vacant 25 foot lots at 87th street and Stony Island avenue on which I must pay $174 each. In 1927 I paid $36 in taxes for each lot."

Frank Sustek, 4143 West 26th street, Maywood, also said he was going to contest his tax bill.

"I am being charged $127.65 for a 50 year old five room house at 219 South 11th street, Maywood. My bill shouldn't be over $40. I have complained to the assessors, but it doesn't do any good."

Pay Money "on Account."

A number of persons said they were paying "on account" only what they believed proper, having been advised that such action will give them standing in court. Harry S. Cutmore, director of appraisals for the board of assessors, said this idea is erroneous and that such persons will be treated the same as those who failed to pay anything.

Tax officials said it would be several days before accurate figures on the total collections were compiled. Of the 1,300,000 tax bills sent out only 175,000 were paid at the county building.

MORE PAYLESS PAYDAYS

Salaries for city employés will not be paid until the end of July unless money is received from unexpected sources, according to the predictions of city officials yesterday. The salaries of the police and firemen due on July 2 were not paid and no funds are available to meet the pay rolls of other departments that come due daily, or the next police and fire rolls due July 16.

The council is expected to pass at the July 16 meeting the supplementary appropriation bills and ordinances necessary to obtain the financial relief offered by the Strawn bills. The sale of additional tax anticipation warrants through which money will be obtained to pay salaries hinges on the supplementary tax levy ordinance raising the 1930 tax rate from $1.07½ to $1.37. This will not be effective until 10 days after the council meeting.

One source of money, according to Deputy Controller Petterson, might be the money owed to the city by the Illinois Telephone company, approximately $1,900,000 which is sufficient to pay employés for two weeks. The company has announced its willingness to pay when it is granted a new franchise.

POSTOFFICE PLANS TO BRING FEDERAL OFFICIALS TO CITY

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Ferry K. Heath, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of public buildings construction, left Washington today for Chicago where he will confer with local federal officials and Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, architects of the new postoffice. The progress being made on the designs for the new $21,000,000 structure will be one of the subjects taken up by the assistant secretary.

Mr. Heath will be joined next week by John W. Philp, fourth assistant postmaster general, and the two government officials will confer with railroad officials regarding the acquisition of air rights over the railroads near the Van Buren street parcel post station, as a site for the postoffice.

YANKEES RIOT AT PARIS SHOW; "TOO NAUGHTY"

Police Quell Disorders After Dancing Act.

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, July 10.—A riot broke out last night at the Folies Bergere, the traditional haven of American tourists who want to get an eyeful of Parisian naughtiness, over a dancing number, which the Yanks thought provided more than their money's worth of shocks.

The act which caused the disorder was staged on an elaborate set with a clever arrangement of mirrors giving the illusion of a subterranean grotto. Standing in the center of the grotto stood the statuesque onyxlike figure of a huge nude Senegalese Negro billed as Fera Bengal. Kitty Mara, blonde danseuse, appeared attired in nothing but her own gleaming white skin and proceeded to dance.

Kitty Appears—Tsk! Tsk!

The audience, at least a third of which was American, began murmuring its disapproval the minute Kitty appeared on the stage. At the finish of the act, when the Negro clasped his exhausted partner in his arms, there was a mad din of whistles, hoots, catcalls and stamping. The show was temporarily stopped while the police tried to restore order. Scores of indignant Americans walked out and it was several minutes before the next act could proceed.

There has been a certain amount of trouble over the act ever since the show started and owing to several stormy outbursts of Nordic indignation, the management finally cancelled what it considered to be the high spot of the show, but which the Americans considered obscene.

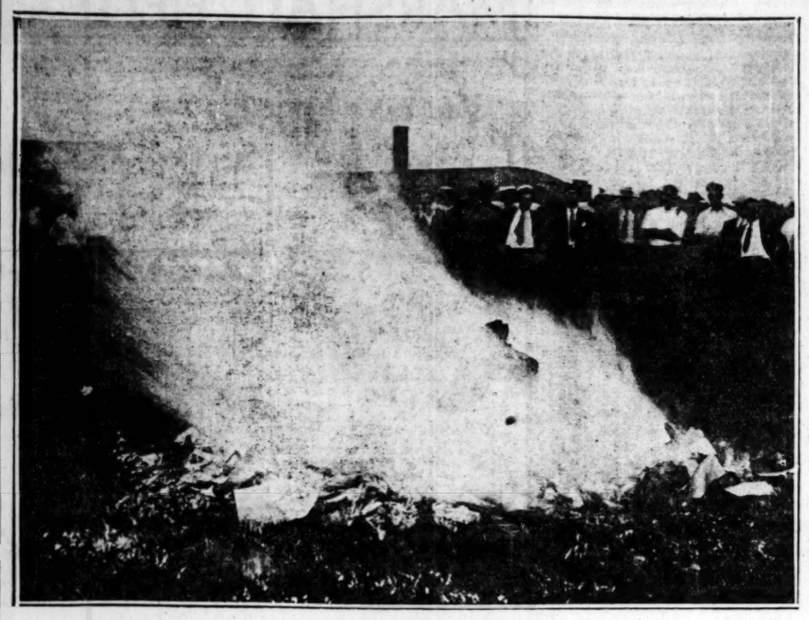
French Like the Act.

On the other hand the French, who nearly stopped the same show a few weeks ago over an act showing the temptations of a young monk, which they considered sacrilegious, refuse to be shocked by the grotto dance. Most Frenchmen can't understood why Americans make such a fuss over the color line.

Flying Prince Crashes Into Mountain on Nonstop Hop

BUCHAREST, July 10.—(AP)—Prince Jean Ghika of Rumania, who left Bicester, England, Wednesday, attempting a non-stop airplane flight to Istanbul, Turkey, was seriously injured today in a smashup on Mount Gurugeavo.

NEW AIR MAIL BAGS GIVEN FIERY TEST



New type of bag for carrying air mail being tested by intense fire at municipal airport after oil and gasoline had been poured over it. Representatives of banks, express agencies and airplane companies are watching the test.

Officials See Test

A group of officials of Chicago banks, business houses, and express companies gathered last night at the Municipal airport to watch a demonstration of a new fireproof mail bag, which has been developed for use in the air mail service.

A pouch made of asbestos fiber and other fireproof materials and containing a bundle of papers and packages was tossed into a roaring oil fire and left there for 15 minutes. When the fire died the contents were removed and found undamaged.

Lester D. Seymour, vice president of the National Air Transport company, operators of the New York-Chicago-Dallas mail line, stated that the cargo pouch has been developed after many tests to find a mail container which would withstand the burning of an airplane without damaging the mail. He said that bags of this type will be used in the air mail service.

VALPARAISO HAS FIRE.

Valparaiso, Ind., July 10.—[Special.]—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Allied Music shop here today, entailing a loss of $10,000.

GROCER IS ROBBED OF CASH.

Paul Fine, owner of a grocery at 131 East Garfield boulevard, was robbed of $64 by two armed Negroes who entered his store last night.

BOY FALLS OVER MOUNTAIN LEDGE; BODY RECOVERED

Zion National Park, Utah, July 10.—(AP)—The body of Eugene Cafferata, 19 year old St. Louis boy, missing in the park since Tuesday afternoon, was found late today in a crevasse 100 feet from the top of Lady mountain.

It is believed Cafferata reached the top of the peak about 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night after a hike alone from the lodge in the afternoon. The location of the body indicated he had lost the trail.

CHIEF OF LAMAR BANK BANDITS PAYS WITH LIFE

Canon City, Colo., July 10.—(AP)—A few minutes after Ralph Fleagle, white haired leader of the Lamar bank bandit gang, had made a last assertion that the state had broken its promise to spare him his life, he was hanged at the state penitentiary.

The trap was sprung at 9:03 p. m., in the presence of official witnesses for the state. The outlaw was declared dead 13½ minutes later.

Until the time the black cap was adjusted over his head and the noose tightened around his neck the desperado maintained his nerve. There was no faltering as he walked "the last mile" to the execution chamber.

Fleagle was hanged for his part in the robbery of the First National Bank of Lamar, Colo., in May, 1928, in which four men were killed and $212,000 loot was obtained. Fleagle and three other men raided the bank. Two of these, Howard Royston and George Abshier, now are in the death cell of the prison here, awaiting their executions, which has been set for the week ending July 19. The fourth member of the quartet, Jake Fleagle, Ralph's brother, has not been captured.

The president and vice president of the Lamar bank were shot down, a bank teller was kidnaped and later slain, as was a physician of Dighton, Kas., who was called to dress the wounds of one of the bandits, received in a running fight with Lamar officers. To prevent the doctor from telling of the gang's movement he was murdered after treating the wounded bandit.

The gang leader went to his death without becoming a member of any church.

WIDE-AWAKE COMMUTERS on the 8:31 PICKED the handy WALLET PACK

"Just a moment, please!"

The other morning as the 8:31 pulled into the huge Northwestern station at just 8:31, our pretty Wings girls stopped bright-eyed, fast-stepping commuters and asked them to vote on the two smart, new Wings packs.

"The handy Wallet or the slim Twin Tens?" they asked.

About three out of five (180 to 115) preferred the sturdy Wallet pack.

Said W. T. Cooley, perennial Wheaton commuter, "That Wallet pack is as good as a real cigarette case. It certainly keeps cigarettes as they should be—firm and straight." "But," countered C. G. Turnell, "Give me the Twin Tens. You can slip them into your vest pocket. Neat and trim."

"I never did like to have my smokes mangled and mashed," asserted Gail Murphy, traveler from far away Buenos Aires. "I'm tickled to death to get the Wallet pack. It keeps my smokes in perfect shape."

So it went. One liked the Wallet. Another the Twin Tens. But there was never a smoker who didn't like an Air-Cooled smoke, pack them how we will. The score: Wallet—180. Twin Tens—115. Or Wings—295.

PINCHOT ACTS TO MEET ADVERSE COURT DECISION

If Necessary Will Run on Independent Ticket.

Milford, Pa., July 10.—(AP)—Gifford Pinchot, whose nomination as the Republican candidate for governor in the fall election has been attacked by his principal opponent in the May primary, says he does not intend to be caught napping if a court decision keeps him off the Republican ticket.

The former governor announced today that the present situation with regard to the nomination makes it necessary for him to prepare to run on an independent ticket. To that end, he said, at the proper moment he and his friends would preempt a ticket, state wide and in every congressional, senatorial and legislative district. A place on the ticket, he added, would be offered to every candidate nominated by the Republican party in the primary.

In his statement Pinchot said that "the attempt of certain public utilities and gang politicians under the leadership of Atterbury to steal the governorship is too raw to be tolerated." It is a "scandalous effort," Pinchot said, to disfranchise the Republicans who voted for the winning candidates in the primary.

Situation Unprecedented.

Atterbury, mentioned in the statement, is W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad and Republican national committeeman from Pennsylvania.

The present unprecedented situation in the Republican party in Pennsylvania was brought about by Francis Shunk Brown, Pinchot's principal opponent, challenging the legality of the ballots used in Luzerne county, the third most populous county in the state. The Luzerne County court, by majority action, permitted the ballots used in the county to be perforated with a set of figures on the margin such as are used in canceling bank checks. This was done to detect counterfeit ballots that might be stuffed into boxes in the interest of some candidate in the county.

The Brown supporters contended the perforation of the ballots constituted mutilation. Under the election laws mutilated ballots are invalid.

Ruling Could Count Him Off.

The Luzerne County court declared the ballots legal and the Brown supporters have taken an appeal to the state Supreme court. Pinchot carried Luzerne county by 26,000 and carried the entire state by 20,000 plurality. If the Supreme court should decide the ballots illegal the Luzerne vote would be thrown out and Brown would be in the lead for the Republican nomination.

The Supreme court has fixed Sept. 29 for hearing arguments in the Luzerne case. Fears were expressed that the court might act too late for an effective campaign for governor.

Pinchot's announcement that he would preempt a party title "at the proper moment" was taken to mean that he would not wait for a court decision on the Luzerne county ballots.

JOHN HUNTER FLIES TO SPARTA AND BRINGS BACK SECRET BRIDE

John Hunter, who, with his brother, Kenneth, recently established a 553 hour record for refueling endurance flying, flew to Sparta, Ill., Wednesday night and flew back here yesterday morning with a bride no one had known about before.

When he landed in Chicago he announced that he had been married on May 7, 1929. Mrs. Hunter is the former Laura McCarey, daughter of Olney McCarey, Sparta miner. She has been teaching school near Modoc, Ill. At the Hotel Sherman she said she had known the flyer 14 years.

John and Kenneth Hunter and their brothers, Walter and Albert, were entertained at a luncheon given yesterday at the Sherman by the Chicago Association of Commerce.

Two Convicted of Election Conspiracy in Gary Primary

Gary's election conspiracy trial at Crown Point, Ind., ended in a verdict of guilty against Joseph Carlson and Owen O'Malia last night. Judge Martin set Aug. 1 for sentencing the two men and Milton H. Marquardt and Charles Parker who previously had pleaded guilty. The charge involved a conspiracy to transport illegal voters here from South Chicago last primary day, May 6.

TRUCK KILLS WOMAN ON HER OWN DOORSTEP

Passerby Also Hurt in Strange Accident.

A milk truck, driven by Martin Jensek, 19 years old, 1513 West 19th street, lurched across the sidewalk and killed Mrs. Anna Hrastinski, 45 years old, late last night as she was sitting on the front steps of her home at 965 West 18th street. Her 17 year old daughter, sitting beside her, leaped out of the path of the truck just in time.

Jensek's story was that he swerved to avoid hitting John Tristupa, 40 years old, 913 West 19th street, who stepped off the walk directly in front of the truck, he said. The right fender of the truck grazed Tristupa, who suffered bruises and possibly internal injuries. He was taken to the People's hospital. Jensek was held.

Mrs. Hrastinski's death and six others increased the Cook county motor toll for the year to 501. The other victims:

Edward Urbanik, 46 years old, 3651 South Marshfield avenue. Died at the county hospital from injuries received on Monday when struck by a hit and run driver at Ashland avenue and 14th street.

Charles Peterson, 503 North State street. Died at Columbus hospital after being struck by an auto last Tuesday at Lake Shore drive and Fullerton parkway.

Mrs. Anna Gross, 56 years old, 4415 Cortez street. Died at St. Anne's hospital from injuries received when struck July 5 by an auto at Chicago avenue and Kostner street. James Pesano, 1215 West Grand avenue, the driver, is being held.

Joseph Jordan, 34 years old, 7032 Drexel avenue. Died at the St. Bernard hospital of injuries received Tuesday in an automobile accident at Newton Town, Ind.

Mrs. Ellen Esdela, 60 years old, 6305 North Oakley avenue. Died at the Washington hospital after being struck by a car driven by Rudolph Rek, 5073 South Ashland avenue.

Peter Sheldon, 37 years old, 6317 South Artesian avenue. Died from injuries received July 4 when run down by a hit and run driver at Adams and Halsted streets.

The body of Miss Patricia Hoffman, 3948 Joliet avenue, Lyons, who was burned to death with two others in an auto accident near Schneider, Ind., early yesterday, was returned to her home last night. Miss Hoffman was the daughter of Martin Hoffman, one of the former owners of the Hoffman Brothers brewery.

Mrs. Emma Gourdeaun, 40 years old, 127 Eugenie street, was instantly killed and three others were hurt, one perhaps fatally, when the car in which they were riding north on Waukegan road left the pavement west of Lake Forest in Lake county last night, crashed through a fence and overturned. The driver, John Sangor, 40 years old, suffered internal injuries.

Motor Club Warns Members.

Charles M. Hayes, president of the Chicago Motor club, last night declared that if there is any laxity on the part of club members to appear in court on traffic violations, officials of the club will take immediate steps to see that the members obey the law. Earlier in the day Municipal Judge Padden in Town Hall court criticized the auto clubs for failing to insist that their members stand trial.

"I am heartily in sympathy with Judge Padden," Mr. Hayes said. "We do not approve of members using their influence to evade court action. We shall insist that all members stand trial when called."

HANGS SELF TO DOOR KNOB.

Michael Hajek, 65 years old, 1801 South Sixty-first court, Cicero, hanged himself to a doorknob in his home last night.

U. S. WATERWAY LOAN IS FROWNED ON BY GOVERNOR

Parley to Consider Legal Aspects of Request.

Gov. Emmerson took the view yesterday that the state is "not in the banking business" relative to the request of the war department for a loan of $2,000,000 to the federal government to start its work of finishing the Illinois waterway.

A conference is to be held Monday at Springfield between the governor, Attorney General Carlstrom and officials of the Mississippi Valley association to discuss the legal aspects. Word yesterday was that Mr. Carlstrom, who is on a fishing trip, informally takes the position that the constitution grants no power to the state to lend money. A question has risen as to whether the state treasurer and auditor would recognize the loan, if the state administration sought to grant it.

Who Is Responsible.

Meanwhile waterway experts were trying to determine who was responsible for the slip up at Washington. Congress appropriated $7,500,000 to complete the waterway, on which Illinois and the sanitary district have already spent $90,000,000, but the federal funds are not available for this season. The state which is spending $20,000,000 of its own money on the project, has kept some $3,000,000 to build the 12 bridges required, and the government suggests it be lent $2,000,000 out of this fund, until congress provides the federal money to avoid delaying the construction.

"I am anxious to do everything in my power to speed the completion of the waterway," says Gov. Emmerson, "but we are now confronted with the legal question of whether the state has any right to lend money under the constitution, which gives no such sanction."

Charges Gang Stole Ballots.

In the Kirk-Joyce contest over the Republican nomination for state senator in the 29th district, a gang was declared yesterday to have broken into the polling place of the 40th precinct of the 42d ward and carried off a bundle of Republican ballots. Kirk watchers told Circuit Judge Taylor that before the ballots were taken away, Wallace F. Kirk was leading in the precinct. But when the ballots were returned an hour later Senator John T. Joyce was found to have won the precinct.

Joyce's majority of 271 in the district has been cut about 100 in the recount, and Kirk is now centering on alleged illegal acts in the primaries.

In tht 31st district, the recount is nearing an end with State Representative Roy Juul among the victors. With nearly all the 233 precincts recounted Juul is 440 ahead of John G. Glaser, Jr., who beat him on the original returns by 119. The other Republican nomination for representative in the district went to James J. McVicker.

TWO DETROIT RECALL FACTIONS PREPARE FOR A BITTER FIGHT

Detroit, Mich., July 10.—[Special.] Two opposing political organizations were working rapidly today, one for the purpose of ousting from office Mayor Charles Bowles, the second formed to keep him in his present job. Both were preparing for a bitter battle which will end at the polls July 22, when the recall election will be held.

Robert Oakman, former Bowles supporter, went on the radio today with a bitter denunciation of the present chief executive.

Foremen of city employés were called into session today and instructed to have stickers, stating "vote no July 22," pasted on employés' cars. A "no" vote would retain the mayor in office.

GANG HOLDS UP BUILDING-LOAN FOR $2,600 LOOT

Four men with their faces masked by handkerchiefs last night obtained $800 in cash and $1,800 in checks from the safe of the Brighton Park Building and Loan company, 4812 South Crawford avenue.

They entered the place soon after midnight, following a meeting of the company's officials. Frank Wegzyn, real estate dealer and treasurer of the company, who lives in the rear of the office, had opened the back door to see that the garage was locked for the night. The robbers overpowered him and forced him to lie on the floor. They used the same tactics on Dr. Marjan Swiont, who lives upstairs, but was visiting with Wegzyn.

Then, after getting the combination from Wegzyn, the bandits opened the safe and looted it. They drove away in a sedan.

58 NEGRO WAR MOTHERS TO HAVE SHIP TO SELVES

U. S. Officially Denies Any Discrimination.

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—A reception for fifty-eight Negro Gold Star Mothers who are leaving for France on Saturday aboard the United States liner American Merchant, a specially chartered passenger-freight ship, to visit the graves of their sons who died in the war, will be held at the city hall at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Maj. William F. Deegan, tenement house commissioner, announced yesterday.

An official protest against the segregation of Negro Gold Star Mothers was made to the war department on May 30 last by the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and it was reported that of 430 Negro mothers who had planned to make the pilgrimage all but 58 had withdrawn because of alleged discrimination against their race. Maj. Deegan declared that, so far as the city is concerned Negro Gold Star Mothers will receive the same treatment as white.

Protest Made to Hoover.

Walter White, acting secretary of the Association for the Advancement of Colored People, declared there may be further cancellations among the Negro mothers and widows before they sail. He charged that they were being sent to boarding houses while the white pilgrims went to the best hotels and said it was unfair that Negro women who lost their children in the war should not receive the same treatment as white.

Special Ship Chartered.

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—Refusal of leading steamship companies to transport colored gold star mothers to the graves of their soldier dead in France has necessitated the chartering of a special ship by the war department, it was disclosed today. As a result the first group of fifty-eight colored mothers and widows which will go to Europe will leave Saturday board the American Merchant, a combined passenger and merchant ship.

In making this announcement war department officials denied charges that colored mothers and widows were being discriminated against. Officials defended the adopted policy of segregating the colored and white groups of gold star mothers as one which "would best secure the contentment and comfort of the pilgrims themselves."

Protest to President.

The controversy came to light when a report was published that of the 450 colored gold star mothers a number had protested to the President, asserting they had been assigned to cheaper boats than those used by the white gold star mothers. In reply the war department issued a formal statement saying that the assignment of the colored women to special boats was made necessary because six steamship lines had declined "to accommodate the colored groups."

It was later disclosed that the United States Lines, which owns the American Merchant, had offered to accommodate the colored mothers and widows in a segregated portion of one of its vessel. This offer the war department rejected.

"In authorizing the pilgrimage, congress was actuated primarily by the desire to give to each mother and widow the privilege of standing beside the grave of her loved one," the war department stated in its announcement.

"After thorough study the conclusion was reached that the formation of white and colored groups of mothers and widows would best assure to the contentment and comfort of the pilgrims themselves. No discrimination as between the various groups is contemplated. All groups will receive like accommodations at hotels and on steamships, and the representatives of the war department will at all times be as solicitous of the welfare of the colored mothers and widows as they will be of the welfare of those of the white race."

Hoover's Eleven Year Old Biographer Pays Him Visit

Washington, D. C., July 10.—(AP)—President Hoover today received an autographed copy of his latest biography from the author, printer and publisher. William J. Marsh Jr., aged 11, of New Milford, Conn., and his 10 year old brother and helper, Charles, called upon Mr. Hoover and were greeted warmly as they gave to him the little volume which represents six months of labor by them upon an old printing press bought for 50 cents.

King of England's Son Rides as Jockey; Loses

SALISBURY, England, July 10.—(AP)—The duke of Gloucester, King George's third son, appeared as a jockey on the race course here today, but had no success. In a race for members for the Welter plate, jockies to be amateur, the duke rode W. Murray's Kilkenny, but failed to get in the first three.

MRS. W. A. NITZE JOINS PLEA FOR DRY LAW CHANGE

Mrs. William A. Nitze, wife of the head of the department of Romance languages and literatures at the University of Chicago and hitherto a supporter of prohibition, yesterday joined the ranks of the wets and became a member of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform. She was immediately appointed a member of the organization's executive committee.

"In the past I was a stanch believer in prohibition," Mrs. Nitze said. "I had believed the experiment worthy of a test. We have had the test, and I have slowly come to the opinion that it is a great failure.

"I believe that prohibition has created a general disrespect for law. The legislation has been proven to be impossible of success in a democracy. While I still am convinced that temperance is a noble idea, I do not think that it can be achieved through legislation of the nature of the 18th amendment and the Volstead act."

Girl Model for New U. S. 25 Cent Piece Will Wed

New York, July 10.—(AP)—The girl whose face is stamped on the new United States 25 cent piece will be married next Sunday. She is Miss Doris Boscher of Whitestone, N. Y. She was chosen as the model for the coin because she "typified the highest type of American womanhood." Her fiancé is Dr. H. William Baum, a physio-therapist here.

500 MINERS FLEE BLAZE IN SHAFT; $1,000,000 LOSS

Lead, S. D., July 10.—(AP)—Between 500 and 600 men escaped to safety tonight when fire started in the Ellison hoist of the Homestake Mining company here. It was estimated the loss to the hoist would be about $1,000,000.

The blaze was believed to have started from hot bearings in the machinery. The Ellison was one of the largest steam hoists in the country.

MIAMI'S SAFETY CHIEF TESTIFIES AT CAPONE TRIAL

Jury Hears Evidence in Perjury Case.

Miami, Fla., July 10.—[Special.]—Declaring Al Capone "the greatest menace Miami has ever faced," S. D. McCreary, director of public safety of Miami, reiterated his belief that the gangster chief should be forced to leave the city.

This statement was made in the course of an exhausting cross-examination at Capone's trial for perjury, during which McCreary refuted all attempts of Capone's counsel to show that he has personal malice against Capone.

Most of the afternoon session was devoted to bitter attacks on the safety chief by J. Fritz Gordon, Capone attorney who was chased and subjected to search when he appeared at the city jail the day of Capone's arrest. McCreary testified that Gordon had been searched before being permitted to visit Capone because he thought that Gordon was carrying a gun.

Denies Capone Testimony.

Testimony of McCreary tended to show that Capone had not asked for the use of a telephone to call his family, as Capone charges. Sections of Capone's testimony telling of how McCreary had ordered him to be confined without food or water, threatening to arrest other members of his family and threatening to throw Capone valuables in a toilet were read to the jury by George McCaskill, county solicitor. This testimony was given by Capone at the time of the trial of McCreary on charges of false arrest that were sworn to by Capone. Before this trial was finally closed the state swore out warrants charging Capone with perjury on the strength of this testimony. Later Capone's attorneys were able to get him placed back on the stand and he changed parts of the testimony and declared that he would not swear to the truth of the remainder.

First Jury Trial.

This is the first of Capone's trials to be heard by jury. The jury has only one member from the city of Miami, the remainder coming from small towns around Miami. The jury was obtained quickly from a small number of talesmen.

Capone's sister was present in the courtroom during today's sessions.

There are four counts of perjury charged against Capone, and he will receive a jury trial on each of the counts.

Chicago Couple Swindled Out of $27,000 Savings

Cincinnati, O., July 10.—[Special.]—Dreams of a fortune made on the stock market were blasted for a Chicago couple today, when they told Emmet D. Kirgan, chief of detectives, the story of their experiences with two swindlers and their loss of life savings of $24,000 and $3,000 borrowed from friends.

The victims are Peter F. Dunphy, 42 years old, who has been a street car conductor for 18 years, 6251 North Francisco avenue, and his wife, Mrs. Mary Dunphy.

Instead of splitting up $100,000 they believed they had made on a stock market deal, as they planned to do when they arrived at the Gibson hotel Wednesday night, the couple were beginning to realize they had lost their savings.

Offered to Buy Their Home.

A man who gave his name as J. C. Lindsey of 122 West 69th street, New York, came to their home in Chicago recently and offered to purchase it. He said he was acting as representative of "H. C. Doherty of New York," and gave them a check for $10,000 drawn on a New York bank "to hold as a proof of good faith."

A few days later, the couple said, Lindsey returned and took them to St. Louis at his expense to close the deal. Lindsey took them to one of the largest and best hotels in St. Louis.

While the three were in a room together, Dunphy found a pocketbook on the floor. Opening it up, the name, "Charles L. King, Rye, N. Y.," was found inside with what appeared to be $150,000 worth of certificates on an insurance concern.

Get "Tip" as Reward.

They learned Mr. King occupied a room on the next floor.

When they went to his room and returned his pocketbook "King," to show his gratitude, let them in on a good thing on the stock market. After the four, trading as a pool, had supposedly won $200,000 King agreed to turn over $100,000 to them if they could give some security that they were "responsible persons."

With the dream of a fortune in sight the couple returned to Chicago and sold $24,000 worth of Peoples Gas stock and borrowed $3,000 from friends. They returned to St. Louis and turned over the money. The next day Lindsey made an engagement to meet them in Cincinnati and divide the profits. They have not seen either since.

2 MEN ARRESTED IN MISSING GIRL CASE IN VIRGINIA

Third Suspect Is Sought as Her Companion.

Richmond, Va., July 10.—[Special.]—With two men arrested and a warrant sworn out for the third, Henrico county officials late today joined with the family and Burns detectives in a nation-wide hunt for Miss Mary Frances McClenny, pretty 20 year old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. C. McClenny of 23 Rosslyn road, Hampton Gardens, who mysteriously disappeared from her home on July 1.

Those arrested by the Henrico officials late today were N. H. Dickinson, 35, and Johnnie Ledbetter, 20. Both were charged with being "accessories to the crime" in connection with the case. The warrants were sworn out by Dr. D. C. McClenny, father of the missing girl, who is socially prominent here.

Charged with "Secreting."

A third warrant was issued late today for the arrest of Harry Dickinson, 26, alleged companion of Miss McClenny. He is charged by the father of the girl with "secreting."

Ledbetter is proprietor of the filling station at which Miss McClenny frequently bought gasoline for her automobile.

Dickinson was an employé of Ledbetter and police say it was Ledbetter's car in which Dickinson and Miss McClenny were seen to leave Richmond together on the evening of July 1. Police were unable to locate the Ledbetter car for several days and when they found it it was some distance from Richmond, having been abandoned by Dickinson and Miss McClenny, if police are correct in their assumption that the two are together. Dickinson left his place of employment the same day Miss McClenny disappeared and has not been seen since. A man and girl answering the missing pair's descriptions are said to have been seen at several points in Virginia within the last week.

Police are inclined to believe Miss McClenny left Richmond with Dickinson of her own accord although members of the girl's family are of the belief that she was kidnapped. Miss Anne Ragland, a friend of the missing girl, told police Miss McClenny had been friendly with Dickinson for some time. Dr. McClenny had forbidden his daughter seeing Dickinson and after her disappearance swore out a warrant for her charging her with the theft of a suitcase as the only means of bringing about her detention if she is located, as she is of age and police told Dr. McClenny they could not hold his daughter if her object was marriage.

CRIME RUNNING WILD IN INDIANA, OGDEN CHARGES

Cites Corruption in One Community.

Bloomington, Ind., July 10.—[Special.]—The criminal was described as running wild in Indiana as a result of lax law enforcement in an address by Attorney General James M. Ogden before the annual meeting of the Indiana Bar association here today. He is president of the organization.

In one city, he said, the police chief attends liquor parties, the postmaster gives them and has the mayor as his guest, and the mayor's brother-in-law is a bootlegger. The sheriff of the county, Ogden charged, together with the former prosecuting attorney, controls the slot machine business.

Violators Unmolested.

"Lest there may become misunderstanding, it should be stated that this city, which will not be divulged to you, is not in Marion county nor is it in Lake or Vigo county," Attorney General Ogden said.

An investigator for the attorney general's office found, the speaker said, that in that city gambling, bootlegging, baseball pool selling and other law violations are going on "without apparent concern of any nature by any of the city or county officials." Even if an occasional arrest is made, a small fine or a suspended sentence is usually given by the court, he continued.

Fear Federal Officers.

"The federal officers are the only ones whom any of the law violators fear, and at least one of these federal officers is weak and unconcerned. The federal officers bother nothing except the liquor law violators, and as soon as they hit the city, warning goes out to the bootleggers by an organized system. The police seem to bother none except those guilty of traffic law violations.

"The chief of police attends liquor parties and is a heavy drinker. It appears that a lot of protection money is changing hands, as no such conditions could prevail unless this was the case; the postmaster has large booze parties at his home that are attended by the mayor; the sheriff permits slot machines to be operated at filling stations and barbecues all over the county and is making no effort whatever to stop their operations. He, together with a former prosecuting attorney and another man, have the slot machine business under their control, and there is no interference from any other source.

Mayor's Kin a Bootlegger.

"A brother-in-law of the mayor has a bootleg place. Many who run the various resorts have relatives who are on the police force, or are employed at the courthouse or at the city hall.

"The prosecuting attorney is very weak on law enforcement, as he does not go out of his way to force the cases to a head that come to his attention, but is inclined to let them drift along. The law violators have a tip off system by using a former sheriff and new court bailiff. He apparently keeps the law violators informed as to any raids or any proceedings."

Urges Single Enforcement Head.

Ogden advocated unification of all law enforcement agencies under a single directing head, an efficient state police and adoption of the model code of criminal procedure to stamp out crime.

"Life and property," he said, "are insecure, banks are robbed, filling stations are held up, pay rolls are stolen, murders occur, racketeers are preying on the people and gangs are operating both in our cities and in the country."

$225,000 TO MEND BREAKWATER IN PARK IS VOTED

The Lincoln park board yesterday voted an expenditure of $225,000 for the purchase of 55,000 tons of stone to be used in rebuilding the breakwater along the outer drive, which was broken down by storms. The damage by storms has amounted to $1,000,000, the board was informed.

The board ordered that the dirt road connecting Sheridan road with the new field house, situated between Diversey parkway and Montrose avenue, be paved, at a cost of $74,000. The tennis courts and four baseball fields will be opened within a few days in the new addition to the park. The board voted to exclude small fast passenger boats from Belmont harbor.

THE NEW LINCOLN PARK PLAN.

The Lincoln park board, in coöperation with the Chicago Plan commission, has worked out a scheme for the improvement of the lake front between the river and Fullerton parkway. The plan is proposed as a solution of two problems which are now pressing.

The bridge at the mouth of the river is now under construction. It will be completed before many months have passed. If no changes are made north of the river the wide roadway leading from the south side will connect with a narrow one at Navy pier. Traffic will be congested by the narrow roadway between the pier and Oak street, and the congestion will be made the more severe by the two bends in the Lake Shore drive as it skirts the Oak street beach. The present double drive between Oak street and North avenue is already badly congested in the rush hours. The need for widening the bottle neck between the pier and the park is clear.

Another problem is presented by the Oak street beach. It is in a pocket which would make for insanitary conditions if the beach were used by only a few bathers. The fact, of course, is that the beach is thronged day after day during the warm months and health authorities are agreed that the beach at present is insanitary and to that extent a menace. The refusal of property owners in the vicinity to permit the erection of bath houses and toilet facilities has made matters worse.

The park engineers' proposals to meet both these problems were presented in detail in Sunday's TRIBUNE. The Lake Shore drive is to be doubled in width from the pier to Oak street. Land will be reclaimed north of Oak street in such a way as to create a reflecting pool across from the Lake Shore drive between Oak street and North avenue, replacing the present beach. The outer drive will be carried northward on a narrow island which will mark the eastern boundary of the pool. Eastward of the pool will be a yacht harbor made by extending two tongues of land well out into the lake and these peninsulas will add many acres of recreational space to the park. The beach at Oak street will be abandoned and in place of it a new beach will be created stretching for more than a mile in a semicircle between North avenue and Fullerton parkway. Three bath houses will be built at convenient places, and the new beach will be kept sanitary by the southward current in the lake.

The plan has much to commend it. We wonder, however, if the engineers have contrived to make as much land as is certain to be needed for park purposes. A principal cost in reclaiming land from the lake is the expense of building the wall behind which the sand is dumped. A relatively small increase in the length of the retaining wall can result in the reclaiming of more than a proportionate increase in park land. For example, to reclaim an area of 100 square yards, three retaining walls may be built, each 100 yards long. If the walls are made twice as long, 400 square yards will be obtained. The land area increases as the square of the increase in the wall.

We should like to see the possibilities of making more land explored. Otherwise we anticipate that the plan will meet with little opposition, especially if the park administration assures the public that transportation will be provided to the new beach. The present Oak street beach has only one thing to commend it: it is relatively accessible.

THE RECALL.

The effort to recall the mayor of one of the largest cities of the country gives occasion for consideration of this device. The chief argument in favor of the recall is that it enables the people to remove an unfaithful servant promptly without waiting for him to finish his term of office. This has obvious advantages, as the citizens of Chicago have reason to know at this time. When a grossly incompetent or dishonest official is in a place of power it seems only common sense to get rid of him as soon as his incompetence or lack of integrity has been clearly demonstrated. Why let him go on at the cost of the public? Also, it is argued, the possibility of prompt removal would act as a check upon willful misgovernment, whereas a particularly ruthless official, if he is assured of power for a fixed period, might continue his misdeeds in spite of public protest. Such a situation is, of course, costly and demoralizing.

On the other hand, these arguments assume that the public cannot be wrong and that the recall will not be exercised except in clear cases of unfaithfulness or official error. The assumption is not a safe one. There have been and will be in the future many instances when officials are right and public opinion is mistaken.

When a question of public policy or expediency is involved, public opinion may be misled by demagogues and both facts and principles perverted by argument. In such instances the official, if he has courage and determination to protect the public's real interest, may be able to accomplish a great public service by withstanding public clamor and hasty impulse. If he is subject to immediate recall he may be prevented from doing this service, while the public may be hurried into premature condemnation and do injury not only to a faithful public servant but to itself.

The statesmen who devised the American system of government had had experience of the violence and error of popular prejudice and passion, and they tried to establish safeguards against hasty and excited judgment. There were then, have always been, and always will be not only men who for self-interest are willing to inflame and pervert public opinion, but also men of good intention who are impatient of restraint and disposed to hasty judgment. They have always favored removing restraints upon public action. They call this democracy, but a reasonable self-distrust is as profitable for a democracy as for the individual who composes it. When given time and freedom to learn the facts and to discuss and deliberate, the American people can be depended upon to decide justly and wisely. But time and freedom of discussion should be assured to us.

We are not passing on the merits of the Detroit situation but upon the general merit of the recall as an instrument of public action. The question cannot be answered on the basis of one case or of a few cases. Whether it will work in most instances for the public good can only be learned from a judicious consideration of political experience.

THE HUSTON DILEMMA.

Apparently the management of the Republican party cannot make up its mind whether it will be more unhappy with Mr. Huston of Tennessee as its national chairman or without him. There are points to be argued on both sides. If Mr. Huston would find the pressure of personal affairs so great as to require his undivided attention and to dictate his separation from the chairmanship all would be well and the committee would give him a large going away dinner with many testimonies of its esteem and affection.

Mr. Huston has personal affairs, but they got into the chairmanship instead of taking him out of it, which is a large part of the trouble. The responsible persons in the party apprehend that he will not do the congressional tickets any good if he remains and the Democrats do the talking, but they are not sure that it will do the tickets any good if they ask him to step out and then he does the talking.

Mr. Huston may feel that the situation is not ideal even for him, but apparently he is conscious of some strong elements in his favor, and possibly as he looks the party management over he cannot reconcile himself to the idea of departing because his coöperation would be inconsistent with its higher purposes. That easily might be too much for any man professing any real consideration for himself.

CHAMPAIGN AND URBANA SPEAK UP.

Sixty of the influential men of the Champaign-Urbana region have allied themselves in an effort to obtain the widening of the road from Chicago to Champaign. Route 49 is now 40 feet wide between Kankakee and Chicago, but route 25 from Kankakee southward for 79 miles to Champaign is only 20 feet wide, inadequate for present needs and, of course, for future requirements.

No argument is needed to convince any one who has gone by motor to one of the football games that the existing road is too narrow below Kankakee. The normal week-day traffic, passenger and freight, is all that can be handled at present without congestion and delay. The week-end motorists are inconvenienced and the lives of the football crowds are needlessly endangered. The remedy lies in widening the road to meet the demands of traffic.

The officials of the Chicago Motor club who attended the meeting properly called attention to the situation which will confront the legislature at the end of the present biennium. The question of the state's road program will be up again. The bond issue roads will have been completed, for the most part, and the widening of many of the radial highways in the immediate vicinity of Chicago has been authorized. The legislature will be called upon to decide what work will be undertaken with future gasoline tax payments.

This question is one upon which northern Illinois may speak in definite terms and in unison. The widening of the roads within 35 miles of the city is certain to result, as, indeed, it has in a measure already, in congestion beyond that zone. The northern counties pay two-thirds of the state's road bills and to date have received only a little more than a third of the roads, though these highways are used more intensively both for pleasure and business than those of any other section of the state. By coöperative action the representatives of this neglected section of the state can obtain their due. It is encouraging to find the leading citizens of Champaign and Urbana aware of their own interest in the matter and eager to coöperate in the movement for a fair division of the state's funds. No doubt the sentiment in the vicinity of the state university is typical of the thought in other communities within the 125 mile zone.

AN ILLINOIS MUSEUM.

[Daily Pantagraph, Bloomington.]

Resignation of Emmanuel Rhoads as custodian of the museum of the McLean County Historical society calls attention again to an institution which is of special importance and interest in this, the centennial year of McLean county.

It is the testimony of travelers in many parts of the country that hardly any other county in the United States, and indeed very few states, have a museum as complete and important as the one here. The McLean County Historical society was organized in 1892 by a small group of men and women who were then gathering and preserving the facts and implements of the pioneer period of the county before the actors in that era should have all passed from the stage. It was well that the work was then undertaken, for in the nearly forty years since the society was formed, practically every person in the generation of first settlers has passed on. In the published records of the county historical society are preserved incidents and experiences of the pioneers which it would be wholly impossible now to collect.

The museum, like the written records of the society, forms an invaluable link between the early and the later periods. A collection of thousands of pictures, utensils, implements of war and peace used by the generations of earlier settlers are now in the rooms of the McBarnes building. Owing to the cramped space they occupy, it has been impossible to properly arrange and classify them. Nevertheless, the museum should become a center of interest to all the people of the county in the weeks of this summer when the centennial anniversary is being prepared and put on.

HEAT STROKE OF HORSES.

DR. G. P. McNEILL has proved that acidosis is a factor in heat stroke, at least in the disorder in artillery horses. When a horse is overcome with the heat the customary method of treatment is to halt the team in a well shaded, cool place, to remove all harness, and to throw cold water over the animal. If the horse is in a stable the doors should be opened in order to let in the breezes, and if a fan is available it should be turned on. To place a chunk of ice on the head and cloths wet with ice water along the backbone is customary.

Extensive blood examinations convinced McNeill that something should be done in addition. These examinations showed an excess of lactic acid in the body juices. The conclusion was that there was an acidosis in heat stroke. Treatment by injection of a solution of glucose and soda into a vein was given, in addition to the use of ice and cold water locally.

In the case of two artillery horses suffering from heat stroke this mixed treatment was rapidly curative. The horses were fit to work in a short time.

Sunstroke and heatstroke are comparatively rare now in people in this country. However, it is occasionally encountered. The customary treatment consists in putting the subject in a tub of ice water and applying ice to the head to bring the fever down. The baths are repeated until the temperature stays within bounds. This controls one symptom—the extraordinarily high fever. It is possible that men suffering from sunstroke may have acidosis as those horses did, and it may be advisable to meet this symptom. Glucose and soda solution may be given by mouth or it may be used as an injection of one kind or another. Mild cases may need to go no further than to eat some sugar, ice cream, crackers, or cake.

However, not all cases of disturbed balance between acids and alkalis are cases of acidosis and in need of soda. In many the need is for chlorides, and this need is met by giving a weak salt solution, either as a drink or as an injection. Beef teas are really salt solutions plus a moderate amount of flavoring and stimulant.

HOW TO GAIN FLESH.

C. writes: I want to know how I can gain and with what foods and tonics I can gain about 20 pounds.

REPLY.

In fattening up, some other factors are of more importance than diet. Learn from the farmer who pens his hogs to fatten them and the experience of Watertown geese. Sleep long hours and at regular times. Do not worry or fret. Take a nap after lunch and go to bed soon after supper. Eat plenty of cereals, breads, meats, vegetables, fruits, milks, and butter.

A bowl of sugared rice or crackers and milk at bedtime is a fine fattener.

THERE IS NO DANGER.

REPLY.

1. No.
2. No.
3. Follow the rules of cleanliness. No special procedures are necessary.

NOT ALWAYS SERIOUS MATTER.

S. F. writes: Although our city is not in the goiter belt, many of our girls have goiter. I am told this disorder is due to iodin deficiency. What can the health departments do to protect our girls?

REPLY.

Thyroid enlargement in girls is not always a serious matter. As a rule, the thyroid can be expected to return to normal size as maturity is reached.

In some places iodin is added to the drinking water. In other places the health department circulates booklets containing advice as to goiter prevention. It is possible your department does this.

Niles, Mich., July 9.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A certain firm in this country has a proprietary medicine (tablets) which is sold at $3.60 the 100 and $30 the 1,000, while the identical tablets cost in Europe $2.20 a 1,000. Can one here import the European identical tablets and sell them under another name in America, and mention that they are the very same which are sold here for such an enormous price, telling the name of that article here?

If they are not patented, you would be entitled to sell them here, but you must avoid implying that your goods have the same origin as the goods of your rival. ONLY SAPS WORK.

According to the Line's time honored policy of calling your attention every week to at least one informative and highly educational work, we have selected for today's lecture Mr. Courtenay Terrett's ballyhoo for racketeering, Only Saps Work. All us saps should find this tome mighty interesting reading, because it tells how the merry racketeer skins us alive every time we turn around and we don't even know it. Moreover, it is Mr. Terrett's idea that if somebody does tell us, being merely saps, we just chuckle and say: "Hot stuff! Listen, mamma, didja read this piece about them racketeers?"

The author takes the position that in such a world full of saps, and more being born every minute, one can hardly blame thrifty gentlemen with a sense of humor for trimming us. A sap needs trimming, and since he doesn't really mind it, in fact, since he enjoys nothing so much as reading over his toast and Java every morning about where he has been trimmed, everybody ought to be happy.

Mr. Terrett holds that, after all, racketeering is only the answer of a certain class of our population to the mergers and chain stores and so forth of big business. He sturdily maintains that cutting tires and tossing pineapples through a small dealer's window (or threatening to do so) to make him see the true light is no worse than setting down a chain store next door to the small dealer, where cigarets, swimming suits, and canned asparagus are sold at half or one-third the regular price until the small dealer packs his toothbrush and nightie and, gathering his family about him, trudges over the hills to the poorhouse. Not half so bad, if you look at it that way, because the chain store makes him starve or go to the poorhouse, while the racketeer merely collects a moiety of cash which the dealer can immediately charge onto John W. Sap's bill for sugar, cleaning his extra pair of pants, and the chicken for the Sunday dinner.

However, good or bad, we saps can read in this instructive volume that racketeering is now become an established industry and offers a splendid field to college graduates and other young men with brains looking for a career in which there is a plethora of reward with a modicum of effort. In fact, young Mr. Terrett makes racketeering out to be so firmly established that we are rather surprised it didn't ask protection under the new tariff.

Anyway, Only Saps Work is juicy reading for us saps, although it won't save us any money. A sap is always a sap.

GOODNESS GRACIOUS! And now it's hinted all over the place that the secrets in the famous naval pact that can't be given to the senate were funny cracks made by Charley Dawes. Maybe the hidden records go something like this: "Ha, ha!" said the American ambassador, laughing merrily; "it looks like we've lost a couple of battleships at the last meeting. Let's search Ramsay MacDonald the next time he comes in." Or "Ha, ha!" said the American ambassador, laughing merrily; "if the Japs land an army in America we'll put 'em to work washing automobiles until they work out their fines." Well, anyhow, Charley's jokes would be much easier reading than Mr. Stimson's speeches. Let's have 'em.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 11, 1865.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Col. Doster, counsel for Lewis Payne, hanged for the Lincoln assassination, made public Payne's last words on the scaffold. He said: "I do not want to live, even if the President were to spare my life." He also declared that Atzerodt was innocent of any attempt at murder and that at the Herndon house, where Booth, Atzerodt, Harrold, and himself met on the evening of the assassination, he heard Atzerodt say, when ordered by Booth to kill the Vice President, that he would not do it. All the accused who made any statements in regard to the conspiracy agree that no one but Booth knew of the assassination plot until he disclosed it that evening.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Col. J. W. Thompson, late superintendent of Indian affairs in the northwest, arrived here from a tour of the Indian tribes of California and Nevada. He reports that the Indians in California are peaceable, but on the eastern slopes of the Sierra Nevada mountains they have destroyed most of the telegraph lines, and robberies of mail coaches and murders of white travelers are frequent.

NEW YORK.—The military authorities of Washington have decided to deliver the bodies of the executed assassins to their friends for burial. The disinterment will take place immediately.

CHICAGO.—E. L. Hedstrom, formerly of this city, and Miss Anna M. Clameffer of Buffalo, N. Y., were married in that city on July 6 by the Rev. P. D. Marshall.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 11, 1900.

CANTON, O.—A plot to assassinate President McKinley developed tonight. The identity of the conspirators is not known, but it is stated they are Spaniards and Cubans, with headquarters in New York. Several private detectives are guarding the President's house here night and day. No arrests have as yet been made, although New York detectives are working on the case. That the plot is not a mere scare is admitted by close friends of the McKinley family, while in New York. Chairman Odell of the state Republican committee confesses that a conspiracy has been discovered through an unnamed informant and the President warned.

LONDON.—The latest bulletin issued by the Chinese officials at Shanghai is that the Peking legations were safe on July 9. Japan had landed a good part of her 23,000 men, 5,000 horses, 36 heavy mortars and 120 field guns. The marine brigade Germany is sending will consist of 4,500 men. Germany is also sending four more cruisers and Russia is dispatching 30,000 men. Severe fighting continues at Tientsin. It is estimated that fully 75,000 Chinese are opposing the 14,000 foreigners.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary Hay made public the note addressed to the powers, in which the policy of this government is defined. It is made clear that the United States does not propose to grab any Chinese territory and will see to it that none of the European nations or Japan dismembers the empire.

CHICAGO.—The deal for the purchase of control of the Ogden Gas company and the Cosmopolitan Electric franchise by interests friendly to the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company has been called off owing to the failure of the city council to pass over the mayor's veto an ordinance acceptable to the Ogden company.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

CHICAGO.—The "poor bum" killed by Carl Wanderer when he slew his wife was identified as two different persons yesterday. His photograph was identified by the commissary man of John Robinson's shows in Kansas City as John J. Maloney of Pontiac, R. I. A Chicago girl thinks he was her former sweetheart. Meantime, Wanderer was ordered held by a coroner's jury and will be arraigned tomorrow.

THE DUNES IN OTHER DAYS.

Chicago, July 9.—In these days, when it is necessary to go so far afield to enjoy even a moderately successful day's fishing, the editorial in THE TRIBUNE of July 8 warning the state of Wisconsin of the rapid depletion of its lakes and streams was timely and good.

Back in 1885 and 1886 and for a number of years thereafter splendid fishing existed practically at Chicago's back door, but dredge ditches to satisfy the land hogs, indifferent or a total lack of fish and game legislation, dynamite, and the deadly seine have destroyed it forever.

That wonderful country now known as the Dunes was at one time a hunters' and fishermen's paradise, though not widely known perhaps, except to a comparatively few nature lovers and the isolated hunters and trappers who inhabited the region. The Dunes themselves were known simply as the Land Knobs. Along the base of the Knobs there extended a vast marsh, terminating in what was then known as Twenty Mile Prairie. Covered in the summer with a luxuriant growth of blue joint grass, the finest of all marsh hay, in the fall and spring it was visited by hundreds of thousands of wild fowl, which fed almost entirely unmolested on the wild rice with which the country abounded.

Through this vast marsh, following an erratic course, flowed the Little Calumet river, a bright little stream, in the summer months not over twenty or thirty feet wide, or even less, at the deeper places, and broadening out to perhaps fifty feet at the shallow riffles. The deeper parts of the stream were literally alive with fish of all kinds common to the region. Rock bass (we used to call them Blind Charleys), small mouth black or river bass, great mottled cat fish, channel cats, smashing big bluegills, crappies, pickerel, wall-eyed pike (salmon), and last, but not least, the beautifully colored sunfish, fairly fought to grab your hook. And all this at our doorstep.

It was too good to last. As the region gradually became known it began to be visited by hundreds and then thousands. Its easy accessibility, the total lack of any restriction in the way of license or number of fish allowed to be taken in a day, no effort at restocking soon began to tell. The waste was characteristically American. Strings of fish were taken that could not possibly be used by the fisherman, and as the magnificent supply dwindled the balance were seined or "smoked" out until today the stream is as devoid of fish as the Chicago river at Roosevelt road.

The tale of the Little Calumet is typical of practically every lake and stream within reasonable reach, especially in these days, when the automobile makes even the remotest places easily accessible.

OLDTIMER.

THE PROHIBITION LADIES.

Chicago, July 8.—If your society editor in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE considers it necessary to discuss the prohibition question in her columns, why not be fair and give both sides of the question a little consideration instead of so frequently referring to and lauding the efforts of the association of women opposed to prohibition, to whom she refers as being "intelligent, well known and socially prominent"? Why not mention some of the equally prominent and representative women who are in favor of prohibition? This reporter in stressing the large number of patients at Keeley institute evidently overlooks the fact that this increase is brought about by the closing of numberless private homes for alcoholic patients. Before prohibition my husband and myself conducted a chain of such homes in various cities and did a most lucrative business. As yet I have seen no statement as to the plan offered by these women as a substitute for prohibition, but if it is the frequently mentioned state control we know it will be no more effective than local option.

QUESTIONS FROM THE STICKS.

Fremont, Neb., July 4.—In talking about the crime situation out here in the sticks, the question always comes up—viz.: What have the eight hundred plain clothes men been doing in Chicago and what is their occupation?

Also what kind of work has the Chicago police force done? Laying sidewalks? Repairing streets? Sweeping the alleys? Surely they must do something in order that they can draw their pay checks.

INDIA'S REVOLT LEADERS SPURN OFFER OF PEACE

Demand Gandhi's Release from Prison First.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOMBAY, July 10.—Unless Viceroy Lord Irwin grants amnesty to Mahatma Gandhi and 44,337 other imprisoned civil disobedience offenders, the Nationalists will not attend the round table conference in London, nor will they be bound by its decisions, according to many leaders and press comments. This defy is generally interpreted as summing India's reaction to the viceroy's call for peace in yesterday's pronouncement on the Simon report.

On the other hand, eight members of the central legislature who are opposed to Gandhi's campaign, have issued a manifesto accepting the viceroy's pledge, but urged the repeal of repressive measures and the granting of amnesty to prisoners. They also urge the All-India national congress to call off its civil disobedience drive.

Financier Explains Unrest.

Sir Purshotandas Thakurdas, president of the Bank of India and of the Bombay tramway and electric company, today declared the root of the cause of India's discontent was not political, but was based upon the economic condition of the masses, which Gandhi sought to improve. He added that British leaders are now relying upon the support of minorities in their effort to retain London's grip.

This was illustrated at Simla today when Minister Emerson of the council of state stated it is clear that Gandhi cannot be invited to the round table conference, while an unconstitutional movement is in progress. Hence, he said, invitations will be extended to those sections entitled to be heard.

P. J. Murzban, a member of the Bombay legislative council, said there was nothing in the viceroy's declaration, which could possibly satisfy aspirations of Indian Nationalists. Lalji Naranji, prominent Bombay leader, stated that, until repressive ordinances and police lathi rule are abolished India should decline to participate in the London conference. He added that there is obviously not a genuine desire on Great Britain's part to compromise with India.

The Indian press unanimously condemns the viceroy's utterances. British papers have not commented upon it, while British statesmen in Calcutta say that, even at this crisis, the viceroy indulges in language that arouses uneasiness in many quarters.

Ten thousand Nationalists assembled at Bombay tonight without police interference. All of the speakers condemned Viceroy Lord Irwin's utterances.

"Don't Bang the Door."

ALLAHABAD, July 10.—(AP)—Sir Tej Bahadur Sapru, leader of the Liberal moderates, in an interview today expressed the opinion that Viceroy Lord Irwin's address before both houses of the Indian legislature at Simla yesterday marked a distinct stage beyond any reached thus far.

"We should not bang the door on a peaceful solution," he declared, adding that he agreed with the statement issued by party leaders in the legislative assembly, which called upon the government to declare an amnesty and which urged the cessation of civil disobedience.

ROB MANAGER OF OFFICE.

Two armed men yesterday took $200 from R. D. Haverstick, manager of a realty office at 604 East 47th street.

FLAMES RAGE IN OLD GAS TANK; 10 ARE RESCUED

Twenty companies of fire apparatus responded to a general alarm yesterday when flames broke out in an old gas tank that was being dismantled by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company at 24th and Canal streets. The fire raged for more than an hour and the fireboat Graeme Stewart was summoned to guard adjacent warehouses.

Ten men who were at work on the roof of the old tank escaped by sliding down ladders raised by truck No. 4.

Bernard J. Mullaney, a vice president of the gas company, stated that there had been no gas stored in the old tank since 1917. He said there was some combustible tar, oil, and other residues of gas operations which had been set afire by an acetylene torch.

Fire Chief Stephan De May of Detroit and forty members of his brigade watched the fire. The Detroit firemen arrived earlier in the day to play the ball team of the Chicago fire department for the benefit of benevolent funds of the local department.

19 FREIGHT CARS ARE WRECKED AT OLYMPIA FIELDS

Nineteen freight cars and their contents were strewn along the Illinois Central railroad right of way for 200 feet at the Olympia Fields station yesterday as a result of a wreck early in the morning. None of the train crew was injured, but three hobos, two Negroes and a white man, suffered cuts and bruises.

The cause of the accident has not been definitely determined. Apparently an obstruction of some sort caused the cars to leave the track. The freight train, north bound, was going slowly. The nineteen cars in the pileup were in the center of the train. They were loaded with coal, coke, lumber, and telephone poles.

Although the wreck occurred on the main line of the Illinois Central, traffic was not tied up.

KONJOLA

—triumphs, time and time again, after all else tried has failed.

MRS. BLANCHE DUNN
7519 St. Lawrence Ave., Chicago

You can put Konjola, the new and different medicine, to the test knowing that tens of thousands—many of them residents of Chicago—have proved beyond the shadow of a doubt that Konjola is a REAL medicine. Read, now, the grateful words of Mrs. Dunn:

"About ten years ago I had typhoid, and this left my stomach in bad shape. I suffered so much gas and bloating that many a time I had to remove my clothing. I could not eat fruit of any kind. Neuritis attacked my limbs. I tried so many different medicines that I can not remember them all. But now, after taking five bottles of Konjola I do not have any trouble with my stomach, and the neuritis pains are much better."

$1,447.31 SAVED on FUEL BILLS in 5 years by the owner of this apartment

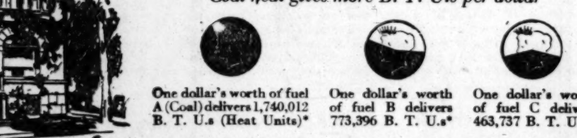
E VERY dwelling is an investment in comfort . . . in security. Just how much that comfort and security costs, depends on the wisdom of those who make the investment. Apartment house owners realize this more fully than most people. That is why you find the great majority of them burning coal.

Take a typical instance. The building, 4627 Lake Park Avenue, has three apartments of eight rooms each. Over a period of five years it has cost the owner $1,595.64 to heat with coal.

Had he, instead of coal, used one of the two other fuels, his heating bills over the same period would have been $3,042.95 and $5,647.50 respectively. Just figure the difference! The owner of this apartment building saved $1,447.31 by using coal instead of fuel B, and $4,051.86 by using coal instead of fuel C.

To enjoy proportional savings in your own case, you must make certain that your coal is accurately graded and that there are two thousand pounds of it in every ton. You can do this by dealing with members of the Chicago Coal Merchants Association. The Association unreservedly guarantees the weight of every delivery from every member. Don't overlook the facts that in addition to this saving, you are getting, in coal, the evenest heat, the safest heat you could buy at any price, and—with the addition of a thermostatic control—automatic heat.

Coal heat gives more B. T. U.s per dollar



One dollar's worth of fuel A (Coal) delivers 1,740,012 B. T. U.s (Heat Units)*

One dollar's worth of fuel B delivers 773,396 B. T. U.s*

One dollar's worth of fuel C delivers 463,737 B. T. U.'s*

*Figures based on average prices of fuels, and on facts given by Julian C. Smallwood, Johns Hopkins University and the United States Government. They include conservative estimates on equipment and operation.

The Chicago Coal Merchants Association presents weather reports every weekday at 12 noon and 7 P. M. over WGN.

The Nine Hundred Block

BY KATHARINE HAVILAND TAYLOR

SYNOPSIS.

In the nine hundred block, with its sordid dwellings, moved gentle, lovely Theresa Ames and her divorced and remarried mother, Mrs. Colt, under the watchful eye of Mrs. Nulman, neighborhood gossip. Theresa makes friends with Katie Warner, who lives upstairs, and R. Jones, a reporter; also Johnny Deane, who left home to make good for the girl to whom he now regrets he is engaged. Billy Treadway, a wealthy beau of Mrs. Colt's girlhood, comes to call on her. She encourages his attentions to Theresa.

INSTALLMENT V.

A DIFFERENT WOMAN.

When Billy Treadway stepped into the street it was raining quite heavily but he did not raise his umbrella—and he usually so careful; he had occasionally a sinus trouble.

For some moments he walked along the uneven pavements against which the shabby houses pushed, without a thought of wet and chill and an October evening. Forty-eight, he was. Pretty old to have it happen. But it had—happened. It had swept him with the force that could have, but that never had, swept him in his youth.

She had seemed—to like him.

At Lambert pharmacy Billy turned in.

"May I use the telephone?" he asked. Mrs. Lambert was very nice about it. "It's right here," she said cheerfully. He followed her back of a counter to telephone for a taxicab. His own car had been washed that morning.

"Have you a good throat pastille?" he questioned, his business done with. "I have been out in this wet—and I dread a tickling——" He put his hand to his throat.

She recommended a throat pastille. Billy agreed that those pastilles were, after all, perhaps the most reliable. He was more expansive with Mrs. Lambert than he would have been usually, emotional springs being hotbeds for all sorts of confidence. He stood back of a beaded window then, looking across an array of soaps [six cakes for twenty-five, today only], waiting, watching for his taxicab.

A hatless man came in. "You go home to supper now, Alice," he directed.

The look that the girl and the man exchanged would have been lost upon Billy Treadway the day before. He felt it now, and warmed to it, smiling as he said goodnight to her.

"Anything I can do for you, sir?"

"No. I came in to use the telephone and for a box of throat lozenges. Now I'm waiting for a taxi."

"Bad weather we've been having."

"Terrible."

Treadway, after that, stood peering into the wet street where the rear lights of motors had begun to prick gloom and to echo on the gleaming pavement, but he saw nothing of the loveliness that peers from a damp, autumn twilight. He saw, instead, a girl looking down a stairs at him, a girl who had asked him to come again.

"The usual," said B. Jones to Maggie.

Across the street and in a restaurant, which for some reason called itself Venetian, young Deane wondered when he would see her again, and at a small table near the swinging door in the same restaurant sat B. Jones. And he, scanning a fly-specked menu, thought of such energy as he had felt walking by him toward the office that day and of the energy that had been taken from him by the pressure of years.

"The usual," said B. Jones to Maggie. He always studied the menu and then he always said, "the usual."

Meantime, and in an apartment of the same nine hundred block, Mrs. Colt said, "We'll have to borrow Katie's can opener, I don't know where ours is," and, speaking, she looked at a can of sardines she had never meant to throw away. . . Lies and truth! Odd and ever present olio making life all it is and isn't.

"I'm so happy," she said next and to her daughter. "It is so good to step back—through old friends! You did like Billy?"

"I think he's darling!" Theresa answered. She knew him to be older than her mother, she saw him—gratefully—as a man who understood Barrington Colt's fine, usually unappreciated qualities. "I hope he'll come often!"

She ended.

The next week, the last in October, brought with it a stretch of breath taking warmth. The summer that would never come again sat up in death and tried to gasp good-by. Billy Treadway, who had had "a really trying sinus attack," kept close to his Chanceford Pike house [and an ice bag] and thought of her. He was glad for the space in which to deliberate. He didn't want to do anything hasty."

Young Deane learned that, in a country avowedly democratic in spirit, royalty rules, every time he sat down to rest—which at first was frequently—as his boss appeared. Deane evolved a sort of sitting-on-his-heels rest which could look [with a need for it] as if he were busy. Truly, necessity the dam of invention.

B. Jones took his notes on Stiegel glass to Miss Ames to have them copied. He had always meant to write an article on Stiegel glass and now he supposed he would have to. He sighed.

Mrs. Detwiler decided to call upon Mrs. Colt "anyway."

Arnold Ames heard that his first wife and daughter were in town; he guessed crowds eagerly—a little fearfully—from the rear seat of an expensive motor. He began to dream of seeing his daughter. His dull wife, at moments, lavished upon him an almost forgotten tenderness which was made pathetic by a new strain. Thus he saw that she too had heard the news of the return and that she was troubled. He was unusually kind to her in his heavy, jaded way. The boy followed a drove of mules which had caught his childish attention and he was lost for a day. They found him in a barnyard with a small chicken in his hand from which he had pressed all life—as fools will—with love. Laura Ames had gone almost crazy. "He's all I have——" she had thought. She decided that, when she could speak of it, dared trust herself to speak of it, she would tell Arnold Ames she would leave him if he gave that woman" or "her daughter, so much as one cent!" Jealousy ravaged her long, equine face. She stared somberly across the table at her husband, who could eat.

Theresa rented a typewriter.

Katie "took up" with the conductor on the Market street car whom she had known long, but casually. He was "a spender." He took her to the electric picture theater and he bought her a hot dog sandwich, and before they parted, at Mrs. Nulman's door, he gracefully imparted the fact that his name was Herman Plonk, thus showing himself to be "on the square."

Young Deane began to run in to the Colt-Ames apartment almost each early evening and somehow—he kept putting off writing Collette. And—each time he considered how much he had written to her—and how—he grew acutely nauseated. He wished he had written his letters to Collette upon the typewriter, without his knowing it, the stationery on which he'd used and that had been, without his knowing it, the stationery on which he'd penned his promises. Life is compounded, some sage once said, of indigestion from gratified hungers and starvation from hungers unanswered.

On Friday night arrived the cold wave that the Herald had been advertising. Young Deane stopped at the Colt-Ames apartment on his way up to bath and change. That Theresa was still typing he knew from the patter of the writer keys. She called, "Come in, Mr. Deane," having learned his name from the writer. He opened the door and seeing her made his heart try to hit a floating rib. She hoped, smiling at him, that he didn't know how his coming in made her shake.

"Stopped to ask whether—you'd care to go to see a film tonight? Norma Talmadge is at the Strand," he began, "I thought—perhaps——"

"O, I love her! I'd love to go, Mr. Deane! I thank you so much!" she answered eagerly.

"Well, then, at about seven?"

"That would be fine."

"Wear something heavy. It's turned cold. How's the typing?" He hadn't meant to stop, but now—he was wandering toward the kitchen table with the amputated legs, which "did very well," and standing by her and looking down at a page headed, "A Journey to the Holy Land as Told by the Letters of Miss Letty Buckley."

"It's really interesting," she said, turning in her chair to look up at him. "I've always wanted to travel," she added, looking again at the heading. He looked at her hair. It looked so soft. He wanted to lay a humble hand on it. . . . He was afraid she was working too hard.

"Aren't you going pretty steadily?" he asked.

Her shoulders ached but she shook her head. Lord, she was different from the women he had known, he reflected, and he had felt that he knew them all.

"You mustn't wear yourself out," he warned.

Palmer "Castle" Will Survive as "Guest House"

Museum Features, Too, Bendix, Owner, Says.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Chicago's show place of the nineties—the Potter Palmer "castle" on Lake Shore drive—again is going to be a guest house. Distinguished visitors to the city once more will be entertained in the picturesque old mansion that sits sedately on an entire block of the Gold Coast. The carpenter's hammer today may be heard squarely in the middle of what was once Chicago's social center and new art treasures and tapestries are replacing the suits of armor busts of ancient romans that once lined the halls of the famous home.

Many stories have been printed concerning the fate of the "castle" since it was purchased by Vincent Bendix, head of the Bendix corporation, in July, 1928. Only a week ago there was a story that an apartment hotel was to rise on its site.

Mr. Bendix, who is here on a business trip, was asked about his plans for the old mansion this afternoon. He was reluctant to discuss them, but finally admitted he was having the place done over and fitted up as a guest house.

"It will be a place where I can entertain my friends," said Mr. Bendix. "Of course it will be open for charitable and other worthy public entertainment. I have a lot of valuable tapestries and other art that I am placing in the Potter Palmer residence. The old mansion lends itself admirably to my plans for a guest house."

Mr. Bendix declined to comment on the entertainment of distinguished guests I nature. "Just say I am fitting the house for the entertainment of my friends and as a place to keep some of the things I have bought," he said. "I have had the place for two years and I do not want to build there for several years more. Naturally, I did not want to rent the mansion. I have too much regard for the original owners, and I will say now the famous old dining room and drawing rooms will not be changed one bit."

Mr. Bendix said he had acquired some of the art in the mansion, but that he had bought none of the furniture and was furnishing the house with his own pieces. The refurnishing of the "castle" now is under way. The upstairs part is being divided into suites for the convenience of guests.

The Palmer mansion between Banks and Schiller streets on Lake Shore drive long has been a standing reminder of the social supremacy of the late Mrs. Potter Palmer. It faces the drive today as it did in the eighties and nineties when Mrs. Palmer was the social dictator of Chicago. As chairman of the women's board of the world's fair, she was official hostess to many famous persons. The prince of Wales who became King Edward VII of England has slept under its roof, three presidents were entertained there and titled folks from Europe were guests whenever they visited Chicago. Potter Palmer Jr. was the last of the family to live in the mansion before it was sold to Mr. Bendix.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

A story in THE TRIBUNE of Saturday, July 5, that "at a carnival of Negro Elks, Joseph Williams, 35 years old, a dining car waiter, shot to death the former chief of police of Robbins, near where the carnival was held, John Mosely, 40 years old." James T. Copper, president of the South Parkway Neighborhood Improvement association, and grand auditor of the I. B. P. O. Elks of the World, in a letter to THE TRIBUNE states that the shooting occurred "two blocks from the grove in which the colored Elks held their picnic. At that affair there was no boisterous or improper conduct."

Martinelli, Rothier Best of Company Presenting "La Juive"

BY EDWARD MOORE.

For the first time since the season began, the Ravinia company in "La Juive" last night failed to live up to its frequent acclaimed reputation of being an expert acting as well as singing organization. As to its being a singing company worthy of all praise, there was no question at all, but it is submitted that in acting, even in operatic acting, more is needed than an occasional wide gesture with an arm, or for that matter, with two arms.

Two of last night's cast admittedly made distinct characterizations of their rôles. One was Giovanni Martinelli as Eleazar, the other was Leon Rothier as the Cardinal. They were characters of a tragic story who went deeper in their personalities than grease paint, wigs, and costumes, but got into something actually psychological in their presentations.

The rest of the cast did not. Probably there was nothing about the opera that made it necessary for them to do anything more. Even such expert and experienced artists as Elisabeth Rethberg, appearing as Rachel, and Florence Macbeth as the Princess discovered little need to do more than sing superbly, move across the stage upon the proper cue, and make certain conventional gestures. Nothing more was demanded.

But sing superbly they did, as did Mr. Martinelli and Mr. Rothier. "La Juive" is packed full of melodies for all, fine, crusted, mouthfilling melodies of the old school. If some of the music and some of the situations made it seem as though the work was really a comic opera without in the least intending to be so, the fault was that of the school, certainly not that of the cast.

It became evident during the first intermission that the merits of the performance has caused a certain blameless elderly gentleman to get himself into serious sartorial complications, which apparently sets a new record for the Ravinia company, but there was applause enough at the end of every aria and every scene to indicate that "La Juive" still remains, as it always has been, a popular success.

15,000 Elks Parade Before New Grand Exalted Ruler

Atlantic City, N. J., July 10.—(AP)—Fifteen thousand uniformed Elks attending the 66th annual reunion of the grand lodge paraded through the city today. The parade was reviewed by the newly elected grand exalted ruler, Lawrence H. Rupp of Allentown, Pa., and the other new officers.

The meeting of the grand lodge came to a close today with a memorial service and the installation of officers.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

From what amusement do you get the most enjoyment during the hot weather?

The Answers.

Miss Grace Stamper, 5417 Woodlawn av., bookkeeper — A boat trip on the lake or being at some nice cool summer resort where I can go swimming or maybe in a cool movie theater. Even work in a refrigerator plant woldn't be bad this kind of weather.

Donald Filbey, 1453 East 56th-st., collector — Swimming is my favorite, with fishing as second choice. The cool lake water is a great relief and to go fishing eases one's mind of worries. I might play golf once in a while, but that doesn't keep one cool.

Miss Leona Melton, 1516 East 62d-st., bookkeeper—I believe swimming is my favorite, that's so cooling and restful. I also like to go to picnics, to amusement parks, or go canoeing, sometimes for an auto ride into the suburbs or some nearby forest preserve.

Anthony Carlo, 5031 North Springfield-av., clerk — My favorite is a good ball game, but when the Cubs are not here to play, I prefer golf at some country club. I should also like to make a trip on some large yacht, just cruise on the lake for a couple of weeks. That would be real medicine.

Miss Grace Marshall, 6220 Kenwood-av., home girl—I prefer swimming, and I do plenty of that. It is the greatest warm weather relief a person can get, and cheap. Of course, I like to play golf, go for a nice auto trip and rest at some nice cool spot along the lake.

St. Viator's College Alumni Plan Picnic for Tomorrow

Alumni of St. Viator's college, Kankakee, Ill., will have their annual reunion and picnic at Riverview grove, near the park of that name here tomorrow. Eight Yankee Women Bow to King, Queen

Japanese Princess Also at the British Court.

BY ANN WHITTINGHAM.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 10.—The fifth court of the season was held at Buckingham palace tonight. Mrs. Charles Gates Dawes, wife of the American ambassador, presented eight American women to King George V and Queen Mary. Of the eight, two are wives of consular officers.

Those presented are Miss Helen Lee Washington of Washington, D. C.; Miss Elizabeth Wurts of Philadelphia; Mrs. Roy Baker and Mrs. Nathaniel Davis of Washington, D. C., and London; Miss Justine Townsend, Mrs. Samuel Meek and Mrs. W. N. Botsford of New York; Mrs. B. B. Moon of Indianapolis.

Although the last court is favored with less members of the diplomatic corps, it is less crowded than the others and thus gains an atmosphere of informality impossible earlier in the season.

The comments of the cockneys diminished considerably the tediousness of the wait.

Miss Washington is the debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Lee Washington. For five years he was the American consul general in London. Mrs. Washington is the honorary vice president of the American Woman's club here. They are spending a few weeks here visiting their many friends who had missed them since Mr. Washington was assigned to duties in America. Miss Washington's gown was of ivory satin embroidered with pearls. Her court train was of tulle woven with flecks of gold. She carried a sheaf of lilies.

Mrs. Baker is the wife of Roy W. Baker, vice consul at London.

Mrs. Davis is the wife of Consul Nathaniel P. Davis at the American consulate here.

Among those at the court was Her Imperial Highness Princess Takamatsu of Japan. She is paying a diplomatic visit here.

TALKIES' TRAINER

LADY MAUREEN STANLEY.

LONDON, July 11.—Great Britain's latest society recruit to Hollywood, Lady Maureen Stanley, wife of Maj. Oliver Stanley and daughter of the marquess of Londonderry, sailed from Southampton Tuesday aboard the Majestic. She is to become social and artistic adviser to Sam Goldwyn, who is producing a series of talkies on English society life, according to this morning's Daily Express.

She will make her début, that paper says, in a talkie starring Ronald Colman in which she is to be responsible for the settings. Her engagement is a sequel to her recent visit to America with her father-in-law, the earl of Derby, who attended the Louisville Derby. The earl and Lady Stanley, as guests of Joseph E. Widener, a Philadelphia millionaire, met Mr. Goldwyn. He was so impressed by her social knowledge that he suggested she join his staff.

Hoover Will Speak at Legion Convention Oct. 6

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.]—President Hoover today accepted an invitation to speak at the twelfth national convention of the American Legion at Boston on Oct. 6. He made known his acceptance to National Commander O. L. Bodenhammer of the legion who first extended the invitation several months ago.

Commander Bodenhammer called at the White House to express the appreciation of world war veterans over the President's approval of five new legislative measures, including the disabled veterans bill.

They will tour Russia, making a study of economic conditions and the soviet government's five year industrialization plan.

SPAIN SENDS RELICS TO CUBAN MUSEUM OF MILITARY SCIENCE

HAVANA, July 10.—(AP)—The first military museum in Cuba, in which will be exhibited many articles of historic value and a number of trophies in Cuba's war with Spain, will be established within the next two months in the old chapel of Cabanas fortress which overlooks Havana's harbor.

Col. Julio M. Aguado, commandant of the coast and field artillery units which make their headquarters at the fortress, has interested the government in the idea. He has all but completed the renovation of the aged chapel. He has been notified officially that Spain is sending him some 30 or more articles which have lain in the museum of Madrid since the close of the war for independence in 1898.

The Havana museum will turn over other articles of military significance for exposition in the new institution.

It was in Cabanas fortress that many Cuban patriots were executed by Spanish firing squads while crowds on the upper tier of the fortress looked on and applauded.

200 Leaders Back Harvard Business Study

ChicagoMenAmongThose to Give Yearly.

Cambridge, Mass., July 10.—[Special.]—Two hundred leaders of American business, including Secretary Mellon and J. Pierpont Morgan, have United to organize a foundation to further the scientific study of business under the auspices of the Harvard business school, it was announced here today.

The foundation is to be known as "The Two Hundred and Fifty Associates of the Harvard Business School." The members pledge themselves to contribute annual dues of $1,000.

The object of the organization is "to stabilize and promote research and the collection of material for the teaching of business," according to the brochure published by the committee. It is explained that during the last seven years the research projects of the business school have been carried on by "hand to mouth" financing, an average of $3,000 per week having been obtained during this period by solicitation of the school's administrative officers.

It is for research exclusively that the funds obtained from the associates will be employed, the committee explains, the tuition fees of the school are based on a self-sustaining scale so far as the expense of current administration and teaching are concerned.

Of the 250 associates 50 places are to be reserved for subsequent selection upon nomination by the school. Of the 200 left to be selected at once, all except two or three have been named and have accepted. Thus the school is assured of $200,000 a year, as against the $150,000 hitherto raised by constant solicitation.

In addition to the regular membership, with annual dues of $1,000, the plan of organization provides for life members through a single contribution of $20,000, and for founder members through the gift at any time of $100,000 or more. George F. Baker and William Ziegler Jr. are listed as founder members.

The organization committee, of which John C. Baker is secretary, includes Philip L. Reed of Armour & Co., Chicago, and Charles H. Schweppe of Lee, Higginson & Co., Chicago.

Among Chicagoans listed as members are the following: Sewell L. Avery, United States Gypsum company; Britton I. Budd, Public Service Company of Northern Illinois; Edward J. Doyle, Commonwealth Edison company; George B. Everitt, Montgomery, Ward & Co., Inc.; Martin J. Insull, Middle West Utilities company; John J. O'Brien, Byllesby Engineering and Management corporation; Albert E. Pierce, Central Public Service corporation; Julius Rosenwald; Robert C. Schaffner, A. G. Becker & Co.; James Simpson, Marshall Field & Co.; Eugene V. R. Thayer, Central Trust Company of Illinois; Robert E. Wood, Sears, Roebuck & Co.

Nature Book Is Written for Those Who Walk in Country

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Information on Sun Bathing for babies will be sent by Mrs. Bevans on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A member of the publishing firm of John Day & Co. told me of how, one day in his office, a man by the name of Raymond T. Fuller, who came to see him on business, was talking to him of his experiences in the woods and fields. They were so interestingly told that the publisher said: "That's the kind of things fathers who go walking with their children in the country should know. Make a book of it."

So "Walk, Look and Listen" came to be written—written for those who have walked in the country but have not looked nor listened—or at least, not very much. Its idea is something like this—to give an object for nature walks with your children. Did you ever see an owl outside of a museum or zoo? Or a wild fox? Or a spade foot toad? Do you know the six common turtles and where they are to be found? These are some of the objectives. Others are the life in ponds, recognizing different evergreens and flowers, and noticing special beauties of the outdoors. You see, the book is varied.

Then there are some amusing ideas exploded—like the one that handling toads causes warts to sprout, and that a bat's one aim in life is to get into your hair [what a disappointment bobbed heads must be to Mr. Bat!] and so forth.

There is a second section that is different and most helpful to people in general and teachers who want to keep pets or make collections. Some of these chapters are on having An Observation Beehive, An Indoor Ant-hill, A Collection of Snakes, Schoolroom Pets, Making Maple Syrup, School Forestry, Attracting Bird Guests, etc.

This is really a rich book for grown-ups to use with children—or without—or for the children themselves of 12 and over.

"Walk, Look and Listen" is by Raymond T. Fuller, published by John Day & Co. of New York and costs $2.50.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

The growing of primulas, or primroses, of which family there is a host of delightful varieties in shapes and colors, should prove enticing to more of the amateur gardeners in the Chicago region.

Mrs. Percy Armstrong of Glencoe has, with her family, spent many years in building up one of the best collections of primulas in this section. She discussed the growing of those flowers, once thought to be mastered by English gardeners alone, at the Men's Garden club meeting yesterday.

Primroses are, contrary to the lay impression, hardy and not difficult to grow. Some gardeners who were shown her colored pictures expressed the view that they and primulas had not been able "to get along together." She expressed the opinion from practical experience that, given proper soil, good loam, preferably near limestone rocks in the ordinary garden, some cow manure, abundant moisture and good drainage, primulas would thrive in this lake region.

Other gardeners in suburbs of Chicago, although not as thoroughly experienced as the Armstrong family, have reported success in the development of unusual arrangements of primulas, especially in rock gardens. Most all of these plants will withstand the severe winters of this area.

In starting from seed, germination is not always certain the first year, some seed having started in even the third year after planting.

Parisienne Wears Her Chc on Her Sleeves.

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.]—Sleeves have a great deal to do with chic this summer, and they are going to have a more important part this fall, according to the style authorities of Paris.

Coat sleeves, and dress sleeves, too, when they are long, are beginning to be a bit larger from the elbow region to the armhole. Not much—nothing like the balloon sleeves of the nineties—but, just the same, noticeably different from the fitted upper sleeves that have been the whole thing in fashions for a long, long time. This enlargement of the sleeve above the elbow and the prevalent fitting in of coats, jackets, and dresses at the normal waistlines offers something new in silhouettes.

The Marcel Rochas ensemble shown in our sketch is one of the first of these newest Paris models to appear around the town. Dress and jacket are made of black crêpe de chine, and the jacket is tucked around the waistline, from back to under the arms, with short, vertical tucks, so it fits in slightly. The sleeves of this jacket have cuffs almost to the elbow, where a double row of tabs—one black on the inside and one white piqué on the outside—emphasizes the slight flare of the upper sleeve. Tabs of black silk and white piqué replace the conventional collar.

Under the jacket a one piece black crêpe de chine frock is worn. This frock has short kimona sleeves, trimmed with double bias bands, and the body of the blouse is also trimmed with bias bands. The skirt is made up of slightly flaring gores, and a white piqué collar and bow decorate the neckline.

Costly and Varied Clothes Not Always Best Lure for Men

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I think girls attach far too much importance to dress and its influence on men," said a man in his late thirties, and father of a most popular girl of 18.

"Barb," the girl, is less concerned about clothes than probably any other girl in her group and yet she is the one the boys seemingly like best. She dresses nicely, of course, but clothes do not absorb her. She is content with only a couple of changes.

Because this father has a son who is clothes conscious, the question of dress interests him. The girl, he naturally assumed, would have been the wardrobe gatherer, not the boy. Studying other girls in his daughter's set, this man observed that the overstocked young lady somehow does not get the same attention from the boys. He was trying to figure out whether the girl was so conscious of herself as a result of her excessive buying that she thus lost out on an important item in the camaraderie of the sexes. Anyway, he decided, from the evidence at hand in a group of ten or twelve girls, that clothes are not nearly so important as they seem.

This opinion is substantiated by one wise woman of the world, who insists that beyond its neatness and being in fashion a man is not conscious of a woman's garb, and that extravagant dressing is lost on men.

Jane Austen said: "It would be mortifying to the feelings of many ladies could they be made to understand how little the heart of man is affected by what is costly or new in their attire."

A correspondent adds her bit on the subject from a personal experience. Two years ago her dad was riding on a high wave of prosperity and she was permitted to indulge in clothes to her heart's content. But her heart was not contented, because she was not having the good time she thought they ought to bring her. Dad's fortune went the way of many another speculator. The girl had to go to work and live on her own income, a small one, too. The girl says that now she gets more compliments from men on the clothes she wears and is having a better time than she ever did when she was expensively dressed.

"Maybe it wasn't the clothes," she concludes. "I think it was because I was too absorbed in my own and other girls' clothes at the time to give enough interest to the boys I wanted to attract."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Wrong Package!

My son was agent at the depot in a small town, and as there was no meat market there, a dealer in the next town came every Saturday afternoon and took orders which he filled Sunday morning and sent on the train in a basket. The orders were separately wrapped and tied, with the name of the customer on a strip of paper twisted around the string. Customers were to call at the depot after the train had gone, and for my son's part in delivering it to them the dealer occasionally wrapped up a piece of meat for him, with the understanding that if no name was attached to the package it was for him.

About an hour after the train had gone one Sunday morning, son telephoned for "pa" to come to the depot and get a pork roast the dealer had included for him. "Pa" went, and I busied myself fueling the kitchen range and heating the oven for the roast. I floured it, salted and peppered it, clamped down the roaster lid and soon had "our" Sunday dinner cooking.

The telephone rang! Son said: "Ma, I made a mistake! That roast was for Mr. Miller! He'll be right over to the house after it. I found his name under the paper in the bottom of the basket."

Now, believe it or not, my most embarrassing moment was when I drew Mr. Miller's Sunday roast out of MY oven and handed it out to him at the back door. Though we are known to be an honest family, I believe he had a lurking suspicion, which I trust has been fully dispelled by this time.

Warm Summer Days Mean Added Chores for Beauty's Upkeep

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Yesterday we talked about certain features of daintiness that require particular attention in hot weather.

Following up the theme of underarm daintiness, there is the one of a clean skin surface, entirely cleared of hair and dusky shadows. With the prevalence of the loose, abbreviated sleevelet and the totally sleeveless frock, this is an item that calls for most fastidious attention.

Some women are loath to remove hair from the area as often as necessary, for they have been told that frequent removal inspires a coarser, heavier growth. This statement has been disproved by scientific test. Yet, other persons of authority contend that there is truth to the charge. About superfluous hair, there is not unity of opinion, so I cannot be arbitrary either. But from personal experience and from the experience of a countless number of other women there is no need whatever to worry about the performance done as often as fastidiousness requires.

If one is going to wear the sleeveless dress so that the under-arm surface is exposed, it becomes a duty to make the exposure agreeable.

If, as some women contend, the hair grows right back again, what of it? The face has to be washed every day. The bath has to be taken daily, the hair combed, and so on. It is simply another duty to add to the day's beauty upkeep, although few women will have to resort to razor blade, depilatory, or wax hair remover daily. The point is that the growth should be removed before it reaches any stage of noticeability. If that means once every week, do it. If the job is done carefully, there will be no need of dusky shadows appearing. There'll be less danger if the performance is repeated before a heavy growth has to be removed.

A bit of cream after the operation is needed and a good coating of powder should top the job to give that clear surface wanted.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

I. D.: IT ISN'T POSSIBLE TO reduce the size of the collar bones, but you may fill out the soft tissues around the collar bones by swinging Indian clubs morning and night. In addition rub cocoa butter into the parts liberally every night.

J. C.: THE HOLES YOU DEscribe are enlarged pores and the treatment to reduce them is an astringent lotion. Witch hazel is an excellent astringent.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Just a Casual Interest.

"Dear Miss Blake: The boy I love always stops to talk to me when he sees me, but never makes a date with me. Do you think he loves me?

"So."

Boys are anxious to make dates with the girls they love, too. His is just a casual interest.

Unfair to Her.

"Dear Miss Blake: I have been going with a girl for two years. She thinks it's time to get married or else quit going together. I would like to know your answer. D. J. S."

After two years a girl has a right to know what your intentions are, D. J. S. If you're not serious don't take up any more of her time. It's awfully unfair to her.

Request for Porch Swing.

"Do you know of some one who has a porch swing which can also be used for sleeping? We have an old gentleman living with us, 70 years of age, who must sleep out of doors, and I cannot buy a day bed or swing for him. I would appreciate it so much if you could get it for us through your column. "MRS. A. G."

If the swing you are about to discard could be renovated or repaired for this elderly gentleman, I know he would find it a comfort and perhaps a help in regaining his health. May he have it?

Offers Cane, Shawl.

"I have a cane and a shawl to give any one who might be able to use them. Can you suggest a place where they are needed? MRS. R. W."

If you are recovering from a recent accident which has impaired your walking you will find this cane an able support. The shawl should be a comfort on cool evenings, too. Write me, if you can make use of either of these gifts; please do not telephone.

Not Easy to Take Cod Liver Oil
But Sugar-Coated Tablets Are

The modern scientist makes it his business to improve on Nature's work. For example, a southern farmer has successfully grafted a tomato vine on a potato stalk so that tomatoes grow above and potatoes grow below the ground.

And a northern chemist compels cod liver oil to give up its valuable vitamins (flesh, bone, strength and energy increasing elements) and keep the horrid fishy taste and odor to itself. The vitamins are then put full strength into tablets whose only taste is their pure sugar coating.

This pleasant new form—called McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets—gives millions of thin, weak, rundown, underweight men, women and children their first real opportunity to benefit from regular cod liver oil treatment without hardship. All druggists sell McCoy's.

It was McCoy's—and McCoy's alone—which enabled Mrs. Henry A. Thaler of Richmond Hill, N. Y., and her daughter Viola, to gain 7 pounds in an amazingly short time. Such gains are common, as every last weight and strength increasing element found in cod liver oil is also present in McCoy's. They let you benefit from cod liver oil the year round. McCoy's have been tested and approved by the Good Housekeeping Bureau of Foods, Sanitation and Health. For sale at any Walgreen or Economical Drug Store—guarantees them—60 tablets 60 cents.

"DRY TASTE"
....like awakening in a desert

That parched-mouth feeling in the morning needs more than water and a toothbrush to end it. The sensitive glands and delicate membranes of your mouth need the soothing effect of GLYCO-Thymoline to arouse them to normal action and bring clean taste.

Do not irritate or attempt to spur your mouth tissues into action with harsh, stinging solutions, nor delude yourself with highly flavored mouth washes. GLYCO-Thymoline is different. It is an alkaline solution and does its work gently and effectively.

A GLYCO-Thymoline mouth-rinse leaves a fresh, clean, tingling feeling. It penetrates between the teeth, flushes out food particles and neutralizes harmful acids. Too, GLYCO-Thymoline deodorizes, not merely disguises, your breath. It relieves irritated throats and keeps the voice clear and pleasant. Indispensable in the morning toilette.

Physicians and Dentists have prescribed GLYCO-Thymoline for over 30 years. They will tell you your mouth wash should be ALKALINE! Use it daily when you brush your teeth—and any time "Unclean Taste" assails. At all Druggists. Kress & Owen Co., N.Y.

Add Home Made Sauces to Drug Store Ice Cream

Provide Unusual Touch to Impromptu Meals.

BY META GIVEN.

Another week-end approaching—a possibility of friends dropping in to spend a few hours. An opportunity to serve food complimentary to one's hospitality.

Is it possible to make impromptu entertaining a pleasure? Can one plan to be always ready for the chance caller? What can be prepared that will keep for family use should no friends arrive? These are musings of every homemaker.

When you are planning refreshments for the unexpected guest why not consider some frozen dessert? Not one of those that you spend hours making, but the ones you quickly mix up and slip into your refrigerator or which you run out and get at the corner drug store.

Miss Givens' Idea.

Now don't feel that I'm trying to ruin the reputation you have gained of serving food that is your own and that is unusual. My idea is far from this. No one believes more than I in adding that personal touch which gives the simplest food individuality and charm. I believe, however, that this magic touch can be added to bought ice cream or to some simple refrigerator mousse. One of the best ways is to deluge it in some delicious home made sweet sauce. And presto! you have a sundae or parfait that will delight the most fastidious.

There are a number of ice cream sauces that are easily made and that will keep in good condition indefinitely in the refrigerator provided they are properly cared for.

The ideal sauce, of course, is unusual. It is as smooth as satin, of good color and distinctive flavor. To obtain the best results we must choose ingredients of high quality.

Similar to Candy Making.

The making of the ice cream sauce is a phase of sugar cookery that is similar to that of candy making, though not so difficult. The ingredients are combined with the sugar in a certain order, and the sirup is cooked to just the proper stage.

Once the sirups or sauces are made it is important that they be given the proper care. They all need to be put into air tight containers. An open vessel allows the evaporation of moisture which causes the mixture to become sugary.

The recipes which are given today have been carefully worked out. A careful following of the directions should enable you to prepare a perfect sauce and to keep it in good condition to the last spoonful.

Afternoon Tea Can Be Simple and Charming

BY SALLY LUNN.

Tea on the front porch is one of the most pleasant affairs for warm summer days when mid-afternoon callers drop in for a casual chat. Or if the day is cool, serve the cup of tea in the living room.

Preparations for this sort of afternoon tea need not be at all elaborate. Wise is the housekeeper whose pantry shelves are always ready for just such a situation. Small cookies, fancy or plain may be baked in quantity lots and stored in the cooky jar where they are always ready. Candied orange or lemon peel is delightful and may also be kept for a long time. Fresh tea and lemons complete the list of necessities.

Easily Made Sandwiches.

If you care to fuss a little more for tea, dainty little sandwiches may be made from commodities on the shelf. Marmalade on white bread, peanut butter on whole wheat bread, cream cheese on brown bread and many other combinations are not only simply but inexpensively prepared. They offer a pleasant variation from the cookies and may be easily served when one knows guests are coming. The sandwiches are prepared for service, wrapped in waxed paper and covered with a damp cloth to keep the bread fresh and moist.

A good looking tea set also adds to the attractiveness of the tea table. Pretty sets are available at moderate prices. Or, if you have no tea set, your other dishes may be used with an added tea pot. The breakfast size or large salad plate is preferred. It is usually much easier to serve the tea when the cup is placed on the plate. The cookies or sandwiches are also put on this plate and anyone can drink the tea without feeling the need of a table.

Tea Cart Is Convenient.

Another convenient piece of equipment is the tea cart. A sturdy one with good dependable legs is more desirable than the ornate type which one fears will tip over on the slightest provocation. A few shelves below the table top also add to the usefulness. Silver spoons and dainty napkins complete the picture.

Now, when callers arrive there is no need to hurry to put some things together. The hostess can load her tea car with the necessary service, tea and cookies. In one trip she can wheel in everything necessary. She may then sit at the tea wagon and pour the tea for the guests as nonchalantly as though six maids had assembled the food. And she does not look tired and worn because all that had to be done was to boil some water and make the tea. While the water is heating the other details could be attended to and tea is ready "as soon as the water boils."

Sausages Have Become Staple of Summer Diet

Variety to Satisfy National Tastes.

Meat by-products and kindred foods ready to serve with little additional preparation in the home have become a standard part in the city diet of the United States. Proof of this is found in a statement by one of the leading United States packing houses which reports that a 1930 estimate places sausage manufacturing at approximately 1,000,000,000 pounds per year. "Bologna," "Frankfurt," "Milano," "Genoa," "Roma," "Thuringer," and "Holsteiner" are typical American made sausages which have taken their names from the cities and localities where these kinds of meat by-products first were made. In addition the wrapping of pound packages of butter in four separate quarters, the merchandising of cheese in small tin-foil packages and glass jars, and similar merchandising of salad dressings and sandwich fillers are all a part of food preparation methods popular in apartment modes of living.

Annual Consumption.

This billion pounds of sausage is the amount estimated as the production in meat packing plants that operate under federal meat inspection and does not include the large additional amount made and sold through farmers, retail meat shops and in small local sausage factories.

Fifteen pounds per person per year is the estimated sausage consumption annually in the United States. Fresh and cooked sausage, termed "domestic" sausage, form the bulk of the industry, although dry sausage is said to be growing in popularity. Frankfurts or what are often known to customer and retailer as wieners account for 30 per cent of production of sausage in inspected plants. Bologna is next in these packing houses and fresh sausage is third.

One Chicago packing house recognizes the particular tastes of various nationalities and satisfies them with a sausage line of nearly 150 different kinds. Some of those most popular in addition to those already listed include Salami, Mortadella, Peperoni, Italian style ham, cottage roll, minced specialty, tongue and blood sausage, liver sausage, crystal pan souse, head cheese and jellied tongue.

Demand for Sausage Grows.

In former years the principal market for dry or "summer" sausage was in the large cities and in industrial sections where large groups of foreign born and foreign descent nationalities congregated. A new trend noticed is that these easily served meats and similar foods are being sold in increasing quantities in other sections of the country.

Some kinds of dry sausage are smoked, continuing the preparation process that was prevalent during their origin in northern Europe, including Germany and the Scandinavian countries where Goteborg, Holsteiner, Salami and Cervelat are preferred. The French, Italian and other Latin races prefer unsmoked types with high seasoning of pepper and garlic for their Frisses, Milano, Capicolli, Peperoni and Genoa. Genoa and Salami must be corded with many loops and several longitudinal strands to follow native styles, while Milano has a circular twine.

Wheat Harvesters Work by Moonlight to Escape Sun

Kansas City, Mo., July 10.—(AP)—Unable to work in the blazing sun, crews have begun to harvest wheat by moonlight in parts of Kansas. Ole Olson, 45, a Bean Lake, Mo., farm hand died from the heat yesterday while plowing corn.

HOUSEHOLD DISCOVERIES

If you have a household hint or unique discovery you are willing to pass on to other housewives, send it to Sally Lunn, Chicago Tribune. Recipes are excluded.

If while boiling eggs they become cracked, add a teaspoonful of salt to the water. The salt will close the cracks in the eggshells.—E. S., Berwyn, Ill.

I have found by placing a rubber fruit ring under a dish that is placed on ice, the ring will stick to both ice and dish, thus preventing it from slipping.—V. V. A., Olney, Ill.

The best cleaning preparation for painted woodwork is equal parts of vinegar and kerosine. It does not hurt the paint, as most cleaning preparations do, and the vinegar leaves a gloss.—H. L. M., Fayette, Ia.

To remove stains from kitchen sinks and bathtubs use equal parts baking soda and chloride of lime. Make into thin paste by using water and apply to stains, allowing it to remain for a few minutes. Use a scrub brush so that hands do not come in contact with the paste. This will remove most stubborn stains.—Mrs. W. G., Gary, Ind.

To make cut glass sparkle, dip a small brush in lemon juice and scrub the glass with it.—Mrs. A. N., Chicago, Ill.

When I make root beer for the family, I find it is ready for use more quickly, and has a better flavor if I drop a raisin in each bottle to hasten the fermentation process.—Mrs. R. E. G., Michigan City, Ind.

If the nickel on the stove has become rusty or dull, rub it with a piece of emery cloth. The top of the range can be kept bright the same way.—Mrs. C. W. S., Martinton, Ill.

Distributing Cost of Pork Shows Five-fold Rise

The cost of distributing a pound of pork has increased five fold since 1902, according to Prof. F. A. Pearson of the New York state college of agriculture, just announced. It cost three cents in 1902 and 15 cents in 1929, he finds. Prof. Pearson was formerly with the University of Illinois.

The farmer received from 57 to 60 cents of the consumer's pork-buying dollar in 1902 and but 35 cents last year. This, the study describes as a typical example of rising distribution costs in the nation's daily bill of fare.

Comparisons between villages and cities show that food prices are lower in smaller places where labor is cheap, for labor is the greatest part of distribution costs. Increased wages in the cities have not increased the demand for food there, but with prosperity the city dweller has demanded his food in better packages. With more food in packages and with more service given by high priced labor, distribution costs have advanced more than two and a quarter times pre-war costs, according to the Pearson study.

While package goods tend to stabilize retail prices, the violence of the fluctuation of farm prices increases, he finds. While the farmer used to sell but ten per cent of his products in times past, he now sells ninety per cent. The consumer knows less and less about supply with stabilized retail prices, but supply reacts violently on farm prices, is Prof. Pearson's conclusion.

"Fuzzless" Peaches Make Appearance on Eastern Fruit Stands

"Fuzzless" peaches are to be the newest attraction of a fruit display to be made in eastern sections during coming weeks. They are described as having a skin as smooth as a plum, and with every other characteristic that makes for the popularity of the peach, except the disagreeable fuzz.

The new type of peache, called the "nectarine," is common in Europe and on the Pacific coast, but is just becoming established in eastern orchards. It is said to be a "sport" or freak of the peach tree fruit, forty varieties of which are now fruiting on the New York experiment station plots at Geneva. There are no less than 280 known varieties of peaches in this same orchard this season, orchardists report.

CHECKS BLOWN 42 MILES.

Early in May a tornado caused considerable damage around Riley, Kas. When George Sargent checked up he thought he had found everything that belonged to him. But the other day a bundle came in from Blue Rapids. It was a package of canceled checks, which had been blown forty-two miles.

Sally's Crowd Takes Voyage Into Antarctic

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

It's not often that one is permitted to have the thrilling experience my hundred young guests and I enjoyed yesterday afternoon in the Roosevelt theater, seeing "With Byrd at the South Pole."

From the first inch of the film to the last flicker on the screen we sat entranced, charmed with the simple modesty and dauntless courage of its hero, Commander Byrd, and the daring and bravery of the men who accompanied him on his expedition to the South Pole. We thrilled to the narrow at the terrific storms at sea and the awful blizzards that threatened to bury the party in their new home, "Little America." We marveled at the work and accomplishment that resulted in a city of shacks, offices, radio towers and supply houses built on a huge expanse of ice. And we were tense with fear and misgiving during the rescue of the comrade who nearly lost his life in the icy sea.

The Eskimo dogs were delightful curled up in their blankets of snow apparently enjoying the 70 below zero weather of the antarctic wastes and they were fearless as they zigzagged their way over the yawning crevasses of the barrier. We've never seen better comedy than that supplied by the curious penguins who wabbled across the ice to investigate the activities of the strange looking beings who intruded upon the privacy of their polar homes.

Thrilling scenes occur in quick succession throughout the picture. The plane mounting its way over the Queen Maud range in its flight to the South Pole. The actual flight over the pole, Commander Byrd dropping the American flag upon it. Sighting the ice laden City of New York through the snow and mist after days of waiting and fearing that the long winter would close in upon them before the ship arrived. The trips by dog sled over the snowy expanse. The shooting of the Eskimo dog, Spy, who had outlived his usefulness and was too feeble to lead the pack.

Yes, it's a glorious picture and it made our party one that we'll not soon forget. Long after it had ended and we found ourselves back in a crowded city, it was hard to realize that we had not actually accompanied Dick Byrd and his expedition.

BRIDE-TO-BE

MISS ALICE FREUND.

Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Freund of 1137 East 50th street announce the engagement of their daughter, Alice, to Jerome Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Goodman of Highland Park.

Lammot Du Pont and Mrs. Stollenwerck to Wed

Wilmington, Del., July 10.—[Special.]—Lammot du Pont, president of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., today announced his engagement to Mrs. Carolene Pynson Stollenwerck of Scarsdale, N. Y., formerly of Wilmington. Mrs. Stollenwerck is the widow of E. Carroll Stollenwerck of Baltimore. No date has been set for the wedding. Mr. Du Pont's wife, the former Bertha Taylor of Wilmington, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Taylor, died on Dec. 31, 1928.

Corea Ready, But Tourist Trade Is Slack

DIAMOND MOUNTAINS, Chosen [Corea].—July 10.—Chosen, the erstwhile "hermit kingdom" of the world, is now at last making its bid for a share in America's tourist trade. The Diamond mountains are the pride of Corea.

In order to make this scenic resort accessible, the governor general of Chosen has gone to great expense in recent years to construct two railroad lines to the inner and outer mountains and has built two foreign style hotels and many bungalows for the accommodation of visitors.

Thus far both railroads and hotels are operating at a financial loss, but Japan has great faith in the country which it annexed twenty years ago this August, and the railroad bureau with its costly chain of hotels is but one example of this faith.

Except for the Diamond mountains, however, Chosen itself does not have a great deal to attract tourists. In architecture and art it is far surpassed by either China or Japan. The white costumes of the people, especially the little transparent stove-pipe hats of the men, are interesting at first sight but tend to become monotonous in a little while.

Chosen is particularly lacking in souvenirs. Picture postal cards are given to you at every hotel, every school, every factory, and even every prison which you may happen to visit, but it is difficult to find anything more impressive to take away than those cards.

In fact, the only things which are advertised even by the curio stores are Corean chests, brass, and amber. The chests are said to be fashioned after the sturdy sea-going chests which found their way to Corea centuries ago on a Dutch ship which was wrecked on the coast here. They are now made of many materials, wood with heavy brass trimmings, lacquer inlaid with mother-of-pearl, sharkskin, and even tiger bones.

Less cumbersome and expensive than the chests are the brass bowls for which Corea is justly famous. These are not engraved or carved like the brass pieces of India or China, but they are made in graceful shapes and the old brass is of such good composition that it scarcely tarnishes and, when struck, it gives a beautiful clear bell-like ring.

Society Gets Air Minded for the Races

BY THALIA

The largest and most important project on the social and civic horizon just now is the National Air races, to be held at the Curtiss-Reynolds airport at Glen View from Aug. 23 to Sept. 1. The preparatory work has been under way for several weeks now and plans are being completed rapidly.

Boxes and grand stands capacious enough to seat 100,000 spectators are under construction. The box section is directly on the start-finish line, in the center of all activities and in front of the large hangar building.

The top deck of the hangar is being transformed into a concourse, a colorful esplanade for boxholders exclusively, and there is to be a special club restaurant. A promenade, landscaped with shrubbery, flowers, and ponds, is to traverse the front of the boxes on the airport level, and just across the promenade, between the boxes and the starting runways, will be the aero pits, where the racing planes will receive their final grooming before each event. Grand stands are to extend on each side of the boxes and there will be bleachers beyond on both sides. Boxes have already been reserved by Laurance H. Armour, John Wentworth, James N. Rawleigh, John J. Mitchell, W. Rufus Abbott, James Simpson, Rush Clark Butler, Samuel Insull, Allan Jackson, Frederick H. Rawson, Reed Landis, Earle H. Reynolds, and Lawrence Whiting.

The Junior league is forming a guest committee from its membership to look after the women flyers, who are to be quartered in a guest house now being put up for the purpose. Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick is honorary chairman of the women's board, other members of which include Mrs. Earle H. Reynolds, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, and Mrs. Waller Borden. There will be a great deal of entertaining for the visiting flyers, both by individuals and by the north shore clubs, most of which will coöperate to make the occasion a gala one.

The Tavern is a popular rendezvous for its members and their guests these hot nights. Dinner on a breeze swept terrace, high above the "madding crowd," with a grand view of the skyline, the sunset, the rising moon, etc., is highly enjoyable. There is to be one of the series of summer dinner-dances this evening, with dancing on the sun deck throughout the evening. Among those having parties are the Robert Curtisses, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Boyden Jr., who are just back from a vacation jaunt to Bermuda, the John W. Roots, returned a few days from their wedding trip in Europe, Arthur Bissell, Andre Rebori, O. S. Turner, Lessing Rosenthal, and Dr. Kellogg Speed.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., July 10.—[Special.] — President and Mrs. Hoover, who have as their guests Senator Reed Smoot and his bride, formerly Mrs. Alice Taylor Sheets of Salt Lake City, gave a breakfast this morning. Among the guests were the children of the bride and bridegroom. They are: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Smoot, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smoot, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Cardon (formerly Miss Chloe Smoot), Mrs. Zella Smoot Nibley, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt (son-in-law and daughter of the bride), and Dr. Walter Sheets of New York (son of the bride).

Other guests were: Maurice Maschke of Cleveland, Republican national committeeman from Ohio; Miss Susan Dyer of New York, who has spent many months with Mrs. Hoover in the White House; Mr. and Mrs. Royal McKenna, and Miss Mildred Hall, one of Mrs. Hoover's secretaries.

Mrs. Arthur Sweetser of Geneva, Switzerland, has been visiting Mrs. Raymond E. Durham, and Mrs. William G. Hibbard of Winnetka has gone to Huron Mountain to remain until August. The Durhams' daughter, Miss Betty Durham, has returned from a fortnight's visit with Caroline and Emeline Bush, daughters of the William H. Bushes at Frying Pan ranch at Amarillo, Tex. She is to be at home for a few weeks and late in the summer plans to go to Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, for a visit. Her brother, Raymond Jr., is at Camp Wipigaki at Lac du Flambeau, Wis.

Mrs. John Borden is going east next Wednesday for a two weeks' round of visits. She is to be with Mr. Borden's mother, Mrs. William Borden, in Camden, Me., for part of the time and, besides, will go to Watch Hill, R. I., and to Nahant, Mass., where she spent last summer. The Borden family is occupying the John C. Mechem house in Lake Forest this summer.

Mrs. John Russell Evans of 1360 State street, who has been in Chicago recently for the first time in several years, is to sail for Europe on July 24 on the S. S. Lafayette, accompanied by her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. LeBaron Evans of New York City. When she returns in about two months she will go to southern California, where she resides.

MARRIED IN BOSTON

[Underwood & Underwood Photo.]

The marriage of Miss Jean Purcell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Purcell of 1320 North State street, to John Valentine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Valentine of 1322 Ritchie court, took place yesterday afternoon at the Somerset hotel in Boston, Mass. The bride wore an ivory satin gown and a tulle veil and carried lilies of the valley and white orchids. Her sole attendant, Mrs. Robert S. Pirie, wore a white organdy frock with blue trimming and held a bouquet of Pernet roses and blue delphinium.

Local French Groups to Celebrate July 14 by Songs at Ravinia

Bastille day, the French equivalent of the Fourth of July, will be celebrated at Ravinia next Sunday with the coöperation of fifteen French and Franco-American societies in Chicago.

In the afternoon there will be a concert of French music, provided by the Chicago Symphony orchestra and La Chorale Française de Chicago. Leon Rothier, basso of the Ravinia opera company, will sing the French national anthem, "La Marseillaise."

For the evening, Louis Eckstein of the Ravinia Opera company has arranged for presentation of the ultra-modern French opera "Marouf," with a native Parisian, Mme. Yvonne Gall, in one of the principal rôles. Members of La Sororite Franco-Americaine, will lend an exotic touch to the affair by appearing in provincial costumes.

Ancient Families United.

SAROSDADAK, Hungary, July 10.—(AP)—Princess Mary Magdalene Windischgraetz and Count Stefan Karolyi, scions of two ancient Hungarian noble families, were married here this week. The bride and groom and all others present wore ancient Magyar costumes.

1,000 Applicants for Summer Army Camp

More than one thousand applications have been received from young men of Chicago and Cook county seeking admission to the citizens' military training camp to be conducted from July 31 to Aug. 29 at Fort Sheridan. At the camp headquarters at 8 North Michigan avenue, officials said applications are coming in every day, although Chicago has already passed its quota. From records of past years it was predicted that 25 per cent of the applicants would fail to report at the camp, and officials promised that a place would be found for any young man desiring to enroll for the month's training.

Baby Has 4 Grandparents, Eight Great-Grandparents

Kenosha, Wis., July 10.—[Special.]—Orlo Peters, five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Peters of Kenosha, is probably the champion in parents hereabouts. He has four grandparents and eight great-grandparents, all living.

Exhibit Here Will Recall Perry Visit That Opened Japan

The Chicago Historical society will present a special exhibit on July 14 commemorating the day 77 years ago when Commodore Matthew Calbraith Perry delivered a letter, written on vellum and bound in blue silk velvet, to two princes of Japan, representing the emperor, from President Fillmore of the United States. This began negotiations which resulted in the opening of Japanese ports.

Perry's service was recognized by Japan on July 14, 1901, when a monument to the American officer was unveiled at Kurihama, where Perry first set foot on Japanese soil.

The exhibit will include the steering wheel of the Powhatan, which carried the party to Japan, and later returned with a delegation from Japan to complete the treaty. The report of the expedition written by Perry and published by the United States government, also will be exhibited.

MAC SMITH, ARMOUR TIE FOR OPEN GOLF LEAD

HIS INHIBITIONS GONE, SHIRES IS AGAIN THE GREAT

Old Spirit Revives with Senators.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 10.—That incorrigible Shires boy, who exasperated old Mr. Charlie Comiskey, seems to have found an employer who understands him and appreciates his unique appeal to the paying customers.

Arthur Shires is quite at home with the Washington ball club, which is leading the American league, and both Clark Griffith, the owner, and Walter Johnson, the manager, have given him permission to express himself in his own unusual way, within certain limitations which he accepts as prudent and reasonable.

Appeal to Reason.

These forbid him to lick his manager, a practice which he has promised to abandon, and limit his indulgence to a few saucers of some mild, wholesome gin per evening.

The Shires boy, on his part, states that it never was his custom to lick his manager but merely a mischievous caprice to relieve the monotony of defeat and repression on the White Sox. As to the matter of stimulating beverages, he is again agreeable.

"Gin is not good for an athlete," said he. "Walter Johnson told me so. Did Lena Blackburne tell me so when I was with the White Sox? No, he did not tell me so. He just told me I couldn't drink it. He didn't appeal to my reason."

Old Mr. Comiskey is not much older than old Mr. Griffith, but the one had no sympathy with Arthur's youthful mischievousness and the other regards him as the most spirited ball player of the present time.

Just a Factory Hand.

"Comiskey doesn't get very close to his ball club any more," Mr. Shires explained as the Senators lounged in the lobby of their moldy, spinsterly old hotel waiting for the time to report at the ball grounds for the last game of their series with the Red Sox. "He couldn't see what a wonderful asset I was to his club. I was drawing customers, but he wanted me to be a factory hand. So when he refused to give me a raise in pay this spring I decided to be a factory hand.

"I was the only one who got the White Sox into the papers and drew the business at the gates last year. I did it with my wad of chewing tobacco and my spats and my cane. I did it by giving goofy interviews to the sports writers. For a time it looked as if Comiskey appreciated this, because he made me the team captain for a little while in the spring, before I got into my first jam with Lena Blackburn, and you don't suppose he made me captain over all those old major leaguers in my first season because he thought I was a great ball player, do you? No, he made me captain because he figured I would be a drawing card. And then when I did become a drawing card they repressed me.

How a Hired Man Works.

"So this spring," Mr. Shires said, "I showed them how a factory hand works. When the sport writers would come to me for some kind of a goofy interview I would just say, 'I haven't got anything today.' I quit chewing tobacco because that was part of my appeal to the customers and started chewing gum. I just went out there and played my game of ball, and when the whistle blew I threw down my glove and took off my overalls and went home."

The Shires boy's spirits revived instantly upon his transfer to the Washington team. Walter Johnson says Griffith watched him all through the season of 1929 and decided that Shires was the only ball player of the old, reckless, headlong type now to be found in the major leagues.

"Griffith was crazy to get him all last year," Walter said. "He liked the way Shires slid into them on the bases. He said Shires would break a leg any day to win a game."

He could have added, too, that Griffith is the only great showman in the business department of baseball now that John McGraw has abandoned picturesque human effects and gone in for quiet, well mannered efficiency. Griffith was the one who encouraged the clowns, Germany Schaeffer, Nick Altrock, and Al Schacht, in their amusing foolishness and by their antics lured thousands of customers to his games in seasons when his ball club had a tendency to repel business.

"Shires has been with us only since the 18th of June, but he has won two or three games almost single handed," Walter said. "Last Sunday he went up to hit in a pinch against the Yankees with our club two runs behind and the bases full and hit a single that scored two runs, and won for us.

"Griff wasn't afraid of his reputation. He knew the kid was no fool, but a smart show man with wonderful enthusiasm and ability. I guess the kid did overdo his foolishness with the White Sox last year, but that was because the ball club had no color and the newspaper men were always going to him, getting him to pop off his mouth so they could have something to write about besides another licking.

"He is always popping off on the bench and in the clubhouse with us, but it's all baseball talk and he doesn't wrangle with the customers any more.

"Moreover, I don't think he will do

Arf Pint Drops Down for Visit With Canoeists

BY BOB BECKER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Tippecanoe River, near Springborough, Ind., July 10—The biggest thrill THE TRIBUNE canoeists have experienced on this trip down the Tippecanoe came this morning about 10 o'clock when Arf Pint, THE TRIBUNE plane, zoomed down on Lake Freeman within a few feet of the Oakdale dam, where the boys were portaging their canoes.

The big Sikorsky, carrying Col. R. R. McCormick and his party, who came down to say hello to the Chicago scouts, was anchored about 40 yards from the dam. The scouts paddled the flying visitors to shore.

The most envied boys in camp tonight are Armin Hess and Norman Jeppeson, who saw the inside of the plane and had a chat with the Arf Pint party. The ship took off while the canoeists were still busy with their portaging job, giving them a fine opportunity to see it skim over the water and rise into the air.

Canoes Ride Wave.

The Indiana Hydro company opened the gates at the Oakdale dam and let through a big volume of water this morning for the benefit of the canoe expedition. This water spilling stunt produced a strong current from the power plant down to this high, wooded campsite a couple of miles above Springborough. After taking to the water below the dam the boys had about 11 miles to cover before checking in at tonight's camping spot, which was loaned to the party by Herbert Mayhill, editor of the Delphi Journal.

The scouts finished their stay on Lake Freeman with a big camp fire party last night. Don Anderson and Terry Ebert, the scoutmasters on the cruise, had the boys prepare all kinds of stunts for the camp fire hour and from 8:30 to 9:30 last night we had big time vaudeville, with the frogs in the marsh nearby providing the orchestral accompaniment and the full moon serving as a spotlight. A tall wigwam type of fire was built and lighted shortly after sunset.

Where the Food Goes.

Then the boys started their entertainment. Inasmuch as a prize was offered for the best act the entertainers went the limit. There were mouth organ duets, dramatic sketches, individual vocal solos, quartets and other acts which went over big. Sam Joy won the honors of the evening with his quick change character sketch. The prize was a pound box of candy. We had a stop watch on the box. It lasted just two minutes and forty seconds after it was opened.

This question of how much and what these ever hungry canoe paddlers consume in the way of food reached a definite stage last night when we checked a couple of the boys on their weight. Fred Borchert, newly elected captain of the party's baseball team, reported a gain of four pounds since we left Chicago last Saturday. Red Kern has put on three pounds. We have one 16 year old youngster who weighs 163 pounds.

Henry Perlick Loses to Kid Berg in Ten Rounds

500 FANS SNORE AS BROWNS BEAT WHITE SOX, 7 TO 6

Gullic's Homer in Tenth Sends 'Em Home.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 10.—Ted Gullic slapped a homer into the left field seats in the tenth inning today and forced the White Sox to concede the fruits of a torrid afternoon of labor to the Browns. The score was 7 to 6 and the total of runs almost equalled the number of patrons. There were fewer than 500 drowsy folks scattered around the premises.

Caraway and Gray will pitch tomorrow.

A run off Faber in the first inning was due to an error by Mulleavy. He made a bad throw to Clancy on McNeely's grounder. O'Rourke singled. Cissell made a neat stop to force O'Rourke at second on Goslin's hard bounder. This put McNeely on third and he scored a moment later on Kress' sacrifice fly to Watwood.

The Sox enjoyed a tie in the fifth. McKain opened the inning with a drive to Stewart, who tried to stab the ball with his bare left hand. It bounced off his fingers for a single. Jeffries, who is back on third because Willie Kamm doesn't appear interested in his work, laid down the customary sacrifice. After Mulleavy's demise, Reynolds caromed a hit off O'Rourke and McKain tallied.

Running Tires McKain.

The exertion on the base lines was too great a strain on McKain. This became evident as soon as he started to pitch in the home fifth. McNeely led off with a double and strolled to third on a scratch single by O'Rourke. Reynolds went back against the right field wall to capture Goslin's fly and McNeely scored after the catch. O'Rourke carried home the second run of the inning on Ferrell's single.

A homer to the right field roof by Clancy in the sixth put the Sox one shy of a tie. This condition they adjusted in the seventh. McKain opened with a hit, the next two men popped out, and Reynolds scratched a single to Melillo. Kress was given an undeserved error for not getting a drive by Jolley. It scored McKain and put Reynolds on third. Kamm then batted for Watwood and drew a pass. After the fourth ball Ferrell, for no good reason, pegged the ball to second. Nobody was covering, and by the time the thing was captured and returned to the infield Reynolds and Jolley were home.

Ferrell Atones for Error.

When McKain started the eighth he walked Kress and was nicked for a two bagger by Ferrell. Henry's southpaw was dragged into action at this stage. He nailed Schulte on a grounder, but Kress scored. Melillo also grounded out, but Gullic batted for Badgro and singled to drive in Ferrell with the tying run.

For a moment in the ninth it looked as if the Sox were set for a victory. Mulleavy singled off Kimsey and scored on hits by Reynolds and Jolley. The large Dutch Henry couldn't hold the one run advantage, however. In the home ninth McNeely walked, Goslin doubled and Ferrell's long fly scored the former.

BEHIND ARLINGTON SCENES

Gallant Knight, Jockey H. Schutte and Pat, the stable mascot, can be seen together almost every morning at Arlington Park. They're pals, even though Schutte may have to apply the whip in tomorrow's Classic.

Ned O. Lets Race Fans Know He's Ready for $70,000 Classic

BY FRENCH LANE.

Ned O, the old bogey man of the 3 year old championship race, was stalking around like a ghost out near the headquarters of Gallant Fox, Gallant Knight, Snowflake, Caruso and other Classic candidates at Arlington Park last night.

The old bogey man lined up at the barrier with four other Classic candidates in the Wilmette purse at Arlington yesterday. It was a trial affair for the $70,000 race which will be run tomorrow afternoon. And at the end the old bogey man was showing his heels to High Foot by two and a half lengths. Walter J. Salmon's Swinfield was third, two lengths back of High Foot. Fortunate Youth and Camp Boss trailed them.

Early last Spring Ned O, loomed as the bogey man of the title aspirants. They said he would win the Preakness. Then it was discovered he was not eligible to that race.

Falls in Fairmount Derby.

They said he would win the Kentucky Derby. Well, he didn't quite do it. Gallant Fox and Gallant Knight beat him. Ned O was third.

Then the old bogey man loomed as the winner of the Fairmount Derby He was the bogey man right up to post time, then landed out of the money.

Next came the American Derby. "Ned O is working like a house afire and can't lose it," was the whispered password which went around from one race-goer to another. Came Reveille Boy's sensational victory. Gallant Knight was second. Xenofol was third. The old bogey man was out of the money.

From that day until yesterday Ned O, had been in seclusion, but old Buck Foreman of Maryland, his owner and trainer, was around 48 hours earlier telling everybody "Ned O's going to win the Classic trial and then beat Gallant Fox in the Classic."

Runs Different Race.

So the old bogey man made good for old Buck Foreman in the Classic trial. He did it impressively over a drying out, slow track. And in this contest Ned O, ran a different race. Usually he is about an eighth of a mile behind the leaders in the early stages. He was right up with High Foot, which was making the pace in the Wilmette. He conquered High Foot at the head of the stretch and was pulling away as they galloped toward the finish line.

The Wilmette may or may not have proved anything. Perhaps the old bogey man has reached top form and will at least give the Fox and Sande a scare in the Classic. Maybe he just found the kind of a track that he likes best. But Ned O is on edge, there is no doubt about that, and those two Gallant fellows—Gallant Fox and Gallant Knight—who no doubt believe the Classic pot of gold is to be split up between them may hear the hoofbeats of the bogey man coming down the stretch.

The first authentic betting line on the Classic was issued last night and it showed Gallant Fox the favorite at 2 to 5. It was as follows:

Horse.	Wgt.	Jockey.	Odds.
Gallant Fox	126	E. Sande	2-5
Gallant Knight	123	H. Schutte	6-1
Dustemall	116	R. Workman	15-1
Alcibiades	119	J. Smith	8-1
Ned O.	121	C. Quattlebaum	12-1
High Foot	121	J. Marcum	30-1
Caruso	121	J. Ingalsbe	30-1
Black Majesty	121	E. Ambrose	20-1
Snowflake	118	L. Schaefer	8-1
Swinfield	121	D. Smith	8-1
Breezing Thru	121	J. Smith	30-1

The Classic candidates held all the attention of a large mid-week crowd at Arlington yesterday except for a couple of minutes while the Glencoe handicap was being run.

Sande, Victorian Beaten.

Earl Sande, Gallant Fox's rider, went into action in this combat on Victorian, the $100,000 Agua Caliente handicap winner. It was a 6 furlong dash, and Sande and Victorian, both making their first appearance here, were always beaten. They staged a rally in the stretch, but all it got them was a second to the fleet My Dandy. Victorian was beaten by three lengths. Beaming Over, from Edward R. Bradley's stable, hung on to be third.

Preparations were going forward at Arlington yesterday to handle the largest crowd that ever has visited a Chicago race course. Gov. Emmerson will be an early arrival on Classic day and will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given by Otto W. Lehmann in the Post and Paddock club. Vice President Charles Curtis will be another guest. William Woodward and Harry Payne Whitney are expected to come from New York.

GOLFING LEGION TO OPEN TRIBUNE TOURNEY TODAY

Pairings Pit Dub, Expert Against Their Equals.

Match play in one of the biggest golf tournaments in the history of the sport begins today on nearly all the park and daily fee courses of the Chicago district. Today the first batch of pairings are announced for THE TRIBUNE'S public links tournament and the contestents will play at once or at any time they find convenient during the next week.

No entrant need wait for his opponent, for he may never see him. In many cases the draw has brought together golfers living in widely separated corners of the district. For instance Jack Miller, 1027 Greenwood avenue, Wilmette, is paired with Mathew Jeralck, 2242 South Oak Park avenue, Berwyn.

Matched with Equals.

These two were pitted against each ther because the scores which they mailed to THE TRIBUNE golf editor indicated that they were of equal ability. Jack shot a 95 over a par 72 course while Matthew was making 93 on a par 70.

Those who can't shoot in the 90s have just as much chance to win as these two because they will be paired with opponents who play the same caliber of golf as they do.

Each golfer listed in this first batch is to play an 18 hole round at any time he finds convenient during the next week. He must get his card to THE TRIBUNE golf editor not later than next Friday.

The pairings follow:

WOMEN.

Mrs. E. McIntosh, 6423 Evans avenue, vs. Miss Yanita Grossman, 545 Brompton place.

DONOVAN DALE.

71 Will Do for Hot Day, Says Bobby's Caddy

BY DONOVAN DALE.
[Caddy for Bobby Jones.]

Minneapolis, Minn., July 10.—(AP)—We started pretty well today—I mean Bobby Jones did—and considering the heat at Interlachen and the big gallery which shut out every breath of fresh air, the champion's 71 seemed to me to be especially outstanding.

Bobby used 15 of his 17 clubs. Only his No. 1 iron and his big niblick got a rest. The most spectacular shots he made during the day, in my opinion, came as part of his recovery on the fourth where he drove into the rough. His second, a niblick shot, served to get him just out of the bad spot. Then came a beautiful stroke, made with his No. 4 iron to the green only 12 feet from the pin. He putted in easily.

Actually, considering the niblick shot out of the rough, he handled this hole in eagle-fashion. Then, like the rest of his round, Bobby had little to say—only he wondered if it would be posaible to play 36 holes on a day like this.

Being a champion has its disadvantages in weather like this when you consider how he was hemmed in by that gallery. Bobby seemed to take the gallery as a matter of course and showed a lot of patience when some of the more anxious spectators practically got into the path of the ball.

Bobby's only playing weakness in the first round was his putting. A little more luck and he would have broken 70, in fact he might have had a 68. Several times his putts were short. On the 16th his ball stopped on the lip of the cup and failed to fall in. On the sixth and the second he failed to sink the ball because he was short—so actually he lost at least three strokes because of his putting. But he certainly did well enough anyway.

Kid Chocolate Knocks Out Vic Burrone in 3d Round

Buffalo, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—Kid Chocolate knocked out Vic Burrone of New York, in the third round of a ten round bout tonight. Burrone was down three times in the third. Chocolate weighed 125, Burrone 130.

BOTH RALLY ON LAST 9 TO PASS JONES AND COX

Minneapolis, Minn., July 10.—Tommy Armour of Orchard Lake, Mich., and MacDonald Smith of Great Neck, N. Y., each came in today with scores of 37—33—70 to lead the field at the end of the first round of the National Open Golf championship at the Interlachen Country club. Their cards were two strokes under par.

Bobby Jones started out staunchly in defense of his title and for a few minutes stood alone at the top with 34—37—71. Then Wilfred Cox of Brooklyn tied him and late in afternoon Armour and Smith wrested the lead from him entirely.

Temperature 101 in Shade.

A gallery estimated at 10,000 swarmed along the fairways which were baking beneath a blazing sun. A thermometer in the shade of the club house veranda registered 101 degrees when the tournament was at its height and nobody presumed to estimate the actual temperature upon the course.

The most dramatic moment of the day came when 41 year old MacDonald Smith came to last tee and looked down the long fairway, treacherously trapped, knowing that Tommy Armour was in with a 70 and that he needed only a par 4 on this hole to beat him with a 69.

Behind him lay 17 greens which he had conquered in three strokes less than par. Before him lay 402 yards of undulating fairway, lined with thousands of sweltering spectators, who had come swarming from all sides when word of what was happening had spread like wildfire about the course.

Smith's drive sailed straight down the fairway and came to rest about 150 yards from the pin. One more shot perfectly hit and he would be on the home green, but if that stroke were anything but flawless it would bring disaster. The green was set at the top of a steep knoll and all around were bunkers.

Rolls Into Trap.

His iron shot soared high, hevered for a moment in the breeze, and then came down upon the side of the hill. Mac stood watching silently as it trickled into a trap.

A 69 was practically impossible, and only a masterful shot could get him up the steep embankment and onto the green in position for a 70. But Mac made that shot, took two putts, and the man who had tied for the national open championship as long ago as 1910 again was at the top of the field.

To get his 70 Tommy Armour was forced to make a birdie on this last hole, which is one of the most difficult on the entire course. He did it by laying his approach within six feet of the pin and sinking his first putt.

Tomorrow another 18 hole round will be played after which the field will be cut to 60 low scorers and on Saturday will come the final 36 holes. The championship will be decided by the totals for the three days.

One of the most sensational performance was that of Johnny Farrell. Thousands believed that he had blown up completely when he took an 8 on the par 4 first. But then he showed the courage which has made him dangerous at all times and came sweeping along with five birdies to reach the turn in par 36.

A 38 on the return trip brought his score to 74 after putts at the last two holes had trembled at the rim of the cup and failed to drop for birdies.

Two Chicagoans Near Top.

Jock Hutchison, who led the Chicago district players in the qualifying round last month at Briargate, got into a great deal of trouble because of inaccuracy on his long shots and took a pair of 42's for an 84. Two other Chicago golfers, Harry Cooper of Glen Oak and George Smith of Onwentsia, were up among the leaders with scores of 72 each.

Frank Walsh of Bryn Mawr shot a 75. Al Espinosa of Chicago and Alex Ayton of Springfield took 76, while Gus Novotny of Edgewood Valley and Sonny Rouse of Old Orchard turned in 77.

Walter Hagen and Horton Smith shot even par, 72. After going out in 35, Hagen braced and came home in 34, although he had had the greater difficulty on his last nine in his practice rounds. Smith reversed the count with a 34—38.

J. P. I. ENTERS 53 IN TRIBUNE SWIM EVENTS

34 Girls, 19 Boys to Seek Prizes July 27.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

If one of the young swimmers from the Jewish People's institute doesn't win a championship in THE TRIBUNE'S races in Lincoln park lagoon, July 27, it won't be the fault of Rae Kirschbaum and Sam Greller.

Miss Kirschbaum and Greller are swimming instructors at the Douglas boulevard institute and they have nominated 19 boys and 34 girls for the four 100 yard races. Of course, all of these are not champions, but each will receive a merit badge for finishing the race. And all of them can swim several times 100 yards. For proof you should see this bunch cavorting in the J. P. I. pool. Emil Gollubier is the athletic director, and his organization literally has filled the J. P. I. with plaques won in sports competition.

A. A. F. Champion Enters.

Florence Levin, 14 years old, is one of the top-notchers seeking the senior girls' championship trophy. She has been the junior breast stroke champion of the Amateur Athletic federation for the last two years. Evelyn Levin, 12, and Lillian Gans, 13, are entered in the junior girls' swim. Lillian is the A. A. F. junior diving champion.

The other girls entered in the 12 and 13 year class are Annette Horwitz, Rose Merker, Sena Gowan, Rebecca Weinstein, Goldie Glickman, Mollie Marcus, Rose Kaplan, Rosalie Alex, Natalie Alex, Annabel Neistat, Rose Four, Pearl Budovitch, Ida Weinstein, Anna Stark, Sylvia Ferdman, Thelma Watenmaker, Thelma Block, Sylvia Rosenberg, Fanchon Burmeister, Marion Jane Fischler, Rose Miller, Evelyn Wernick, Hilda Schechter, Sarah Rosen, and Frieda Sterm.

The 14 and 15 year old girls are Elsie Slavin, Ruth Goodman, Shirley Friedman, Janet Cohen, and Sarah Bookman.

Dash Fastest Junior Boy.

Harold Dash is rated the speediest of the junior boys. Others entered in this division are Julius Friedman, Sidney Sherman, Bennie Young, Jack Rosen, Dave Peskind, George Gerbov, Nathan Blumenthal, Jerome Pressler, and Norman Shapiro. The 14 and 15 year olds are Phillip Finkelstein, Louis Swidler, Morey Solomon, Sam Levin, Leonard Divorsky, Herman Horwitz, Sol Weinstein, Melvin Sutger, and Morris Hellar.

BRUINS ARRIVE IN CAMP OF BRAVES; PLAY TOMORROW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., July 10.—Our nonplussed Cubs are here, the first stop of their vitally important eastern peregrination. The boys completed the 24-hour ride from Cincinnati at 7 o'clock this evening.

Beginning Saxurday the Cubs will play one game a day for four days against the fifth place Braves. In the first game Teachout will oppose Seibold.

After the Boston series the Chicagoans go to Brooklyn to engage the leaders, beginning July 16, in five games in four days.

Promoter Refuses to Let Stribling Fly New Plane

[Copyright; 1930; By the New York Times.]

PARIS, July 10.—William Stribling will have to go to court first if he wants to go flying around Europe before his match with Phil Scott. This is what Jeff Dickson, promoter of the fight, told Stribling when he met him tonight at the Gare Saint Lazare boat train from the liner Europa. Stribling purchased a new model French touring plane in Paris and announced his intention to fly to London next Monday to prepare for the Scott fight scheduled for July 28. Dickson objected, saying he did not want the fighter taking unnecessary chances.

King Levinsky to Battle K. O. White Here Tonight

King Levinsky, Maxwell street light heavyweight who had won several fights in Milwaukee previous to his defeat by Paul Pantaleo, meets K. O. White tonight in a ten round bout at Jones & Baumrucker Field, 21st and Kostner.

Carnera to Work Out Here En Route to Omaha Bout

Primo Carnera, giant Italian heavyweight who meets Bearcat Wright July 17 in Omaha, Neb., will arrive here tonight. He will train tomorrow afternoon at 1 o' clock at the Barry gymnasium, West Randolph street.

SWIMMING ENTRY BLANK.

CONTRIBUTORS' DAY.

FRIEND HARVE: Perhaps you already know, but let me explain why Steve Farrell always had real track teams at Michigan. In my day, and I suppose it's the same now, all freshmen had to take gym. Steve always was there, before, after, and during classes, apparently willing to give just as much attention to the veriest dub as to a real prospect.

Most of us, knowing our limitations, had no ambitions toward track prowess. But Steve had suggestions and encouragement as if we were the best prospects he ever had seen. So there always were freshmen in numbers around Waterman gym.

That made track teams. The most bashful small town boy who had a secret notion he might run, jump, hurdle, or throw the weights was not too bashful to tell Steve about it. Steve had a twinkle in his eye and a way of saying things which made all like him and try to do what he said. Thus many novices with latent talent, who never would have tried for any one else, became point winners.

Michigan will miss Steve Farrell!

Hic-Cup Defenders.

HTW: I understand our friend and good sportsman, Sir Tommy Lipton, is bringing over his next cup defender for another crack at the coveted America's cup. Of course, we all wish him luck, as he more than deserves it after having been a real game loser in so many previous attempts.

But what I wish to bring out is this: Before he reaches New York with his cup defender, Sir Tommy will have to pilot his way through a mazy fleet of hic-cup defenders who are ready at all times to defend and keep filled the cup that cheers and they are doing it effectively. Here's to both of them.

System Plus.

When I bet on the nose, they run second;
If the two hole, they step in the three;
If to show, they run out of the money—
It's a crime what they're doing to me.

It ain't that I don't really pick 'em;
I'm a platton for form and not tips;
The weight and the jockeys and distance
Give me figures that surely are pips.

It's just by a nose that al miss 'em;
A whisker, if horses have such;
But you know and I know the story;
You don't have to miss 'em by much.

Now here is my plan and I'll share it
With you and I won't ask a dime;
Let's pick length of nose and not record
And we'll win a bet every time.

Cotton Blossom.

Wake: Not long ago a Northbrook contributor mentioned the well known showboat, Cotton Blossom. He might like to know that boat is still in service, making regular trips up and down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers.

The present boat is the third of its name, I understand. The first was crushed in the ice on the Ohio and the second burned on the Mississippi. It is still under Hitner management, however. Each spring it goes up the Ohio, calling at all the larger river towns, and with the advent of cold weather works back down the river to more temperate climate.

The gentleman from Northbrook surely remembers French's Golden Rod, too. That boat also is showing on the Ohio. Many reminders of old times are on the current bills, such as "That Thing Called Love," five acts of vaudeville, and a band concert for a single admission.

HTW: Did you hear of the deaf and dumb man who fell in a well? He bruised three fingers and one thumb yelling for help.

Becka Meets Westland for District Title

Charles Becka Jr., 18 year old Calumet Country club lad, finished his third extra hole match last evening 1 up over Al Huske of Briergate to enter the final round today in the Chicago district amateur championship. Becka has defeated George W. Blossom of Shore Acres, Francis Blossom, the defending titleist, and Huske in extra hole matches during the tournament.

Jack Westland of Sunset Ridge, the other survivor of yesterday's semi-final round, easily defeated Lew Levinson of Bryn Mawr, 4 and 3. Westland has had but one hard match, that with Fred Lyon of Pontiac, western junior champion, which went to the 18th green. He won, 5 and 3, from Bob Crowe in the quarter-final round.

In the morning quarter-final round Huske won, 2 and 1, from Joe Bour of Calumet; Becka defeated Francis Blossom, 1 up in 19 holes, and Levinson put out Gus Fetz, 6 and 5.

Today's first round of the 36 hole final will begin at 10 o'clock and the afternoon round at 2 p. m. any drinking with us. I never follow my players around to see what they do at night because I know they'll be taking a few drinks now and again if they want to, but Shires tells me and the boys he is off liquor for the season because the club is up in the race and he wants to win the pennant."

Mr. Shires is only an understudy on the Washington team, serving occasional spells of duty at first base when Joe Judge's elderly legs fail him in the heat of summer. He has played in eight games to date and his hitting average has risen from .254, when he was traded, to .290.

A Sartorial Sunburst.

When he joined the ball team he resumed his walking stick and spats, and flashed upon the crowd in the clubhouse wearing, besides these effects, a green jacket with pearl buttons, white trousers with green stripes, a green shirt, and a Roman candle necktie.

Al Schacht, who takes some pride in his own grandeur, was sitting on a bench drawing off his trousers.

"I understand you're a pretty well dressed fellow," Mr. Shires said by way of introduction. "Well, when you see me, hide."

That afternoon, the Shires boy turned to Walter Johnson on the bench and remarked: "Walter, you're a made man now. With me on your club you'll be the most popular manager in the major leagues. And I don't want this ball club to stand in any awe of me. Just call me Shires. I'm human like the rest of you and I'm glad to be winning the pennant for you. With the White Sox it didn't do any good to hustle because even when we won what did it mean? It only meant that we stayed ahead of the Red Sox."

He's Not a Texan.

I always had understood that the Shires boy was a Texan but today, in this Boston atmosphere there was something suggestive about the way he pronounced Harvard and Burke and McCarthy. Only a Bostonian could achieve that strange sound and Shires, it now develops, is a New Englander, born in Massachusetts, not far from Boston, and a Texan only by circumstances. His family moved there when he was 8 years old.

A crippled young man lurched across the hotel lobby, twisting and jerking. The Shires boy looked him over from under his brows.

"Look," he whispered. "All healthy guys like ball players cry over their hits."

Chicago Fire Fighters Beat Detroit, 12-3

Chicago's fire department baseball team pounded two hurlers of the Detroit fire fighting contingent for 15 hits and won the first game of the series, 12 to 3, at Comiskey park yesterday. Struss, although walking ten, held the visitors to six hits and struck out ten. Fielding of both teams was erratic. Detroit making five errors and Chicago three.

The second game of the series will be played at Wrigley field this afternoon, starting at 2:30 o'clock. If Detroit should win, tying the series, a second game of five innings will be played to determine the champion. About 12,000 saw the first game. Rain held down the attendance.

The home team started scoring early. McNamara, the first man up, was safe when Okrie permitted the ball to bounce through his hands and came home when Ebere, right fielder, threw the ball into the Chicago dugout in an attempt to catch the runner at third. Sullivan walked, went to second on Beal's single and scored when Dorsey singled.

In the third inning Beal walked and went to second when Murphy singled. Both runners scored when McCormick hit a long single to right. McCormick went to third when Ebere dropped a fly ball and scored when Tafel hit to second base.

Detroit broke into the scoring column in the fourth. Mulhall singled to center, went to second when Ebere hit to first and came home on Okrie's double.

WORST GERMAN MINE GAS BLAST TAKES 162 LIVES

Scant Hope Held for 70 Still Entombed.

NEURODE, Germany, July 10.—(AP)—A death list of 162 miners seems a certainty as the rescue work progresses in Wengeclaus coal mine, where the worst gas disaster in the history of German mining occurred yesterday.

With 92 dead recovered, those in charge of the rescue crews hold out but scant hope that the 70 men still imprisoned in the gas filled shafts may be found alive. Rescuers found the dead miners still with tools in their hands and wagonmen beside their wagons.

Six Feet of Dust Hides Bodies.

The work of recovering the bodies was made extremely difficult because many were covered by a layer of coal dust six feet deep. Most of them were at a spot almost a mile from the shaft's entrance. To aid in finding the bodies, one of the rescued miners was taken down into the pit this afternoon in order to give the exact location where several parties had worked. When he reached the scene of the explosion he suffered a nervous collapse and had to be carried out.

Swiftly spreading lethal gas, the ever lurking enemy of this Silesian mining district, also hampered the rescue work.

59 of 211 Rescued Alive.

The death dealing gas was not only swift but incredibly silent in its rushing conquest of the mine. The only man who was near enough to hear and see what happened at first could not make anybody believe that anything was wrong, for the mine sounded normal and the machinery in the gassed portions was running as usual.

The periodical gas survey had been completed only a few days before. The engineers thought they had solved the problem of guarding against gas fumes. The last accident of note in this mine dated back to 1928, when 8 miners perished.

Yesterday's explosion occurred when a large gas pocket was tapped during blasting. The fumes spread so rapidly that only 49 of the 211 miners in the shafts were rescued alive.

Berlin Sends Relief Fund.

BERLIN, July 10.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg today telegraphed the governor of Silesia his deep regrets for the Wenceslaus mine disaster, expressing profound sympathy to relatives of the vicitims. He also sent $2,500 as the first contribution to a relief fund. The Prussian government contributed $25,000.

Gen. Adelbert Ames, 94, Again Has Operation

Lowell, Mass., July 10—(AP)—General Adelbert Ames, 94, only surviving ranking officer of the civil war and the oldest living graduate of West Point, underwent his second operation in seven weeks at the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston on Tuesday, it became known here today. The venerable soldier exhibited remarkable energy after the operation, it was learned.

DR. R. W. CONANT, TEACHER MANY YEARS, IS DEAD

Dr. Robert Warren Conant, for many years a teacher of classical languages and history at the Chicago Latin school until illness compelled him to retire a year ago, died late last night at the Ravenswood hospital. He was 78 years old and resided at 4526 Magnolia avenue.

A graduate of the Yale university medical school and a descendant on his mother's side of the family of Gen. Joseph Warren, who commanded the American colonists at Bunker Hill, Dr. Warren came to Chicago in 1877 and for a few years practiced medicine until his natural preference led him to teaching. He was the author of a philosophical work, "The Virility of Christ."

A widower for many years and childless, Dr. Conant leaves no close relatives. His former schoolmates, Dr. Wallace K. Harrison and James Abbott, only surviving members of the Yale class of 1873 in Chicago, are arranging his funeral.

CASE CHARGES GUN TERRORISM AT POLLING PLACE

Terrorist tactics in the 40th precinct of the 42d ward at the last primary election were described yesterday by Special Assistant State's Attorney Charles Center Case, called as a witness in the election contest brought by Wallace F. Kirk against State Senator John T. Joyce for the Republican nomination in the 19th district. The official canvass gave Joyce the nomination by 271 votes, which lead was reduced to 171 votes by a recount.

Case testified that election officials told him that gunmen entered the polling place shortly before midnight, took 60 uncounted ballots and returned them to be counted 45 minutes later.

Beverly Hills, Cal., July 10.—(AP)—Priscilla Dean, motion picture actress, revealed today she had asked police to watch her home from intrusion by Mrs. Mildred Avery Arnold, first wife of Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold, around the world flyer. Miss Dean was Arnold's second wife until a Georgia court set aside the divorce between Arnold and his first wife.

Mrs. Bridget Cummings, 94, Will Be Buried in the East

Funeral services for Mrs. Bridget Cummings, 94 years old, 4151 North Ridgeway avenue, will be held today in Pittston, Pa., it was announced yesterday by Deputy Coroner Christopher McGrane, a nephew of Mrs. Cummings. Mrs. Cummings was a resident of Chicago twenty-eight years.

ESTATE OF DAVIE, STEEL OFFICIAL, IS VALUED AT $3,500,000

An inventory of the estate of George F. Davie, one of the founders of the Interstate Iron company, was filed yesterday before Leon Edelman, assistant to Probate Judge Henry Horner. The estate is valued at $3,500,000 by Henry M. Goldsmith of the Northern Trust company, who filed the accounting.

The principal holding of the estate is 42,367 shares of Central Alloy Steel company stock, valued at $842,255. This company and the Interstate company were recently absorbed by the Republic Steel company. The estate lists bonds valued at $473,000. Cash on deposit amounts to $328,420.

Mr. Davie died April 8, at the age of 63. Bequests of $15,000 each are left to two brothers and a sister, Leander J. and Lewis A. Davie and Mrs. Emeline J. Lounsbury. A nephew, Bridget Lounsbury, is left $5,000 and a niece, Hazel Davie, $2,000.

Of the balance of the estate, one-third is left to the widow, Mrs. Elinore Davie; two-ninths to a daughter, Gertrude E. Davie; two-ninths to a son, Weston E. Davie, and two-ninths are to be held in trust for the education of a second son, George Jr.

TODD WINS AGAIN IN FIGHT WITH SCHOOL BOARD

James Todd, attorney for the board of education, yesterday won the second round in his fight against the board's order appointing Frank S. Righeimer and Thomas V. Sullivan as assistant attorneys in charge of condemnation suits and tax cases, respectively, when the Appellate court sustained the decision of the Circuit court directing the board to revoke the appointments.

Over the protests of Attorney Todd, members of the board of education last November named Righeimer and Sullivan to handle specific duties at salaries of $10,000 a year each. Todd brought suit, claiming that he held the exclusive right to name the duties of his assistant. Members of the board indicated last night that the case would be carried to the Supreme court.

E. S. Townsend, Retired Capitalist, Falls Dead

New York, July 10.—[Special.]—Edwin S. Townsend, retired capitalist and world traveler, whose direct ancestor, John Townsend, settled in what is now the town of Oyster Bay, L. I., collapsed today on Church street in Lower Manhattan and died before a doctor reached him. Death, it is believed, was due to heart failure.

Mr. Townsend was 62 years old. In conjunction with his brother, J. Allen Townsend of Locust Valley, L. I., he maintained an office at 50 Church street, where he managed his investments and affairs.

New Kind of Salts Taking Country by Storm

They Revitalize the System—Induce Youthful Activity —Keep Body in Splendid Condition— Free from Fat.

It doesn't take long for Americans to wake up to a good thing—only a few months ago Kruschen Salts were introduced into this country and the welcome news of their superior goodness and swift rejuvenating power traveled so fast that at one time the supply was many carloads behind the demand.

All of which goes to prove that Americans know good salts when they take them and want their friends to benefit also.

Kruschen Salts are taken for their health building value all over the world—they are the largest selling medicinal salts in Great Britain today.

Kruschen Salts are different from other salts—Kruschen is six salts in one—the very same six salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and demands you keep them there or your health won't be as good as it should be.

Unlike most salts Kruschen isn't simply a laxative—if that's all you want any old kind of salts with any kind of a label will do—but is that all you want?

When you take Kruschen Salts you not only stimulate your bowels, liver and kidneys to function naturally and perfectly, but you supply every internal organ, gland, nerve and fibre in the body with nature's own revitalizing and rejuvenating minerals.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 85c at any drug store in America—take one half a teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—in just a few days indolence changes to activity and life grows brighter.

Before the bottle is empty you'll feel years younger — eyes will brighten — step grow sprightlier — nerves steadier — you'll sleep sound, enjoy your meals and after a hard day's work you'll be ready for wholesome recreation—one million Americans know all this—ask your druggist.

DRY REFORMERS AID BOOTLEGGER, MINISTER SAYS

A campaign for legislation for the repeal of the 18th amendment was launched by the Illinois Liberty league in an open air meeting at the courthouse in Joliet last night. One thousand people attended the meeting.

The Rev. Henry T. Crumpton of Hoopeston, the principal speaker, assailed dry reformers, charging that they aid the bootleggers and gangsters seeking to profit from the sale of illicit liquors. He cited the shooting of a Joliet motorcycle policeman in a battle with rum runners as an example of conditions brought about by prohibition.

"Prohibition has not prohibited drinking," he said, "but it has offered an opportunity for the bootlegger to become wealthy through the sale of poison liquor."

The league expects to hold meetings in every city in the state.

VON BERNHARDI, FAMOUS GERMAN GENERAL, 81, DIES

BERLIN, July 10.—(AP)—Gen. Friedrich von Bernhardi, high German officer during the world war, died today at the age of 81. He was the first Prussian officer to enter Paris after its fall in the Franco-Prussian war.

Gen. von Bernahrdi was a copious writer on military affairs and strategy, as well as an army commander. Among his books was one, "Germany and the Next War," published in 1912, in which he predicted the course Germany would follow in its next war. True to his prediction, when the world war did break out Germany took the initiative and carried the war into the territory of its enemies.

At the outbreak of the world war he commanded the home units of the 50th army corps, but at his own request was assigned to a field command and left for the front in December, 1915. He was an early advocate of the use of asphyxiating gases.

NEGATIVE NEWS IS ENCOURAGING IF NOT TOO BAD

Steel Backlog Drop Less than Expected.

BY O. A. MATHER.

Even negative news, provided it is not as bad as anticipated, can spread cheer in the finahcial districts these days. Two such items appeared yesterday. First, the United States Steel corporation reported a decline of 91,163 tons in unfilled orders during June, which was less than had been expected, and second, the weekly report on brokers' loans showed a decline of only $16,000,000, which afforded some indication of stabilization in security prices and dealings.

U. S. Steel reported unfilled orders of 2,968,064 tons on June 30, marking the third time within 18 months that the total has fallen under the 4,000,000 ton level. While the decline last month was nearly twice that shown during June, 1929, the unfilled orders at the end of last month were well in excess of those shown at the end of June in 1928 and 1929. It was estimated that shipments last month totaled about 950,000 tons, compared with 1,200,000 tons in May.

Brokers' Loans Decline.

Although the present backlog of orders is 1,188,846 tons below a year ago, it is regarded as sufficient to keep the U. S. Steel mill operations for about four months at their present ratio, although an improvement in demand is generally anticipated before that time elapses.

The weekly report on brokers' loans by the federal reserve board placed the total last Wednesday at $3,203,000,000. It marked the fifth successive weekly decline and an aggregate recession of $898,000,000 during that period. It also brought the total $2,552,000,000 below a year ago.

The plethora of funds that followed the midyear commercial settlements, interest, and dividend payments resulted in a strong flow of money to the New York call money market despite low rates. Interior banks increased their loans by $106,000,000 and nonbanking lenders, including corporations, furnished no additional $24,000,000.

This influx enabled the New York banks to reduce their own loans by $147,000,000, but they still are lending $362,000,000 more than a year ago, whereas the interior banks and nonbanking lenders are furnishing $864,000,000 and $2,050,000,000 less, respectively.

Reflects Securities Decline.

The sharp drop in security prices last month was reflected in the monthly report of the New York Stock exchange, which placed the total market value of all listed shares at $63,892,327,069 on July 1. This was a decrease of $11,126,528,224 from the total of $75,018,855,283 on June 2. The average value of shares declined from $61.40 to $51.89 last month.

Total borrowings by members of the exchange on July 1 amounted to 5.82 per cent. of the market value of all listed shares, compared with 6.33 per cent on June 2 and 9.15 per cent on July 1, 1929.

The demand for credit for commercial purposes dwindled after the midyear needs were satisfied. This is evidenced by the weekly statement of the federal reserve system, issued last night. Borrowings of the member banks declined $24,098,000 to a total of $236,315,000. The reserve banks disposed of bankers' acceptances and government securities to the amounts of $8,540,000 and $5,373,000, respectively. Note circulation dropped $25,652,000, but deposits increased $7,308,000. Gold and total reserves expanded $24,722,000 and $26,522,000, respectively. The ratio of reserves to liabilities rose to 81.7 per cent, compared with 80.7 per cent last week.

No Change in Rate.

The New York Federal Reserve bank made no change in its 2½ per cent rediscount rate. Its report showed a decline of $1,367,000 in member bank borrowings, reducing the total to $47,254,000. Bankers' acceptances receded $1,081,000, and deposits fell $36,971,000. Reserves declined $26,111,000, but the reserve ratio rose to 82.1 per cent, compared with 81.2 per cent a week ago.

The report of the Chicago Reserve bank showed a decline of $1,083,000 in member bank borrowings, bringing the total to $18,756,000. Bankers' acceptances receded $742,000. Deposits expanded $20,586,000. Reserves increased $15,901,000, and the reserve ratio stood at 86.3 per cent, compared with 86.1 per cent last week.

Chicago Stock, Curb Men Approve New Listings

Governors of the Chicago Curb Exchange association have voted to admit to corporate listing 60,000 class A no par value shares of the Midwest Consolidated Utilities, Inc. Chicago Stock Exchange governors yesterday approved the following supplemental listings: American Colortype, 32,000 common shares; Beatrice Creamery, 16,895 common shares; Insull Utility, 78,666 common shares; Western Power, Light and Telephone, 5,000 preferred and 10,000 participating class A shares; Central and Southwest Utilities, 43,975 common shares.

Authorizes Purchases by Metropolitan Coach Co.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., July 10.—The Metropolitan Motor Coach company, Chicago, was authorized by the Illinois commerce commission in an order announced today to purchase the Western Motor Coach company and the Northwest Transit company. The Western Motor Coach line has been operating between Chicago, Elgin and Aurora.

Says Trucking May Benefit in Rate Boost

BY SCRUTATOR.

The optimistic opinion of experts that a new lineup of classified freight rates, as approved in northeastern and western trunk line territory by the interstate commerce commission, will give the railroads forty or fifty or sixty million dollars of additional gross revenue, may not be entirely correct.

If it is assumed that the same amount of traffic will move at the higher rate as at the lower—the meager statements published thus far do not show whether allowance for any falling off was made—the estimates are undoubtedly high.

Railroads as transportation agencies are more affected by competition than is generally believed. The new revision deals with classes of commodities which are particularly subject to shifting from rail carriers to trucks; goods which in general have high unit value. It may be that truck companies, their position strengthened where the interstate commerce commission has increased the rail rates, will get more of the benefits than the rail carriers.

Doing Well Already.

Already the truck companies are doing well. The biggest year the rails ever had, in gross ton mileage, was 1926. Even in that year the ton miles per capita were not so large as in 1920 or in 1918. The answer is that more of the traffic was shifting from reasons of convenience or from the influence of rate raises to other forms of transportation.

Today there are some 2,000 trucks owned by Chicago firms which are doing what amounts to a common carrier business. The Central Motor Freight association, to which all these companies belong, states that the majority of them are engaged in making scheduled runs to cities in the middle west.

For at least 300 miles truckers are serious competitors of railroads now in classified freight hauling. Two thousand trucks can absorb quite a few millions of freight revenue a year. Every freight rate raise by the rails increases their radius and renders more attractive the service they give within it. The truck company, which is not governed by the interstate commission, or even by the Illinois commerce commission, still makes rates on a competitive basis of value to the shipper.

Not Enough Traffic.

A good deal is heard about the increased efficiency of the railroads. In operation this has been marked, but it has cost money. A larger portion of the delivered cost of commodities is represented by freight rates than in pre-war days. Most railroads are suffering now from overcapacity; they are not getting enough traffic.

The interstate commerce commission remedy for this seems consistently to be the application of higher rates, even while the prices of the carried commodities are swinging downward. Railroads and their experts believe the raises more than compensate for the losses in traffic. The other side is that there is really a loss in gross revenues, whereas these could be increased by lower rates. The steady growth in the truck business and in water transportation supports the latter view.

SUCCESSOR TO HOME BANK & TRUST FORMED

Organization of the United American Trust and Savings bank to succeed the Home Bank and Trust company, 1200 North Ashland avenue, and the affiliation of the new bank with the National Republic Bancorporation was announced yesterday by George Woodruff, chairman of the board of the latter institution.

GEORGE WOODRUFF [Matsene Photo.]

The move marks another step in the expansion program of the Bancorporation, which was organized last year to hold stocks of banks in the Chicago area. The new bank has total resources in excess of $10,000,000. The Home Bank and Trust, which it succeeds, was formed in 1911 and acquired the Krause State bank in 1921.

W. A. Wiebodt, representing the officers and board of the bank, said that the acquisition by the Bancorporation means much to the northwest side of Chicago.

Gillette Razor Reports $2,642,022 Quarterly Net

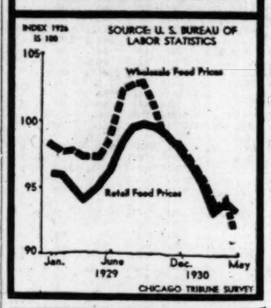
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—The income statement of the Gillette Safety Razor company for the June quarter showed net earnings of $2,642,022 after all charges and taxes, equal to $1.20 a share on the 2,205,000 shares outstanding. This compared with $2,164,348, or 98 cents a share, in the first quarter of 1930 and with $3,876,300, or $1.84 a share, on 2,100,000 shares in the June, 1929, period. Results for the first half of 1930 amounted to $4,806,370, or $2.18 a share, compared with $8,407,518, or $4 a share, in the corresponding period of 1929. Directors declared today the regular quarterly dividend of $1.25 a share, payable Sept. 2 to owners of record Aug. 1.

I. C. C. Approves Splitup of C. & O. Railroad Stock

Washington, July 10.—(AP)—A splitup of the common stock shares of Chesapeake and Ohio railroad was allowed today by the interstate commerce commission. The railroad will proceed to issue four new shares in exchange for each share of common stock it now has outstanding. The new issue will consist of 7,661,134 common shares with a par value of $25 each.

Retail and Wholesale Food Prices Have Declined Sharply in the Last Year



ESTIMATE VOLUME OF AUTOMOTIVE EXPORTS LOWEST SINCE 1926

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—Automotive exports from the United States for the first half of this year, estimated at not exceeding $205,000,000, are expected to be the smallest in volume for that industry for any corresponding period since 1926.

Although the final figures will not be available for some time, a $150,000,000 decline in this class of merchandise sold abroad is believed to be indicated for the first six months of 1930.

Exports of not more than $205,000,000 for the six months would compare with a record total of $354,850,000 for the first half of 1929.

Satisfaction, however, is derived from an indication that the worst of the decline in foreign markets for American automotive products has passed and that the business seems to be taking on a more normal aspect.

This inference is drawn from the fact that May exports show the smallest decline for any month of this year as compared with the same months of 1929. The falling off in that month was only $3,645,587. The decline in March as compared with that month of 1929 exceeded $38,000,000.

Many reasons are advanced for the heavy decline in automotive exports, but the one most generally accepted in trade circles is the depressed economic situation in various foreign countries. Tariff uncertainties have had a great deal to do with the falling off in exports recently.

COPPER PRICE AGAIN EQUALS LOW FOR YEAR

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—Copper was offered in the domestic market today by large producers at 11½ cents a pound, equaling the recent low price for the year. Some custom smelters had been selling at that level for several days, while large producers held out for 12 cents.

It was considered likely that custom smelters, to sell their intake, would drop their price to 11 cents or lower. Copper for foreign shipment, which had been selling one-half cent above domestic parity, is expected to be reduced to 11.80 cents from 12.30 to bring in European buying again.

The 11½ cent price, quoted by some custom smelters the last few days, stimulated buying by electrical companies and fabricators and sales in the domestic market for the week ended Wednesday were reported by the Engineering and Mining Journal to have totaled 82,000,000 pounds. Producers, however, still have large supplies of unsold metal accumulated while the price was held at 18 cents earlier in the year.

Coincident with the reduction to 11½ cents by the producers, the American Brass company and the Anaconda Wire and Cable company marked down their prices for brass and copper products one-half cent to conform with the new basis for the metal.

SEARS-ROEBUCK SLASHES PRICES AROUND 10 PCT.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.'s fall catalogue, which will be issued shortly, will show an average price reduction of approximately 10 per cent from the 1930 spring catalogue, the company announced yesterday.

Gen. Robert E. Wood, president, said that the prices, grade for grade, are lower than at any time in the last ten years. Many of the reductions range as high as 25 per cent. The other large mail order house, Montgomery Ward & Co., announced a sweeping reduction in its merchandise prices on Wednesday. One of the features of the new Sears catalogue is the more extensive use of color pages.

May Incomes of 172 Class 1 Rails Show Big Decrease

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—Operation of 172 class I railroads in May resulted in net operating income of $69,173,825, against $103,577,561 in May, 1929, according to the bureau of railway economics. Gross revenues declined 14 per cent, and operating expenses were cut 10.2 per cent. For the first five months of 1930 the net operating profits totaled $307,659,543, contrasted with $457,017,242 for the corresponding 1929 period. Gross revenues for this period fell 11.4 per cent, and operating expenses were lowered 6.9 per cent.

Wilcox Oil & Gas Co. to Reinvest Its Earnings

New York, July 10.—(AP)—Directors of the Wilcox Oil and Gas company have decided to continue the policy of expansion by re-investing income in filling stations and refineries instead of returning to a dividend basis.

Tells of Home Building at Realty Meet

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., July 10.—Chicago's pioneer venture into the "One order, guaranteed cost, no commission" home building and financing scheme and the willingness of its backers to extend it "anywhere east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio" took the paramount interest of the National Association of Real Estate Boards delegates at today's sessions. A. Lawren Brown, director of public relations of George F. Nixon & Co. of Chicago, explained the plan at the morning session.

In his presentation of Chicago's simplified and low cost home building, Mr. Brown said the Chicago venture was a reorganization from a horizontal to a vertical integration of industry, in which the home builder was relieved of all financing worries, was guaranteed his ultimate outlay and saved financing costs of about $3,500 on an $8,000 home.

Cites Chicago Figures.

"The plan," Mr. Brown added, "has been in operation a little over two months and already plans for homes totaling more than $1,250,000 have been figured, ranging in prices from $5,000 to $35,000 at an average price of $12,765.

With a view of establishing organized contact between American states and Canadian provinces, license law officials, vested in their respective spheres with the duty of protecting the public against unscrupulous or incompetent real estate agents, met today and formed a new and separate suborganization. They chose as their first president a Chicagoan, Arthur Crissie.

Ohio Man Nominated.

Harry S. Kissel of Springfield, O., was nominated today for the presidency of the association, and it is said the committee's choice in respect of president and other new officers undoubtedly will be confirmed at tomorrow's sessions. Earle G. Krunrine of Chicago was renominated for treasurer.

Chicagoans elected to office in the special divisions so far reported today were Joseph B. Hall, to the executive committee of the appraisal division, and Newton C. Farr, president of the Chicago Real Estate board, to the executive of the brokers' division. He will probably be chosen chairman.

FURNITURE MART HEAD PREDICTS BUSINESS PICKUP

A gradual improvement in business conditions next fall was predicted yesterday by V. L. Alward, president of the American Furniture Mart, where the annual summer furniture market is in progress.

V. L. ALWARD. [Moffett Photo.]

"We have attracted more dealers to this market than at any time in the past, with one exception," Mr. Alward said. "Under prevailing conditions throughout the country we regard this as a satisfactory showing and a hopeful sign." Registration of retail buyers had reached a total of 3,377 last night.

Of the 182 Chicago furniture manufacturing companies exhibiting in the mart, many reported satisfactory business. Among the more optimistic was B. F. Schnadig of the Pullman Couch company, Chicago, who declared that his company has been doing an excellent business, with its factory operating at capacity.

Furniture buyers from Oklahoma, which sent a large delegation to the Chicago exhibition, held a luncheon yesterday in the Furniture Club of America. An improvement in business conditions in the southwest was forecast by Ben Wood, leader of the state group.

International Printing Ink Merger Is Now Effective

Consolidation of the business of the International Printing Ink corporation with that of the dyestuffs and chemical division of the Newport company has been declared operative by the reorganization committee. Securities of the International Printing Ink had been deposited under the deposit agreement in amounts more than sufficient to permit participation in the plan. The plan will be carried into effect through the acquisition by International of all the stock of Newport Chemical corporation.

WHEAT STEADY, CORN GAINS IN GOV'T ESTIMATE

Crop Report Cites Harvest Outlook.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

(Crop report in full on page 29.)

A wheat crop of the same size as last year, production of corn 180,000,000 bu larger, an increase of nearly 100,000,000 bu in oats and a gain of 25,000,000 bu barley, is indicated by the government report for July issued late yesterday.

The winter wheat crop of 558,000,000 bu, was increased 26,000,000 bu over the June returns and compared with 582,000,000 bu indicated a year ago, with a final of 578,000,00 bu. Total spring and durum wheat is 250,000,000 bu, or 12,000,000 bu more than last year and 32,000,000 bu in excess of the average for the last ten years.

Below Average.

In the total spring wheat there is 57,000,000 bu of durum, and 193,000,000 bu of other spring wheat, the durum increasing 5,000,000 bu, and other spring wheat 17,000,000 bu. The aggregate production of all wheat is 26,000,000 bu below the average.

Canadian crop of spring wheat in the three western provinces based on the acreage of 23,947,000 acres, a decrease of 2 per cent from last year, and an estimated yield of 16 bu per acre, shows a production of 381,000,000 bu against 274,000,000 bu harvested last year. With the 807,000,000 bu of all wheat in the United States with 401,000,000 bu estimated for all Canada, there would be 1,208,000,000 bu for North America against 1,081,000,000 bu harvested last year.

With a carryover estimated at 341,000,000 bu for the two countries there would be a total supply of 1,584,000,000 bu, or about 100,000,000 bu more than last year's.

This is regarded as sufficient wheat for all domestic and possible export requirements.

Corn Estimate.

Corn crop is estimated at 2,802,000,000 bu, or 180,000,000 bu more than last year's harvest, and 102,000,000 bu above the average. Acreage is 101,531,000 against 103,600,000 acres in 1929, a good decrease from last year. The oat production is increased nearly 100,000,000 bu, and rye 7,000,000 bu, with barley increased 25,000,000 bu.

Condition of winter wheat showed a reduction from last year, with condition of all wheat 74.5 against 74.9 last year, and an average of 78.4.

Yield per acre of winter wheat is 14.5 bu, or practically the same as last year, while the average is 15 bu per acre.

The department said the reported condition of various fruit crops indicated a production per acre or per tree of about 15 per cent above the low production of last year, but about 10 per cent below the average of the past 10 years. The total apple crop was forecast at 145,388,000 bushels and the total peach crop at nearly 48,000,000 bushels.

Reveal Loan of $800,000 to Ore Firm

Youngstown, O., July 10.—(AP)—An unsecured loan of $800,000 from Bethlehem Steel corporation for the purchase of Youngstown Sheet and Tube company stock just previous to the approval of sale of Youngstown to Bethlehem today occupied the attention of County court, where suit to enjoin the merger is at trial.

H. G. Dalton of Cleveland, a director in the Youngstown company, the Bethlehem corporation, the Guaranty Trust company, and a partner in Pickands, Mather & Co., Cleveland, ore firm, testified the money was loaned to Pickands, Mather & Co. and returned a few days later with interest because "it might have been misunderstood."

Dalton was placed on the stand as a hostile witness by the attorneys representing the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, which are opposed to the merger. They sought to show by his testimony that his zeal for the merger was due to his interests in Pickands, Mather & Co., Bethlehem and Guaranty Trust rather than in Youngstown Sheet and Tube.

Holds Ore Contracts.

Pickands, Mather & Co., it was brought out, holds valuable ore contracts both with the Youngstown company and the Bethlehem corporation.

Dalton declared his own rôle in the negotiations leading to approval of the merger was that of "a listener" and later, on direct examination by Former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, chief of defense counsel, he stated he never gave thought to the affect of the deal on Pickands, Mather & Co.

He corroborated much of the testimony of Chairman James A. Campbell of Youngstown, who was on the stand more than a day and a half, especially as to the details of conferences between them and President Eugene G. Grace of Bethlehem, prior to the merger contract.

Luther Day of Cleveland, chief of the attorneys for the Eaton group, sought to draw from Dalton admission that he and Campbell definitely committed the Youngstown company to the terms of the preliminary merger contract, which called for an exchange of one and one-third shares of Bethlehem stock for one of Youngstown.

Read Depositions.

Then Day asked if it was not a fact that in so committing themselves they made it impossible for any one to obtain better merger terms for Youngstown.

"I suppose you are right," said Dalton.

Dalton was excused from the stand shortly after the noon recess because he wanted to go away on a trip and court was adjourned for the day a little later. Plaintiffs' attorneys began to read into the record depositions by which they hope to prove that the merger was illegally voted by stockholders who were not in possession of all the information they should have had.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—Speculative Wall street went home wearing a smile a mile wide tonight. For the fourth day in succession, the stock market had moved forward on a wide front rolling up profits for those "in" on the advance and attracting additional traders from the overcrowded sidelines. This time a batch of real eye filling gains were registered—from 2 to 7 points in many instances and as much as 8 to 12 in others. Volume, too, picked up somewhat, the turnover aggregating 2,167,050 shares. It was the biggest day of the movement so far.

Railroad shares were again the feature, the dividend payers of the group almost without exception encountering a steady demand. Atchison showed the way with a runup of 8¼ points, while New Haven, New York Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific scored gains of from 2 to 6 points or more. Norfolk and Western jumped 12 points on a single transaction and Central of New Jersey rose 6¾ points with no greater volume of business.

Reinvestment Character.

Undoubtedly much of the buying in this corner of the field was of a reinvestment character. Many of the rails have been available to yield rather enticing returns, and most roads, despite sluggish freight movement, could seemingly maintain their current rates by taking a hitch or two in the expenditure belt. The freight rate revision coming down several days ago seems to have brought the situation out in a new light and turned considerable interest toward the group.

Other sections of the list did not lack for leadership of the highest type. United States Steel, American Can, Consolidated Gas, American Telephone, General Motors—the whole blue blood group were there, out in front and chipper as could be.

Steel with a "surprise" tonnage report—the street had expected a much bigger drop than was announced—in its favor stepped up nearly 3 points. American Can and Telephone advanced 3¾ each. Air Reduction and Allied Chemical, lately belted all over the board, came back with a vengeance, the first named register-

THE BEST buying range for common stock for investment and appreciation exists when public interest is evidently at low ebb following drastic price recessions. The general uncertainty regarding security values attendant upon such a situation, however, makes selection doubly difficult. Purchases should be made only after careful consideration and study.

It is with these factors in mind that we recommend Lehman Corporation Capital stock as an outstanding investment opportunity among common stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Lehman Corporation is a general management investment trust with paid in capital and surplus of $100,000,000.

Members of the firm of Lehman Brothers and its staff are managers. Their record justifies confidence in their ability to administer this fund successfully.

On June 30, 1930, net liquidating value of the Corporation was only 11.03% less than on September 24, 1929, as against a substantially greater decline in the general market averages.

The Capital stock is currently selling at about 72, an actual discount of 19% from the June 30th liquidating value of $88.97 per share.

On June 30th 63.5% of the Corporation's assets, at cost, were invested in a well diversified list of 83 common stocks. Cash and government bonds exceeded $16,000,000.

Based on the earnings statements of December 31, 1929, and June 30, 1930, net income for the six months was $2,325,030, or at a rate of 1.5 times dividend requirements.

Annual dividend rate of $3.00 returns a current yield of 4.16%.

In accordance with the Corporation's established policy, a complete statement, including the portfolio of securities, has been published as of June 30, 1930. We will be pleased to furnish a copy upon request.

AUBURN AUTO PROFITS RISE DURING QUARTER

Shares Jump 8 Points in Chicago Trading.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

The quarterly report of the Auburn Automobile company and subsidiaries issued yesterday after the close of the market showed earnings even better than the preliminary estimates had given. Anticipating the report, Auburn stock advanced 8 points to 210 on the Chicago stock exchange on transactions exceeding 2,500 shares, an unusually heavy turnover for the stock here.

In the second quarter, ended March 31, consolidated net profits amounted to $769,885, equivalent to $4.25 a share on the 180,583 shares outstanding. This compares with net profits in the preceding quarter of $96,628, equivalent to 53 cents on the same number of shares. In the corresponding period for 1929 the company earned $1,312,-[illegible] net, or $7.26 a share, on the present capitalization, and $7.90 a share on the smaller number of shares then outstanding. Preliminary estimates had given earnings of $4.00 a share.

Sales Increase.

The Auburn management is conservative in its expectations for the automobile industry during the second half of the year, President E. L. Cord says in his report. Mr. Cord attributed the improvement shown over the first quarter to the greatly reduced overhead and an increase in sales. The company, he added, is planning the largest production in its history for 1931.

The consolidated balance as of May 31 reveals current assets of $14,733,-322, of which $4,831,209 was in cash, and current liabilities of $4,473,153. Inventories have been reduced $2,000,-000 since the close of the previous fiscal year.

Other automotive and accessory shares were in good demand yesterday and as a group showed the best improvement of any section of the list. Borg Warner which finished up nearly two points made most of this gain in the last couple of minutes of trading during which it was marked up to 29. Noblitt and Bendix each moved over a point.

Noblitt Sparks' Income.

Noblitt Sparks Industries yesterday reported May net profit of $49,446, equivalent to 63 cents a share as compared with $46,351 or 61 cents shares on the slightly smaller number of shares in May, 1929. Five months' profit amounted to $122,135, or $1.58 a share as against $167,421 or $2.22 a share in the corresponding 1929 period.

Advances in the utility group were mostly fractional. Among the less active industrials U. S. Gypsum and Reliance Manufacturing gained 3 and 1½ points, respectively.

Grigsby Grunow and Majestic each finished the day slightly lower. Sales in the former amounted to some 16,000 shares and the last price was off ¼ from Wednesday close. Majestic sold below its previous close throughout the day and finished down a point.

Through an error it was reported in this column yesterday that the Foote Brothers Gear and Machine company had received orders for road machinery totaling $55,000,000. The figure should have been $55,000.

N. Y. EXCHANGE SUSPENDS FIRM OF SUTRO & CO.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 10.—The old San Francisco house of Sutro & Co., with New York headquarters at 44 Wall Street, was suspended today for three years from membership in the New York stock exchange as a sequel to a pool operation conducted last spring in shares of the Manhattan Electrical Supply company, Inc.

The governing committee suspended James H. McGean, only floor member of the firm, on charges that "wash sales" had been transacted through the firm's 44th street branch office in the manipulation of Manhattan Electrical Supply stock.

"Wash sales" are transactions to buy and sell securities executed simultaneously without a real change in ownership and are strictly forbidden by regulations of the exchange. The suspended brokerage house immediately announced that it has arranged to transfer its open contracts to Logan & Bryan. It also announced its retirement as members of the clearing house.

Sutro & Co., in a statement issued after the suspension, said the transactions were on behalf of a customer, Charles H. McCarthy, and that it had no knowledge at the time that they were in any way improper.

Roy E. Bard, resident partner of Sutro Bros. & Co., members of the Chicago and New York stock exchanges, announced in Chicago yesterday that Sutro Bros. & Co. has no connection, financial or otherwise, with Sutro & Co.

FINANCIAL NOTES

A new issue of $25,000,000 Canadian Pacific Railway company thirty-year 4½ per cent collateral trust bonds probably will be offered shortly by a banking group comprising the National City company, the Guaranty company of New York, the Bank of Montreal, Lee, Higginson & Co., the Union Trust company of Pittsburgh, the Royal Bank of Canada and Wood, Gundy & Co. The proceeds will be used chiefly to reimburse the company's treasury for capital expenditures made and to be made.

Organization has been announced of Republic Trust Shares, series A, a fixed investment trust, by Republic shares corporation of Chicago; to deal exclusively in common stocks of 25 Standard Oil companies and companies controlled by them. The trust will run 15 years and each unit will comprise 170 shares of common stocks of Standard Oil or affiliated companies and each Republic Trust Share, series A, will represent a 1-1,000th interest in this unit.

CHAIN CONCERNS LEASE STORES ON MILWAUKEE AVE.

Hirsch & Co. and Bedford Shirt Take Shops.

The chain company leases are reported as having been closed in the six story building which Sol H. Goldberg, president of the Hump Hairpin Manufacturing company, is erecting at the northwest corner of Diversey and Milwaukee avenues. One is for the entire second floor and a 30 foot store on the ground floor which Hirsch & Co., operators of a chain of men's clothing and furnishing establishments, have taken for fifteen years.

The Hirsch lease starts Oct. 1, 1930, and the rental is on a percentage basis, with a minimum guarantee. This will be the firm's eighth store, the others being located in outlying districts. Ascher Goldine was broker in this transaction.

Bedford Shirt Lease.

In the second deal the Bedford Shirt company leased a sixteen foot shop fronting on Milwaukee avenue and extending back to Diversey. This lease, too, is for fifteen years. The Liggett Drug company recently leased the corner store. Mr. Goldine represented Mr. Goldberg in the Bedford lease and Harry D. Pauly acted for the lessee.

Joseph Toloff, Evanston photographer, has leased the front half of the second floor of the building at 1042 West Lake street, Oak Park, from Holmes and George Forsyth for an undisclosed term beginning Sept. 1, 1930. Mr. Toloff, who is one of the best known photographers on the north shore, will open a branch studio in the space. L. A. McHale of the Farnham-Kuhn company was broker.

South Side Deals.

Ben Genson has purchased from Ella V. Hall the six flat building at 7421-23 Coles avenue and the residence at 7328 Constance avenue for an undisclosed consideration. Mr. Genson gave in part payment the three apartment building at 6818 East End avenue. John F. Stacey was broker. David Snyder and Edward T. Heineman were attorneys.

Clement C. Mitchell, an attorney, has purchased from the Calumet National bank, trustee, the thirty-one apartments at the northeast corner of 68th street and Paxton avenue, lot 125x95 feet, for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $86,000. Horace Lindheimer & Co., Inc., were brokers. Weinstein & Stein were attorneys for the seller.

BUSINESS PERSONALS

W. S. Moffatt has been elected secretary and treasurer of Moon Motor Car company.

J. Lester Williams, formerly vice president and secretary of the Chicago Nipple Manufacturing company, was elected president to succeed D. C. Williams. J. Lester Williams Jr. was elected vice president and secretary to succeed his father, and also was named a director.

George Emlen Roosevelt has been elected a director of Chemical Bank and Trust company, and of Chemical National company, succeeding his father, the late W. Emlen Roosevelt, who had served as a director of Chemical for 32 years. The present election brought the fourth successive generation of the Roosevelt family to the bank's board.

PRESSURE FROM WHEAT HEDGERS LOWERS PRICES

Deferred Corn Futures, Rye Sympathize.

Increased selling pressure from hedgers in wheat, combined with unloading by buyers of the previous day, carried prices down yesterday. Cash houses were good sellers of wheat throughout the day, while the outside support was limited. The latter is the most important factor at present, particularly in wheat.

Hedgers remained in the market, creating a heavier load. Traders had in mind the government report, due after the close, and evened up in expectation of a bearish showing, which was confirmed by the actual returns.

At the Close.

At the close wheat prices were only moderately above the inside prices of the day, with net losses of 1⅜c to 1½c. July broke from 90¼c to 88⅛c, with the close at 88⅜@88¼c. September reached 85⅝c early, with a drop to 91⅛c and a finish at 91½c. December, after selling at 98¼c, broke 2c and closed at 97⅛@97⅝c.

Around the low prices of the day eastern traders, who sold wheat on Tuesday's bulge, gave the market some support by taking profits. Traders were disappointed at the action of Liverpool, which closed ⅝d lower to ½d higher. Trade is increasing its ideas about the winter wheat yields and in some instances have raised their estimates 50,000,000 bu above the average of the recent private crop reports.

These estimates in a measure offset unfavorable crop and weather reports in the spring wheat districts of the United States and Canada. Weather in the northwest was said to be better and the Bank of Montreal's crop report made a favorable showing, although rains were needed over the western Canadian provinces.

Northwest Crop Prospects.

In the American northwest there were renewed complaints of unfavorable conditions in western North and South Dakota and a large part of Montana. Van Dusen-Harrington says that a report on the latter says that in eastern South Dakota and in the Red River valley prospects are for a large crop. Summarizing, they say that the northwest still gives promise of a better than average crop, but this condition cannot be maintained long unless timely rains are received. The primary movement is increasing, but is slightly under last year's. Export business business was said to be good, but no figures were given.

July corn advanced. Shorts in July corn were uneasy over lighter offerings and disappointing receipts. It advanced 1c to 78½c with a break and a late bulge and a close at 78¼c, a net gain of ¾c. The market absorbed a great deal of long corn on the bulge and country offerings were larger with a fair shipping demand. Hot weather and reports of corn firing brought support to the distant futures, but after a bulge they weakened on profit taking.

September closed at 75⅛@75⅜c, losing ⅛c, while December after advancing to 69¾c, closed at 68⅝@68¾c.

Cash interests bought oats and there was changing from July to September at 2c, against 2⅛c previously, with the close at 34⅛c. Distant futures were supported by outside and local interests and they closed ⅛c higher at 36⅛c and 39⅛c for September and December. Crop reports from the northwest were less favorable.

There was little in rye, with losses of ⅜c to ⅝c.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

The run of cash wheat is becoming more liberal and is reflecting the recent fairly heavy bookings on a to arrive basis. Fresh bookings yesterday amounted to 136,000 bu while shipping business was moderate with interior mills taking 15,000 bu.

Sales of cash wheat ran from unchanged to 1c lower than the day previous with an unchanged trading basis maintaining largely; No. 2 red being quoted at ½@1c over July, No. 2 hard at ½@1c over and No. 2 northern 1@3c under.

Official grain receipts at Chicago were: Wheat, 46 cars; corn, 68 cars; oats, 19 cars; rye, none, and barley, 2 cars.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

Traders regarded the government crop report as moderately bearish, as yields were about as expected and varied only slightly from the average of private reports given out a week ago, as regards wheat. On corn the situation is somewhat different. July corn is selling at 16c less than December, and 21c under a year ago. This, it is claimed, should make a difference, especially when the visible supply of corn is materially less than last year.

There are a great many traders who are bearish on wheat, arguing that a loss of 50,000,000 bu in the spring wheat production would probably be offset by the increase in winter when the final returns are made up. All traders, however, agree that weather conditions in the American and Canadian northwest are the main factors in influencing wheat traders for the time being.

Shipments of wheat from Russia, Danube, Black sea, and across the frontiers since Aug. 1, 1929, have amounted to 50,000,000 bu, according to Broomhall. Chili, Germany, France, etc., exported 16,112,000 bu during the same period, making a total of 66,000,000 bu in forty-six weeks, compared with 44,000,000 bu during the corresponding period last season, an increase of 22,000,000 bu.

COTTON UP ON HOT WEATHER

High temperatures in the central belt, without any rain, were mainly responsible for active cotton buying yesterday, largely to cover shorts, and an advance in prices, with the close around the top. At the extreme new crop futures were up 20 to 40 points in Chicago, with the close at gains of 20 to 25 points in Chicago, while other markets were up 20 to 26 points. There was little trading in July and prices were largely nominal.

Spots were 10 points higher in New York at 13.30c, 25 points up in New Orleans at 12.65c, Galveston, 12.80c, and Houston, 12.65c. Liverpool closed 7 to 10 points higher, with sales of 3,000 bales. Exports since Aug. 1 aggregate 6,540,585 bales, against 7,785,465 bales last year. Prices follow:

BUTTER AND EGGS

Butter futures closed off fractionally on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday, prices moving in a narrow range. The volume of business was free and bullish plans were interfered with somewhat by fairly general realizing sales on the opening bulge. November closed at 38@38⅛c, off ⅛@¼c. July closing off ⅛c at 33¾c. Eggs futures moved to higher ground on bullish action, November being up ¾c at 27¼c at the close.

In eggs there was a fair amount of short covering and some new speculative buying was reported. Sales were: Butter 307 cars, eggs 80 cars. Receipts were: Butter 8,582 tubs, eggs 16,162 cases.

NEARLY A THIRD ON LOANS

The Household Plan offers cash loans of $100 to $300 at almost a third less than the lawful rate. No lower rate on household loans is available anywhere in the city.

Strictly confidential. No inquiries are made of your friends, relatives or tradespeople.

Husband and wife only need sign. No other signatures or endorsers are required.

You complete all negotiations in a private office with a friendly, competent manager.

You may pay back your loan at any time, or you can take as long as a year and eight months on small monthly payments.

Quick service. If you do your part you can get the cash you need on short notice.

Come in, phone or write. If you can't come in, ask us to send a representative to your home. No obligation, of course.

FORECLOSURE SALE

THE GREATEST USED CAR BARGAINS IN CHICAGO!

The Michigan Federal Finance Company is going out of business. Every repossessed car they own must be liquidated at once. To assure immediate sale of every car, prices have been slashed to a fraction of their values. See these great bargains today on special display at the Studebaker Sales Co. of Chicago, at 26th and Michigan. Even though you have not planned to buy a car for the next several months, you cannot afford to pass up this money saving opportunity. Come early today or this evening for your pick of these unusual buys.

ESSEX SEDAN. It looks and runs better than many cars selling for $300 and over. The motor is in good condition. Fully equipped. $95.

PIERCE-ARROW LIMOUSINE. Model 33, that was chauffeur driven. It's in marvelous condition considering our low price. $95.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. Std. Six. The performance is very smooth and the appearance is unusually clean. $125.

DODGE SEDAN. Has thousands of miles of unused transportation. This is an ideal vacation car, and will be sold at once at our special price of $145.

OLDSMOBILE COACH. The motor runs smoothly and quietly and the appearance is attractive. Has trunk, 5 good tires, bumpers, etc. $175.

PACKARD SEDAN. We recommend this as one of our best buys. It's exceptionally clean throughout and must be seen to be appreciated. Has a sweet running motor. $195.

ESSEX COUPE. It's finished an attractive tan and the equipment includes shutter visor, spare tire, bumpers, etc. It's a late model, and the motor, finish, and tires are in dandy condition. $195.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER. This snappy car runs like clockwork and the appearance is very attractive. Has windshield wings, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $195.

STEARNS KNIGHT COUPE. 5 pass. with 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has a sweet running motor. $195.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. 1927 Commander finished a smart color. This car was chauffeur driven and the result is that it is in splendid condition today. 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $285.

PONTIAC COACH. A demonstration and inspection will convince you that this car is in splendid mechanical condition and very attractive in appearance. Many valuable extras. $345.

CHEVROLET SEDAN. 1929 Six actually used only 5¼ mos. It's in wonderful condition now, so it will be sold at once at our price of $395.

OAKLAND ROADSTER. This car must be seen to be appreciated. Spacious rumble seat, the finish is fresh and shiny and the upholstery appears unworn. 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has a 1928 OAKLAND COACH, like new, for $393.

NASH VICTORIA. 1928 Adv. 6 four pass. with wire wheels and many valuable extras, including bumpers, driving light, snubbers, spare tire. The motor was reconditioned by expert mechanics and the beautiful upholstery appears brand new. The finish has not a mar on it. It will not remain 24 hours at our price of $395.

HUDSON SEDAN. A late model with a wealth of extras. This car certainly looks and runs as though it were just driven from the factory, and it will not remain long at our price of $395.

CADILAC LIMOUSINE. Was given unusual care by the original owner, so it will please you to see it today. 4 whl. brakes, and a wealth of extra equipment. Special for $425.

ERSKINE CLUB SEDAN. 1929, that you will be proud to own. It's A-1 mechanically and every detail of the interior appears new. 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, 5 new tires, bumpers, etc. $445.

CHRYSLER COUPE. Late model, equipped with 4 wheel brakes, shock absorbers, rumble seat, spare tire, etc. Has a sweet running motor. Rumble seat. $445.

MARMON SEDAN. Late model little 8 that your neighbors could not tell from brand new car. The fine upholstery and tires are A1 in every respect. Motor is very efficient. $445.

STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT. 1927 Big 52 pass. model that will please the most exacting buyer. Oiled and greased every 300 mi. by the original owner, so it's in wonderful condition today. 4 whl. brakes, snubbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $485.

BUICK SEDAN. This late Mast. 6 was owned by a prominent manufacturer. The finish, upholstery and tires are in the original beautiful condition and the motor runs smoothly. Equipped with 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, bumpers, spare tire, etc. $535.

AUBURN CLUB SEDAN. Late model 8-88 with very low mileage. This is a low-slung car with a world of power and pep. Has hundreds of dollars' worth of valuable equipment. $545.

WILLYS-KNIGHT SEDAN. 1928, that we driven only Sundays and evenings for pleasure purposes, so it's in marvelous condition. Has the finish of a late model and sparkling performance and attractive appearance. Special for $550.

GRAHAM-PAIGE CABRIOLET. 1929 conv. sed. A dandy anybody to tell this from a brand new car. It has an unusually smart paint job, wire wheels, side mounts, 4 whl. brakes, shock absorbers, all color extras. Roomy rumble seat. This car is a beauty and it's a real bargain at our price of $595.

STUDEBAKER 8 SEDAN. 1929 President that is carefully checked over by expert Studebaker mechanics, and now it comes to you for free service guarantee. Every feature absolutely in brand new condition. $895.
